SINN FEIN OUTBREAK IN CORK, IRELAND, TODAY

1000 Wrecked Recruiting Office, Hissed Military Pickets and Sang Republican Songs

CORK, Ireland, July 14, 4:20 p. m.—Chagrined by the non-arrival of prisoners who recently were released after undergoing imprisonment since the Dublin rebellion, and who were expected here today, a thousand Sinn Feiners wrecked the recruiting office, hissed the military pickets and sang republican songs.

EPIDEMIC IS SPREADING

Marked Increase in Both Number of New Cases and Deaths During Last 24 Hours

NEW YORK, July 14.—A marked increase in both the number of new cases and deaths in the infantile paralysis epidemic during the last 24 hours was shown in the report of the health department. During the 24 hours period ending at 10 a. m. today there were 162 new cases, and 31 children died from the disease in the five boroughs of New York.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Dr. Meltzer Receives Many Inquiries Regarding His Treatment of the Disease

NEW YORK, July 14.—Dr. S. J. Meltzer of the Rockefeller Institute received many inquiries today regarding his treatment of infantile paralysis, which was the only one recommended at the special conference of the Academy of Medicine held last night, to discuss the disease now epidemic in New York city. He urged the treatment of all cases by intra-spinal injections of solutions of adonalin. "This procedure," said Dr. Meltzer, "may save life and in surviving cases it may reduce the extent of the final lesion. There is no danger involved. The physician declared he has great faith in this treatment because of the remarkable results it accomplished with monkeys which had been artificially infected with infantile paralysis. There was a great demand today for the new health cards which the department of health has begun to issue for the benefit of citizens who wish to leave New York and fear that their movements will be hampered by extreme quarantines in other places. To obtain these certificates residents must convince the physicians of the health department not only of their freedom from the disease but that they have not come into dangerous contact with it.

FIRST CASE AT PITTSFIELD
PITTSFIELD, July 14.—The first case of infantile paralysis in this city was reported to the health authorities today. The patient, a boy two years old, was placed in a detention hospital.

ROYAL CHATEAU BURNED
SUMMER RESIDENCE OF KING OF GREECE DESTROYED—ALL ESCAPED
LONDON, July 14.—The royal chateau at Tatoi, Greece, occupied as the summer residence of King Constantine, has been destroyed by a fire, says a Reuter despatch from Athens.

The king, Queen Sophia and members of the royal family escaped and took refuge with Prince Nicholas at his home in Kephisia. The fire started in the forest north of the chateau and spread to that building and to the adjoining barracks of the rural police which were destroyed. Several lives, including those of officers, were lost in the burning of the barracks.

BRITISH RENEW GREAT OFFENSIVE IN FRANCE

British Break Into German Second Line in Somme Region and Capture Important Positions—Fierce Battles on Both Sides of Somme, Says Berlin—German Activity North of Aisne—Russian Successes in Turkish Armenia—Not a Man or Gun Withdrawn From Verdun by Germans

Renewing their great offensive in northern France at daylight today the British broke into the German second line in the Somme region along a four mile front.

The offensive was still in full swing when the British official statement was issued shortly before noon in London. The villages of Longueval and Bazentin-le-Grand were unofficially reported captured, the Trones wood recaptured and ground east of Contalmaison gained.

The force of the drive was exerted apparently chiefly to the northeast in a push toward the British objective of Baupenne along the southern flank of the curving German line in the Montauban region.

Longueval lies one and a half miles northeast of Montauban and is approximately six miles from Baupenne on the main road between that city and Maricourt, while Bazentin-le-Grand lies slightly to the west.

In the Verdun region the Germans have so far not followed up their bombardment for the Fort Souville region by further infantry assaults. Heavy infantry fire in this section is being continued.

German activity was noted north of the Aisne where attempted attacks were stopped by French machine gun fire near Ville-au-Bois and on the Valenciennes plateau.

The recent favorable turn of events for the Russians in Turkish Armenia, resulting in their capture of Mamakhatun has been taken advantage of by Grand Duke Nicholas to press the Turks farther westward. The Russians are now operating west of Mamakhatun and also are gaining ground in the Taurus region to the north along the Tchoruk.

BRITISH RESUME OFFENSIVE AND PENETRATE GERMAN SECOND LINE DEFENSES

LONDON, July 14.—Resuming the offensive north of the Somme the British at daylight this morning attacked the German second line defenses and, according to the report of their commander, Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, succeeded in penetrating them on a front of four miles. Press despatches add that the villages of Bazentin-le-Grand and Longueval, north of Mont-

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND

Floating on Merrimack Near Stackpole St.—Young Woman Long Time in Water

The body of an unknown woman was found floating in the Merrimack river near its junction with the Concord river in the rear of the Barry Shoe Co. at the foot of Stackpole street this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons were notified and they removed the body to their funeral parlors in Market street.

The body is that of a woman about 26 years old, weighing about 110 pounds, and measuring about 5 feet 2 inches. The body was scantily attired in undergarments and had been in the water for a long time, for the features are almost unrecognizable. The young woman was of dark complexion and had dark hair. There is nothing on the body to aid in the identification.

NAVAL COLLIER SINKING

The Hector, Carrying Fifty Marines, in Distress Sixty Miles Off Charleston

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 14.—The naval collier Hector, bound for Santo Domingo, carrying 50 marines, is reported sinking about 60 miles off Charleston. The lighthouse tender Cy- press went out at 10 o'clock this morning to the assistance of the Hector, but was unable to breast the heavy seas and returned.

The tug Vigilant which had been to wireless communication with the Hector reported at 12:30 p. m. that it steamer was standing by, but it was not known whether she had transferred the marines and crew. Wireless communication is difficult.

250 POUND SHARK WAS KILLED AFTER STRUGGLE

Became Entangled in the Net of Paul Tarnow, a Pound Fisherman—Cabinet Discusses Tragic Stories of Sharks — Coast Guard to Assist — Body of Stillwell, Bitten Nearly in Two, Recovered—Hunt Continues

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. J., July 14.—A 250 pound shark, 5 1/2 feet long, became entangled in the net of Paul Tarnow, a pound fisherman today and was killed after a struggle. The shark was of the blue nose variety. Tarnow and his helpers cut the shark open and in the stomach found 12 small sharks measuring about 12 inches each.

DISCUSSED BY CABINET
WASHINGTON, July 14.—Tragic stories of attacks by sharks upon bathers along the New Jersey coast were discussed at today's meeting of the cabinet. Later Secretary McAdoo announced that the coast guard would be ordered to do what it could toward clearing the coast of the dangerous fish, and preventing further loss of life.

HUNT RESUMED
NEW YORK, July 14.—Shark-hunting suddenly has become a popular sport along the New Jersey coast, in New York bay and along the ocean side of Long Island, as a result of the recent raids by man-eating monsters from southern waters which have killed four persons. Reports of the sighting or killing of sharks out along the shore reach the city almost hourly and some fishermen are bringing in the big fish they have killed to prove the truth of their stories. Only a few of these, however, are described as man-killers. A passenger on a steamer is authority for the statement that

MORE RIOT WITNESSES

GRAND JURY AT SALEM INVESTIGATING LEYDEN DISTURBANCE AT HAVERHILL

HAVERHILL, July 14.—A group of additional witnesses was summoned yesterday afternoon and last night to appear before the Essex county grand jury at Salem today in the April 3 riot probe, including Dr. Thomas E. Leyden of Somerville, around whom the excitement centered.

When City Marshal Mack returned to this city last evening a list of telephone numbers awaited his call and in each instance they proved to be from witnesses who were seeking to be excused from going to Salem to testify. Each one was informed, however, that failure to appear there in compliance with the summons would result in the issuance of a capias.

Out of the 53 witnesses summoned Wednesday night, only 20 were heard yesterday. The prospects are now for a Saturday session of the grand jury.

City Marshal Mack received a telephone message last evening from Dist. Atty. Cox excusing Mayor Bartlett and other members of the city council from attendance today, although they are to march to the parade at Salem in the event of their being needed.

Among the new witnesses summoned yesterday was Albert F. Stuckney of 33 Cedar street, a postoffice clerk here and a son of Alderman Albert E. Stuckney. Summonses were also served upon Mayor Bartlett and Aldermen Cook, Hoyt, Stuckney and Wood. Another witness summoned was Joseph G. Powers of 43 Jackson street, city sealer of weights and measures.

The list of new witnesses also includes George Coddard, J. Stanley Turner, Louise Gerhauser, Alexander Rolley, Paul Carriage, Harry Reed, Harold F. Kees, Roswell Wedgewood, Dana A. Hinkson, Simon J. Linehan, William Ruan, Daniel Maguire, Jr., William Graham, Dennis J. Ring and William Salikins.

$10,000 HUBBARDSTON FIRE

General Store and Postoffice at Williamsville Destroyed—Milton Boy Scouts Save Cottage

HUBBARDSTON, July 14.—A building containing the general store of Seth F. H. Hale, the Williamsville postoffice, and the waiting room of the Boston & Albany Railroad company at Williamsville, a hamlet in the west part of the town, was burned to the ground. A barn adjoining the building was also consumed. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

The building was owned by S. F. H. Hale and the loss is partly covered by insurance. A stock of postcards and a collection of antiques, consisting of furniture, rare coins and stamps destroyed, were highly valued by the owner, William E. Hale, a son of Mr. Hale.

A cottage house nearby owned by Benjamin Collins was saved by the prompt action of a company of Boy Scouts from Milton, who are camping at Williamsville.

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, July 14.—Dr. Adam Cardenas, head of the conservative party and president of Nicaragua from 1882 to 1888, died here yesterday.

Dr. Cardenas played a prominent part in the stormy politics of Nicaragua for 40 years. In 1869 he organized a revolutionary expedition against President Zelaya from Costa Rica. He was defeated and fled from the country, but returned after the fall of the so-called "Dictator of Central America." He supported President Estrada and was elected president of the Nicaraguan Congress in 1911.

GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY DESCRIBES BORDER STATES OF THE UNITED STATES AND MEXICO

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Many interesting facts about the border states of the United States and Mexico have been compiled and issued by the National Geographic society today as a war geography bulletin on that section of the continent to which our National Guard has been ordered. The Bulletin gives the following comparative statistics:

"While the whole of America is vitally concerned in the present Mexican situation, the great human drama is being enacted along the 1810 mile boundary line which separates the four American border states of California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, and the five border states and one territory of Mexico—Lower California, Sonora, Chihuahua, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, and Tamaulipas. The area of the American border states is a little more than one-sixth the total area of the United States, including Alaska, while the area of the Mexican border states is more than three-sevenths the total area of that republic, yet the territory embraced in the bounds of the American states is almost twice as extensive as that of the six political

"POWER OF THE NICKEL"

FIVE CENT PIECE IS WORTH SIX CENTS—WAR RESPONSIBLE FOR RISE IN PRICE OF METAL

"The power of the nickel" has been increased, according to discoveries made this week. The "finney" that you haunched the conductor this morning was worth six cents, and every other nickel is worth one cent more than its face value.

What is the cause? The European war, of course.

Street car and telephone companies could make fortunes trafficking in nickels taken by their employees.

In this way the Bay State Street Railway company could virtually secure the six-cent fare for which it has been fighting for weeks in extended hearings before the public service commission.

War time prices have been responsible for this rise in the price of the metal.

Among the amazing possibilities connected with this discovery is the fact that the German submarine Deutschland, here in search of a cargo of nickel and rubber, needed by the Kaiser's government, could be lured to the water line with five-cent pieces, which could be smelted or refined into nickel and copper, also high in price because of the abnormal war demand.

According to the best figures obtainable last night, the cost of refining a pound of nickels would be from four to five cents. When $5 worth of nickels were procured and weighed it was found that they tipped the scales at exactly one pound. If the nickels were smelted, however, the cost would not be much over one cent per pound. The refining process is more expensive, as it removes the copper and antimony.

The actual metal contained in the American nickel or five-cent piece at the present market value is worth $0.0522651, or nearly one cent more than the face value of the coin. Of this amount $0.02125755 represents the value of the nickel and $0.03097893 the value of the copper used.

The nickels of the latest coinage weigh 7.16 grains, of which 19.29 grains is nickel and 57.57 grains copper. According to the World Almanac the coinage of nickels to June 30, 1915, was $55,008,587, a total of $42,750,423.35 in value. On the basis of present nickel and copper prices, however, they are worth $51,300,519.22.

There is no law to prevent the melting of nickels or other United States coin, according to Sub-Treasurer Chas. B. Stricker.

"It is often done in this country by American manufacturers," he said. "We have calls on the average of two or three a week for gold pieces. Jewelers who run short of gold come here for gold money, melt the coins and use the metal for manufacturing purposes. A 220 gold piece contains its actual value in 22-carat gold in addition to 56 grains of copper."

Therefore, it appears that there is nothing in the law of the land to prevent German sympathizers from buying up huge quantities of the plebeian "finneys" to be reduced to metal in a plain state for shipment in the holds of the "Deutschland" to the fatherland.

ARE TO BE REINSTATED

SEN. O'GORMAN SAYS 60TH'S COLONEL AND LIEUTENANT WILL BE PUT BACK IN REGIMENT

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The fight between military discipline in the army and political persuasion waxed warmer yesterday over the order of Major General Wood mustering Col. Conley and Lieut.-Col. Phelan of the Sixty-ninth New York Infantry out of the federal service on account of physical disability.

After a conference at the White House with the president, Senator O'Gorman said the two officers would be reinstated. Secretary of War Baker indicated that he was not going to act until he had carefully examined Gen. Wood's statement embodying the report of the military surgeon who found the two officers physically disqualified.

It is clear, however, that if there is any technical flaw in the procedure in the case of the two officers, the war department will respond to representations made to the white house from political quarters. It is not yet certain, however, whether Sec. Baker will follow this course if the report from General Wood shows that the ordinary routine military procedure was followed.

There is keen resentment in army circles over the insinuation that General Wood had any interest in the mustering out of the two officers. All that Gen. Wood has done, army officers say, is to endorse the report of the army surgeon.

The army surgeon is practically supreme in his sphere. It is explained. Army officers are not supposed to know about purely medical subjects, and it is ethics in the army for the military surgeon to decide unhindered all cases of physical unfitness.

Reports were current here, tonight that Secretary Baker had received information justifying the belief that

An order for a Behr Bros. piano or player-piano, accompanied by the initial payment of FIVE DOLLARS, if placed before the close of business Saturday night, will be filled and delivered immediately upon its arrival. Your money back if you are not satisfied.

The sale is not closing without everyone having a fair opportunity to take advantage of it. If we had restricted the sale strictly to the number of Behr Bros. instruments originally arranged for---the sale would now be a matter of history.

We decided upon a definite closing day, which is Saturday. Thus any order received for a Behr Bros. piano or a Behr Bros. player-piano up to Saturday at the close of business will be filled.

These orders will be numbered as they are received and filled and delivered in the order received.

Those who can call may select the style they wish from the instruments on our floors which are sold but not delivered.

THE THREE E CHILDREN

Once upon a time Eve, the Three E children's little rabbit, followed Eric, the dog, down the shore. The children had gone to look for crabs and Eric thought it a good time to take a swim. He didn't see Eve hopping along behind him nor did he see her follow him down close to the water. It was very hot and the water was nice and cool, so Eric splashed and swam about until he was nice and cool and ready to come out and go home. He swam ashore and shook the water off from his dripping body and ran to the rocks to lie down and dry.

Eve hopped about on the shore and nibbled at the bugs and ran her soft nose down in the wet sand until she looked almost as a big sand bug herself. Eric was almost asleep when he heard a funny noise and looked up just in time to see a wave come up where Eve was playing and carry her off into the water.

Eve tried to swim but she couldn't and it looked as though the children would lose their pet but Eric jumped up, ran down and swam out until he reached his little friend.

He put out one paw, drew her toward him and then, very carefully, he took hold of her with his mouth and held her up high over his head while he swam toward the shore. When he reached the beach he let her go and she ran up toward the house as fast as her legs would carry her.

The children were just coming home and Ethel ran to get their pet. When she saw how wet it was she called out to the others, saying, "Look, I am sure Eve has been in the water and of course she couldn't swim. How did she ever get out?"

Just then Eric came running along and poked his head into Ethel's hand as much as to say, "If I could talk I could tell you all about it, but you understand, don't you?" And the children did and they took good care that Eve never went down to the beach unless they were near.

too, and would go just so far and not one step more, when the children went to the beach. Once Edna took her in her arms quite near to the water, but Eve turned her head and cuddled closer to Edna, and wouldn't even look at the water. So the children knew Eve had been taught not to go near the water any more.

ASK CHANGE IN CLAYTON LAW

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Representatives of several large railroads yesterday appeared before the senate judiciary committee in support of a proposal to postpone to 1918 the effective date of the section of the Clayton anti-trust act prohibiting common carriers from dealing in more than $50,000 worth of securities or supplies with any corporation in one year, where the two organizations have interlocking directors in whole or in part. It was argued that the two years given to reorganize was too short.

POLICE COURT SESSION

MEN FINED FOR SWIMMING IN CANAL—BIG JUVENILE SESSION BEFORE JUDGE ENRIGHT

Owing to the number of cases to be heard in the regular and juvenile sessions of police court this morning, it was necessary for two judges to preside. Judge Enright sitting in the juvenile court and Judge Fisher in the regular court.

Disturbed the Peace
Charles J. Warner and James McGee were charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace. Patrolman O'Connell and Tansey testified that the men got into a mixup on Central street shortly before 6 o'clock last night and during the battle scores of people were attracted to the scene. Both officers said that the defendants were under the influence of liquor. The court found both guilty and ordered each to pay a fine of $10 for disturbing the peace, the cases of drunkenness being placed on file.

Swimming in the Canal
Joseph Dube and Frank H. Croteau were charged with trespassing on the land of the Locks & Canals Corp. in Amory street. According to the testimony of Patrolman Swanwick the two young men were swimming in the canal near the Booth mills during the night. The court found them guilty and ordered each to pay a fine of $10 for trespassing.

Neglected His Wife
Thomas F. Gilroy, charged with failure to provide proper support for his wife, Ellen, was given a suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction.

Thomas M. Cox and Mary J. Powers, charged with drunkenness, were sentenced to the house of correction. Joseph G. Weaver, Frederick Cronin, Michael Burke and Peter J. Donohoe were each given a suspended sentence of one month in jail. John C. Cox was given a suspended sentence of two months in jail. James Ryan, John Rhoady, Arthur Colleton and Catherine Rowdy were each fined $5.

Juvenile Session
There was a long list of cases in the juvenile session and three delinquents were sentenced to the Lyman school.

One boy after being found guilty of being unruly and disturbing the peace, was committed to the Industrial school at Shirley.

ATTACK COM. MORSE

in conditions and he maintains that conditions have improved, but that at no time did he intimate or suggest that he would pay the pavers $4 a day when they were performing laborers' work. And this, he declares, is the pavers' grievance. They would be satisfied with $1 a day if it was paid them for all kinds of work.

In diving into the facts, past and present, Mr. Hannah takes at least one blind plunge. He says that in the face of Mr. Morse's statement to the effect that conditions of employment would improve, the city engineer turned in the sinking fund $20,000 over expense for the year 1915, which could have been used and ought to have been used to do the necessary repairs and give more steady employment to the pavers and ramblers of the city of Lowell.

Mr. Hannah did not back a cent to the sinking fund or the general treasury either, said Mr. Morse, "and if I did it would have been against the law. The money was borrowed for block paving and money borrowed for a specific purpose must be expended for that particular purpose. Mr. Hannah is talking over from last year's being spent this year, and somebody evidently has directed Mr. Hannah up the wrong street."

Commissioner Morse, on several occasions, has made the statement that he has lost six weeks on account of the rain and that a result his street work is six weeks behind. Mr. Hannah says the records of the weather bureau do not bear out Mr. Morse's statement and Mr. Hannah says Mr. Morse is using the statement as an apology to the people of Lowell for his failure to do the work.

Mr. Hannah says the city engineer says the paving and repairing work did not start until June and that it has not been started not later than April.

"It is evident," said Mr. Hannah, "that Commissioner Morse does not understand how the various cities conduct their work over. When a contractor performs work for any city, there is a clause which prevents the contractor from subletting. The pavers employed by the contractor is paid from $5.00 to $7.00 a day for eight hours. He has no lunch, no clothing, no shoes, no anything, only to do a reasonable day's work, the same as the pavers in the city of Lowell are doing, and is paid this amount as a fat figure, regardless of yardage. The only difference between contract work and day work is that the city does not in all cases get the best of workmanship and work done under contract system is more costly to tax payers."

The city of Lowell has some of the best and finest paved streets to be found in any section of the United States, and with a lower cost of yardage than elsewhere. For economy and skill, the streets themselves are the best.

Mr. Morse's statement would lead one to believe that the pavers and ramblers were receiving good pay in Lowell, when in fact the condition of pavers and ramblers are as bad as common laborers. He would put them to work as pavers for three to six hours a day at pavers' wages, then put them for the balance of the day for laborers' wages, sometimes keeping them as laborers for three and four days, with the result that the paver was no better off than if he was doing a common laborer's work. No mechanic could be expected to tolerate a condition of this kind.

All contractors employing mechanics pay them mechanics' wages, no matter what they are employed at, as long as they are rated as mechanics. It is up to Commissioner Morse to get laborers to do the work required, so as to keep the pavers and ramblers employed from the first of April until the first day of December, excepting rainy weather, and when you take into consideration how laborious this class of work is, with your back bent over all day, the weight of your body resting on your limbs, with the hot sun beating down upon you, the hot sun burning from the fifth of the street in straining upon the body, I think you will conclude that $4.50 a day from the first day of April to the first day of December is not too much to ask of the people of Lowell to see their pavers when all the other cities are paying $5.00 per day and up for the same class of work. Hiring Pavers Here

It was stated today that men from Boston are endeavoring to hire pavers in Lowell and report has it that Paul Hannagan of Lawrence, who was recently made consulting engineer on street work in Boston, was short of pavers, and hearing of the trouble in Lowell, sent lieutenants here to see if they could hire some of the striking men. The report also had it that the pay offered was $5 a day. There are about 21 pavers in Lowell. Asked if he had heard that Boston men were looking for pavers in Lowell, Mr. Morse said: "I haven't heard anything to that effect. Mr. Hannagan told me the other day that he could place at least six of my pavers and I told him he had my permission. Out of town men are at liberty to hire Lowell pavers and Lowell pavers are at liberty to go where they please. I do not know of anything to stop them."

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

BOY STRUCK DOWN BEFORE SOCIETY GOLFERS—LATTER THEN KNEEL AND PRAY

NEW YORK, July 14.—More than a score of society women, including Mrs. Oscar Lewisohn, formerly Edna May, the actress, narrowly escaped death from lightning on the grounds of a golf club at Great Neck, L. I., late yesterday, when Felix Jacobus, a caddy, was struck and instantly killed within a few feet of them. At the body of the caddy was carried from the field all the women in the party fell upon their knees and prayed.

The Great Neck tragedy occurred while Mrs. Lewisohn and Mrs. Charles H. Goddard, wife of the president of the golf club, were engaged in an exciting game. They were negotiating when Jacobus, holding the tin, was hit and fell dead in front of them.

Three other persons were killed by lightning, much property damage was caused by a violent thunderstorm, accompanied by a 50-mile gale from the west, which swept this city and vicinity. The temperature during the 17 days in 15 minutes, bringing relief to thousands of persons who had been sweltering in intense heat for 48 hours.

Henry Riemann, 21, a molder, was struck by lightning and killed while repairing a pipe on the roof of a building in this city.

A laborer seeking shelter in a barn at Elizabeth, N. J., was struck and instantly killed while opening the door. Thousands of commuters and others, it was announced last night, were marooned on trains along the line of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad as far as Bridgeport, Conn. The high voltage wires from which the electric trains are operated were reported down at several points between Stamford and New York, affecting schedules all the way to New Haven.

Half a dozen express trains due to leave here early in the evening from Boston and other points on the New Haven line were hours behind time.

permanently with perfect ease and safety. Wet your hair all over with Q-Ban, the only guaranteed hair color restorer, every day and expose it to the sun. As the sun dries your hair will gradually and evenly change to its original uniform dark shade. Absolutely not a trace of gray hair will be left and nobody can ever tell how it happened. Just think of that! Furthermore, your hair will be much more glossy, softer and fluffier than before—and fascinating to behold.

The secret of this wonderful change in the color of your hair is mainly brought about by a process of oxidation (oxygen in the air) which results from drying your hair in the sun and air after it has been applied. Sun and air are Nature's own medicines and a very important part of the Q-Ban process. Only in this way can the color of your hair be permanently and safely restored to your hair. Make no mistake about this! All preparations claiming to instantly restore the color to your hair are fakes or treacherous dyes.

Q-Ban is made from a scientific formula of glycerine, sweet, alcohol, ethyl and perfume discovered after years of laboratory study and approved by the greatest chemists in the world, including Prof. Von Huber. Everybody uses Q-Ban nowadays, because it is safe and sane and the guaranteed hand hair color restorer that is absolutely free from dangerous, dirty, sticky dyes and paints and we want you to know the facts. Give Q-Ban a trial today—you can't do anything until you try it—get it from Baker-Davies, Liggett Drug Store and a bottle of Q-Ban is sold by every drug store. THE HIGH SCHOOL CASE

JUDGE FISHER FOUND YOUNG DESMOND NOT GUILTY—BASEBALL SUIT RETURNED

In the case of James A. Shanley of the high school vs. William J. Desmond, a graduate who failed to return his baseball uniform on the time fixed by the school, a charge of larceny was preferred it seemed without any foundation. The boy had no intention of hiding the uniform. An attempt was made to prevent him graduating, but because he had left the suit at a camp and could not get it before the exercises opened. Another suit was given as proof of good faith. This was taken back through no fault of the defendant and then the school authorities preferred the charge of larceny and brought the case to court. William J. Carroll, Esq. appeared for Desmond and scouted the idea that there was any intention to keep the suit. He asked if every boy who violates one of the rules of the school is brought to the police court. The suit was predicted in court by Lawyer Carroll, and upon a decision upon the evidence adduced, Judge Fisher found the boy not guilty and then the baseball uniform was handed over to Mr. Shanley of the high school.

SENATE RESUMES DEBATE

TO EXPEDITE THE CONSIDERATION OF THE NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The senate resumed debate today on the naval appropriation bill, with leaders determined to expedite its consideration. It was plain there would be no partisan opposition and an indication that the senate is in sympathy with increases written in by the naval committee was seen in the unopposed adoption of an amendment increasing the navy's enlisted strength to 65,700 men. The present strength is 64,000.

The building program probably will be reached within a few days.

COSTA IN FAMILY ROW

There was a lively row in Central street near the corner of Union street about 10:30 o'clock this morning when John Costa was assaulted by a relative. According to what could be learned by the police and the ambulance driver there was a family quarrel and Costa was beaten about the face and head. The ambulance was summoned and the injured man was taken to St. John's hospital where he received treatment.

ARRESTED SUSPECT LET GO

A young man, who has a police record, was arrested late last night on suspicion of having committed the break in Lyle's jewelry store in Central street but after being questioned the police were satisfied that he knew nothing of the affair. Although he appeared in the dock in police court this morning as a suspicious person he was released from custody.

FIRE IN NEWSPAPER PLANT

An alarm from box 14 at 9:30 o'clock this morning summoned a portion of the fire department to a slight blaze in the composing room of the Lowell Sun at the corner of Merrimack and Tilden streets. One of the employees was using kerosene to wash type and some of the liquid dripping on the floor became ignited. The blaze was extinguished before any material damage was done.

DRUGGISTS HELD OUTING

ABOUT 150 WENT FROM LOWELL TO NANTUCKET YESTERDAY—PROGRAM OF SPORTS

The local druggists as a class give more time to their business perhaps than any other craft except newspaper men. But they shut down yesterday and went to Nantucket. They are a very quiet class of men; but when 150 of them got together they proved to be one of the jolliest parties on the beach. They objected to the weather prescription and thought there was too much sulphur in the air, although they enjoyed the saline properties of the water as a tonic for the indolence. They had no dread of man-eating sharks judging from the manner in which they took to the water. The menu at dinner was rich in proteins, carbohydrates, congealed creams and aqua pura. The ride home furnished all the vibration necessary to promote digestion, the acceleration of the pulse and the assimilation of the oxygen so copiously involved in hydrogen and nitrogen. A day's rest to a druggist seems like two weeks' vacation to a merchant and hence the entire body today is wreathed in smiles, happy and invigorated by their outing of yesterday.

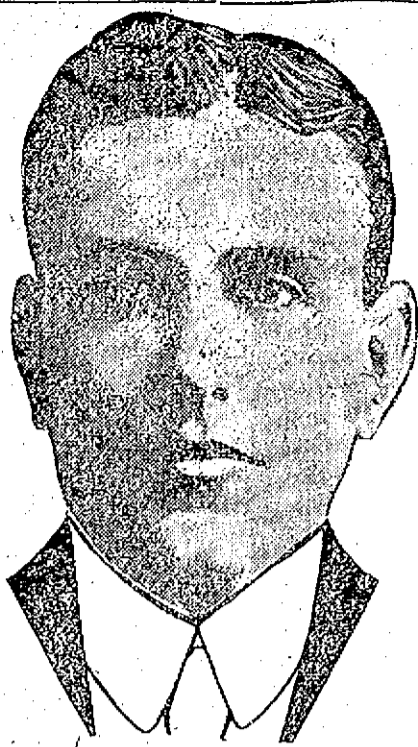

Despite the pain the greater part of the program of sports was carried out. The winners in the various events were: 100 yard race, Tully first; broad jump, Brien, first; shoe race, Bigelow; Guests from out of town included: C. E. Battershill, Lawrence Wholesale Drug Co.; Arthur Jackson, Gilman Bros., Boston; J. L. Owen, Wm. R. Warren & Co., Philadelphia; John McDougall, Murray Co., Boston; John Moatzie, John Wyeth & Co., Philadelphia; Cassimir Jovet, Grasse, France.

CITY HALL NEWS

complained of by Mrs. William Porter White at a recent meeting of the municipal council. The mayor is somewhat disappointed that the rubbish receptacles spoken of several weeks ago have not yet been received and put in place in the streets. It was understood that Mr. Morse had made arrangements for the receptacles in question several weeks ago, and the mayor will endeavor to hurry matters up a bit. Storekeepers, housekeepers and others are also requested to take an interest in the movement for cleaner streets, parks, courts, alleys, and yards. Some are very careless as to the disposition of paper and other refuse with the result that the stuff is blown about the streets and elsewhere. General co-operation on the part of the people will help out a whole lot.

Protect Traffic Officers

There was some discussion at city hall this forenoon as to the trials and tribulations of police officers in general and the discussion as to the trials and tribulations of police officers in general and the discussion finally centered on the traffic officers. The mayor admitted that the traffic officer has his sympathy especially in the very warm weather. He said that the position of traffic officer on such days as yesterday and the day before was very trying, to say the least, and he decided, he said, that they should have some protection from the broiling sun. The mayor said he would

Special to The Sun.
STATE HOUSE, Boston, July 14.—Automobilists involved in accidents in which children are injured are likely to find it pretty difficult to convince the highway commissioners that such accidents occurred without serious fault on their part, and, as a result, will lose their licenses to operate, for a period of at least six months.

With the vacation season on, and especially during the very hot days, children are always to be expected to be in the street, and the highway commissioners have accordingly determined upon a policy of "holding to strict accountability" any motorist who injures a child.

Chairman Sollier of the commission said yesterday: "The motorist who comes before us after an accident in which a child is fatally injured will have to tell a mighty fine story to convince us that the accident happened without serious fault on his part. Take a hot day like today, and the motorist must expect that every child in the neighborhood where he is driving will be at play around the street. For that reason he ought to have his car under such control that he can avoid an accident, no matter how suddenly a child may jump out in front of him. Of course we realize that accidents sometimes happen which no power on earth could prevent—a child may jump off a wagon directly in the path of an automobile—but in most cases the accident can be avoided if the operator takes the proper precaution before the immediate danger arises.

"Only yesterday we had a case of a driver who admitted that he saw six children at play at the side of the road, when he must have been at least 35 feet from them, yet he hit one and killed her after she had gone nearly across the road. Drivers must realize that it is a habit of children to do the unexpected, and they must govern themselves accordingly."

REFUSE DEMANDS

Portland Car Company Turns Down Demand of Carmen—Strike On

PORTLAND, Me., July 14.—The Cumberland County Power and Light Co. today refused to accede to the demands of their motormen, conductors and linemen to reinstate discharged workmen and recognize their unions.

Notification of this decision was received at a mass-meeting of strikers and sympathizers in the council chamber of city hall. The men at once voted to continue their strike which has tied up trolley traffic in this city and suburbs, until their demands are granted in full.

The notification was received in a communication from President William M. Bradley to John Shine, representing the Amalgamated Street Car Workers of America and J. T. Fennell of the International Brotherhood of Electric Workers.

President Bradley stated that the demands of the men were submitted to the board of directors and given careful consideration. "We regret to say," he said, "that the demands you have made upon us are such that due regard to the welfare of the public and the interests committed to our care will not permit us to accede to them."

Five Teamsters Arrested
Efforts of teamsters to impede the progress of the few cars being run by strikers, through Congress street by driving slowly along the tracks resulted in the arrest today of five men charged with obstructing the movement of cars. They were ordered to appear in court tomorrow.

Two Cars Damaged

Two cars were damaged by a collision near Monument Square. The strikers with their wives and friends, by invitation of the municipal music commission, attended an organ concert in city hall this afternoon.

STRONG NAVY URGED

Makes for Peace, Says Senator Lodge—Senate to Pass New Law Promptly

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The senate considered yesterday the naval appropriation bill which provides $315,000,000 for the navy. Senators Tillman, Swanson, Lodge and others urged its passage. Senator Swanson, who has charge of the measure, for Senator Tillman, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, made a vigorous speech, showing how important it is for the United States to have the second best navy in the world. "It is conceded," said he, "that this is the best and most progressive naval bill ever presented to congress in the history of this nation."

Senator Lodge, speaking for the republicans of the committee, said the senate should give its undivided support to this bill. "The great navy would do more for the peace of this and other nations than speech-making or note-writing. If the essential features of this program are carried out," said he, "it will do more for our peace than all the diplomatic notes ever written. If there be any nation east or west that cherishes any feeling toward us, that nation will take notice of this program and it will have a great soothing effect and do more to promote peace than a most lavish use of the English language."

He was aware that the amount is large, but money spent on our navy is the most economical expenditure made by this congress. The American people may well resent some expenditures for local improvements, but I do not believe anyone begrudges the money to build up our navy."

Cheap Navy, False Economy

"The navy cannot be built up cheaply—that would be false economy. It is a great task to make our navy what it should be, but this bill goes far toward that. The problem is to create a navy, sufficiently strong to protect both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. We cannot rely on the Panama canal to transfer our navy from one ocean to the other. In its very nature the canal is vulnerable. No nation has yet built a canal that is not a target for attack. The Panama canal is a target for attack. We must have a fleet for each ocean."

Senator Lodge declared that every United States ship afloat, if it be of the first line of defense, should have its full complement of men, and advocated the three-year program for eight capital ships saying that the need for battle cruisers is great, but the dreadnought—mainstay of the navy—is an absolute essential.

Mr. Lodge urged the establishment of a permanent naval reserve, and auxiliary fleet with armaments available so that this could be quickly transferred into warships in case of war.

Value of Naval Supremacy

Senator Swanson declared the history of the world teaches that naval supremacy ultimately means national pre-eminence and triumph. "The few years preceding this great war," he said, "marked the most tremendous territorial aggressions of the first class powers of Europe that have ever occurred in the history of the world."

"Are we foolish enough to suppose that the aggressive spirit of the European powers has been satiated and

Woman Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. One of my lady friends came to see me and she advised me to commence taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I began taking my remedies and took $5.00 worth and in two months was a well woman after three doctors said I never would stand up straight again. I was a midwife for seven years and I recommended the Vegetable Compound to every woman to take before birth and afterwards, and they all got along so nicely that it surely is a godsend to suffering women. If women wish to write to me I will be delighted to answer them."

—Mrs. JENNIE MOYER, 342 E. North St., Lima, Ohio.

Women who suffer from displacements, weakness, irregularities, nervousness, backache or bearing-down pains, need the tonic-strengthening properties of the roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If women with wide experience like Mrs. Moyer have such faith in this medicine, why should you doubt its value?

his party for lieutenant-governor last year.

The fact that Bird is willing to take the stump for Hughes despite his mental during the primary election in this state, that the ex-justice could not defeat President Wilson, is recalled. In the campaign before the primaries Bird said that the only man in the country who had a chance to defeat Wilson was Roosevelt.

Yesterday Mr. Bird said: "I am so deeply impressed with the inequity of the Wilson administration and the danger that its continuance in power would entail upon the country that I am willing to forego my personal inclinations and to take the stump for Hughes in Massachusetts, if asked to do so."

Secretary of State Langtry returned from New York yesterday after a conference with Hughes. He recalled that the republican candidate for president would win the state with a majority of 75,000 votes.

Joseph J. Plard of 22 E. Street, Timothy O'Neill of West Sixth street, and Adeline E. Egan of Elm street, spent Wednesday night in the police station at Malden, having been arrested on suspicion of being connected with a break which had been made in Everett. The boys had been to Revere and missed the last car for Lowell. About 11 o'clock they approached the railroad station at Malden and asked what time the next train went to Lowell. The station agent had been advised of a break made in a drug store and after looking the boys over decided that they were the ones the police were looking for. The agent notified the police and the trio was brought to the station house but it did not take long to convince the station officials that they were peaceful young men who unfortunately missed the last car for Lowell.

BOY DYING OF FLY POISON

ROCHESTER, Vt., July 13.—Four-year-old Kenneth Fassett yesterday swallowed a quantity of fly poison containing arsenic, and late last night physicians announced that his recovery was doubtful. Kenneth is the eldest of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Volney Fassett. He was playing about the house alone, the mother of the family being confined to her bed with a three days' old infant.

She was not informed of the accident, it being feared that the boy might have fatal results. Shortly after he had taken the liquid the boy became violently ill. Physicians were called, but it was some time before the nature of the illness was discovered and his condition was considered very serious.

STATE DETECTIVE TRYING TO LEARN HOW MRS. KATIE RHINEHART DIED

GRAFTON, July 14.—Lying on her right side with her head under the front axle, Mrs. Katie Rhinehart of this town was found dead at 6.30 yesterday morning under a buggy owned by Martin Kelley, for whom the dead woman was housekeeper.

Medical Examiner Knight of Westboro was summoned and according to the story which Mr. Kelley is alleged to have told him, Mrs. Rhinehart arrived home from Farmington last night about 9 o'clock, in a befuddled condition.

Mr. Kelley said he watched the horse and put it in the barn. He left Mrs. Rhinehart in the buggy and went to bed. She was found dead under the buggy at 6.30 this morning.

The autopsy on the body this afternoon showed a deep cut on the right forehead, a fracture at the left base of the skull and concussion of the brain, all due to violence of some unknown cause. The nature of the wounds seems to indicate that they are the result of a fall, and not a blow, as was first considered most probable.

State Detective Edward J. McCarthy of Worcester has taken charge of the case and this afternoon the police discovered a hatchet at the Kelley farm, where the body was found. This weapon had on it some hair and some stains which might have been blood. The hatchet will be carefully examined. No arrest has been made as yet.

SAYS ENLARGED RHEUMATIC JOINTS DISAPPEAR UNDER TREATMENT

Advices Joints Be Kept Warm—Protect Hands From Cold Winds and Cold Water

The question has often been asked whether the mis-shapen finger joints due to rheumatism would return to normal, said W. A. Varney, the discoverer of Var-ne-sis.

ONE FORM OF RHEUMATISM VAR-NE-SIS TAKES CARE OF

I am going to answer this question by producing evidence that proves conclusively that they do. I want to suggest that it is important to keep the joints warm and protect the hands from cold winds and water.

Take the case of Mr. Holden whose fingers were bent and deformed—to see him today you could not believe he ever had rheumatism. Again, Mrs. Breed's fingers were actually deformed—they were so stiff and deformed—she is well today, fingers perfect. Mrs. McMillan is another woman who regained the use of her fingers as well as other joints through Var-ne-sis. Mrs. Coyle's fingers were almost rigid—they have gone back to normal. Mr. Nelson's fingers were deformed to a marked degree—you'd never believe he had rheumatism. Nurse Nightingale's fingers were crooked and deformed—they are now normal and she gives all the credit to Var-ne-sis.

Hundreds have told me that Var-

SEEK STOLEN MIDGETS

PARENTS IN HUNGARY ASK AID OF UNITED STATES—SUSPECTED TO BE WITH CIRCUS

BOSTON, July 14.—James Matina of Budapest, Hungary, has requested the United States government officials to lend their aid in locating his three children, who were kidnapped from their home and are supposed to be with an American circus. His father hunted for the children in Java, and then traced them to Germany. He applied to the American consul general in Berlin, and through that official the machinery of the American government was set in motion, and every effort is being made to find the little ones. The children are midgets and are believed to be with the side show of a circus in this country.

Immigration Inspector William J. Burke of the local immigration station went to Worcester and looked over a circus giving a performance in that city. The manager disclaimed any knowledge of the children. Mr. Burke visited one of the side shows in his trip of exploration. A snake charmer with several snakes entwined about her neck, appeared at the entrance to the tent. When the snakes caught sight of the inspector they tried to leap on him and he was forced to beat a hasty retreat.

HOW TO ESCAPE THE INJURIOUS RESULTS OF THE HIGH TEMPERATURE—GOOD ADVICE

Health Commissioner Dr. Francis X. Mahoney of the city of Boston has issued the following suggestions for comfort in the hot weather:

Eat sparingly of hot and little meat. Wear loose, light porous clothing. Drink plenty of cool water, not ice water. Bathe often, preferably an hour after breakfast. Avoid prolonged exposure to the sun. Abstain from alcoholic stimulants. Keep your sleeping apartments cool, remove all heavy draperies, rugs, etc., and have the furnishings as few as possible. Do not fret, worry or hurry. Do not overwork or overexert yourself. Keep cool in mind and it will help keep your body cool. Be moderate in everything.

tauban and the remaining portion of Trones woods were captured.

While it was expected the British would not allow any great length of time to elapse before continuing their operations, it was hardly believed the second German line would be attacked after only one day of artillery preparation; for it was only on the day before yesterday that they completed capture of the first line in the region between Hardecourt and Oviliers. The direction of the attack, too, was something of a surprise, for instead of pushing on towards Comblès, Gen. Halg chose to attack the flank of the Germans who faced Contalmaison and Oviliers and those who still occupy Pozieres. The advance to Longueval and Bazentin-le-Grand, if accomplished gives the British possession of other important roads, running in various directions, which have been a great help to the Germans in supplying their army directly south of the Ancre river.

Army Well Supplied

News of the British success has given added weight here to the request of the government to workmen to forego the August holidays so that the army may be kept well supplied with munitions. The supplies already on hand must be greater than was generally believed, else Gen. Halg would not have been able to continue his offensive without an intermission.

There was no news this morning of important developments on the remainder of the western front, but at last accounts the French were preparing to resume their offensive south of the Somme while the Germans were still hammering at the defenses of Verdun.

The Russians have made no noticeable advance on any part of their front since they gained the Stokhod river where the struggle continues desperately. The right bank apparently has now been cleared of Germans but it is not known here whether the crossings made by the Russians have given them a firm footing on the left bank.

The operations in the Caucasus are becoming more and more important. After suffering heavy losses in their counter offensive the Turks are now being pressed back towards Balbour and Erzizman while in Persia the Russians have brought up reinforcements to meet the Turks.

GERMAN RESISTANCE MUCH WEAKER THAN ON FIRST LINE

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE. July 14, via London.—After their methodical day by day approaches to within striking distance of the second line of German defenses, and after having brought up materials and guns, the British were ready for another big attack and at 3.30 o'clock this morning the infantry was sent forward. The assault seems to assure the taking of the villages of Longueval and Bazentin-le-Grand, the retaking of Trones wood and the gaining of ground beyond Contalmaison and the piercing of the second German line at every point of attack.

The Associated Press correspondent, watching the artillery preparation at night, was able to see the British, as dawn came, in possession of a coveted ridge, where German shells were bursting in an effort on the part of the German gunners to prevent the attack from proceeding further.

Accounts received at this early hour indicate the German resistance is much weaker than on the first line. The struggle is continuing in Bazentin-le-Petit woods, where the Germans still hold out and in the woods beyond Longueval.

GERMAN ATTEMPTS TO STORM FRENCH POSITIONS CHECKED

PARIS, July 14, noon.—The Germans made two attempts last night to storm French positions north of the Aisne, at a point south of Ville-aux-Hels, but were checked by the French machine gun fire, the war office announced today.

On the Verdun front artillery fighting continues in the Souville sector. There were patrol engagements in Chemols wood. There were no important developments on the remainder of the front.

The announcement follows: "North of the Aisne, in the region south of Ville-aux-Hels and on the Veslère plateau two attempts by the Germans to make attacks were arrested promptly by the fire of our machine guns.

On the right bank of the Meuse, (Verdun front) the artillery fighting was very active in the Souville sector. Patrol engagements occurred in Chemols wood.

"On the remainder of the front there were no important events."

IMPORTANT CAPTURES BY BRITISH IN ATTACK ON GERMAN SECOND LINE

LONDON, July 14, 12.05 p. m.—The British troops in their attack on the second system of German defenses captured Longueval, Bazentin-le-Grand and the Trones wood, says a Reuter despatch from the British front.

The Reuter despatch, which comes from the war correspondents' headquarters, says that, following a heavy bombardment of the German second defense line, the British infantry attacked at dawn today and broke the second line over a front of 5000 yards. The despatch adds:

"Latest reports state that we captured the villages of Longueval, Bazentin-le-Grand and cleared the enemy out of Trones wood. The weather is cloudy and is cool and favorable to our operations."

The British advance reported in today's official despatches apparently constitutes the second phase of the great Anglo-French offensive in the neighborhood of the Somme river which began on July 1 over a front of something more than 20 miles. The first phase of this offensive carried the British forward to and gave them possession of Contalmaison and Montauban but the French on their right moved their lines further forward.

The reported capture of Longueval and Bazentin-le-Grand indicates that the British in today's assault advanced eastward or northward from Contalmaison or Montauban and that they appear to have brought their right wing on a par with the French left and are thusing a salient between Peronne, the immediate French objective, and Bapaume, the point at which the British movement is reported to be directed.

Longueval is about three and a half miles east of Contalmaison and Bazentin-le-Grand is midway between those towns.

GERMANS HAVE NOT WITHDRAWN SINGLE MAN OR GUN FROM VERDUN

BERLIN, July 14.—(By wireless to Sayville)—The offensive of the entente allies on the western front has not caused the withdrawal by the Germans of a single man or a single gun from the Verdun front, where the attack on the French fortress is being conducted consistently and successfully.

Reuter's statement issued today by the Overseas News agency summarizing newspaper comment on the western front campaign. "The German success reported yesterday to have been won on the right bank of the Meuse near Fort Souville and Laucelle plateau is commented upon by the German newspapers as an event of remarkable importance," says the news agency summary.

"This, the first enterprise attempted at Verdun since the beginning of the great enemy offensive, proves conclusively that the head of the German army, despite all hostile attacks on both the eastern and the western fronts, has not lost sight of the original object in view.

"No German soldier and no German cannon have been withdrawn from Verdun and the battle is continuing successfully with the initiative in German hands. If Germany's enemies had hoped to seize the initiative by the attacks of their armies of millions of men and lay down a course of action for the Germans they have been bitterly disappointed by the course of events.

"After their brief successes won at the beginning of their offensive the advances of hostile masses have up to this time been broken up by the heroic resistance and tenacious endurance of the brave German defenders of the Somme. German headquarters remains the masters of the course of operations."

"The success won near Souville is worthy of mention as one of the means taken to achieve the German end, as it shows the whole world the superiority of German arms."

The summary concludes, "and proves that Germany has reason for viewing the military situation with the same confidence as before."

BRITISH TROOPS BROKE INTO GERMAN SECOND LINE NORTH OF SOMME

LONDON, July 14, 11.12 a. m.—The British troops at dawn today broke into German positions on a four-mile front in the region north of the Somme and captured several strongly defended localities, says the official announcement of the war office.

The British attack was delivered on the second system of the German defenses, says the statement which adds that heavy fighting continues.

The official statement says: "This morning at dawn we attacked the enemy's second system of defenses. Our troops have broken into hostile position on a front of four miles and have captured several strongly defended localities. Heavy fighting continues."

BERLIN REPORTS NEW AND VIOLENT FIGHTING ON BOTH SIDES OF SOMME

BERLIN, July 14 (by wireless to Sayville).—New and violent battles are being fought on both sides of the river Somme this morning, says the official statement given out today by the German army headquarters staff.

Early this morning, the statement says, British troops attacked in the sector of Mametz wood and Longueval and made repeated efforts to capture Trones woods. The first British attacks were beaten back and new battles are now in progress.

East of the river Meuse in the region of Verdun the French attempted to reconquer territory captured by the Germans, the official statement says. Near the fortress of Souville the French attack was impeded by a curtain of fire, it is declared, and in the vicinity of Laucelle work the attack was completely repulsed.

Russian forces which had again entered the first line of the German trenches defended by troops of Gen. Count von Bothner were ejected, the German official statement says, with considerable losses by a counter attack.

The text of the German statement follows: "On both sides of the Somme new and violent combats are in progress. The British early in the morning attacked in the sector of Mametz wood and Longueval, and they made repeated efforts in Trones woods, where yesterday evening the British already were sensibly hit by the rapid advance of our reserves.

"After the first attempts of the enemy had been beaten back the British engaged in new attacks."

"The French after numerous failures in the last few days met with another setback yesterday when they attacked without success in the vicinity of Barleux and to the west of Estrees. Neither the French nor their black friends gained one yard of terrain."

"East of the Meuse French attempts at reconquest failed. Near the fortress of Souville our curtain of fire impeded the attack. Near the Laucelle works the attack was flatly repulsed.

"On the rest of the front numerous enemy patrols or stronger reconnoitering detachments were repulsed. German patrols brought in prisoners from Oulches, Deaulne and from a point west of Marikich.

Used Resinol—Skin Now Beautiful

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 7, 1915.—"A small red place covered with little white scales appeared beside my nose. Then it began to spread over both sides of my face and the scales cracked open, causing a terrible itching and burning. It was horrible looking and very embarrassing. I tried many salves, but could get no relief. At last I heard of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, and applied them as directed. The burning and itching sensation was relieved at once and in three weeks I was entirely cured. My face shows no sign of breaking out now. In fact, my skin is considered beautiful." The fire was returned but discontinued after a minute, the Mexicans hurrying back to their own country. None of the Americans was injured and it is believed none of the Mexicans was hit.

JEWELRY STORE ROBBED

Bold Robber Broke Window With Stone and Made Off With Trays of Rings Yesterday Afternoon

One of the most daring daylight robberies perpetrated in this city for a long time occurred late yesterday afternoon when a young man smashed the plate glass in the door of the jewelry store of J. E. Lyle at 131 Central street and emptied the contents of several trays of rings into his pocket and walked away.

As a general rule there is considerable traffic through this part of Central street at the hour the robbery occurred, but inasmuch as it was Thursday afternoon and practically all the principal stores were closed and hundreds of people were away the robbery so far as can be learned, was witnessed only by two boys. The boys saw a man smash the glass in the door with a stone enter the place and take the rings. One of the boys rushed to the corner of Market and Central streets and notified a police officer but when the latter arrived there was no sign of the robber.

It is a habit among robbers to enter stores by smashing plate glass, but as a general rule the storekeepers are covered so that the sound of the crash of glass will be deadened and it is only a daring robber who attempts such a thing in the daylight.

Fortunately the most valuable jewelry was locked up in the safe, but there was much good jewelry lying in trays and on counters which the robber passed up in his hurry. It is estimated that the jewelry taken includes more than 70 rings, the value of which is about $150.

In conversation with a representative of The Sun Mr. Lyle stated that the customers who had left their watches or jewelry at his store to be repaired should call and see if their property was stolen. If so the loss will be made good.

The police are working on the case but inasmuch as the information given by the boys is very meagre, they have but little to work on. One hundred dollars reward will be paid by the Jewelers' Protective association for the arrest of the man.

THREE FATALITIES

Two Men Drowned and One Killed at Quincy—Mystery in One

QUINCY, July 14.—Three fatalities were recorded here yesterday within a short time, and in one case there is an air of mystery which was not wholly dispelled by the report of the medical examiner.

The victims were Samuel P. Gill, 26 years old, of Island avenue, Hough's Neck; Joseph Levovich, 18 years old, of 10 Gardner street, Roxbury, and Thomas Rholsen, 60 years old, of 194 East Howard street, Quincy Point.

Gill's body was found in a boat near Boston Light, about two hours after he had put out from Hough's Neck to haul his lobster pots off Bug Light. The discovery was made at 7 this morning by his brother, Joseph Gill, who was also hauling in lobster pots. Gill's body was hanging over the side of the boat, with the head in the water.

It was thought at first that Gill was struck by lightning during the severe thunder storm of the early morning, although there were no marks on his body. Associate Medical Examiner George W. Higgins as Randolph, after an examination, said that death was caused by drowning, but what caused the young man to fall over the side of the boat and left him unable to help himself is something of a mystery. He was strong and healthy and was used to boats and water.

Gill was married and is survived by his wife and two children, one of whom was born only two days ago. Mrs. Gill is with her father, Joseph Sousa, Washington street, Hudson, where she went in anticipation of the birth of her baby. Gill is also survived by his father and brother. He was a plumber by trade and formerly lived in South Boston.

Joseph Levovich was drowned in Wondell's ledge, an abandoned quarry hole, which is filled with water and in some places is 100 or more feet deep. Levovich was visiting Frank Coffman of 118 East Howard street and with other young men went swimming in the quarry hole. The water, fed by springs, is very cold, and Levovich sank shortly after he had got into deep water, although he was only a short distance from the shore.

The police worked all day with grappling hooks unsuccessfully. They gave up the job for the night about six o'clock when some men under Patrick H. Bradley, chief of the Fore River shipyard constables, took up the search. About 7 o'clock they brought the body

Thomas Rholsen sustained fatal injuries in the freight yards off Granite street. Rholsen was employed by the Quincy Lumber Co. and was about to help in unloading a freight car loaded with lumber. Stakes holding the load broke, allowing several tons of lumber to fall on Rholsen.

The freight yard employees ran to his aid and pulled the lumber off. Rholsen was terribly crushed, especially about the hips. He was taken to the Quincy City hospital, where he died this afternoon.

But very little is known here of the man. At the hospital, during periods of consciousness this afternoon, he was heard to mention Mechanicsville, N. Y., several times.

PARADE IN DRESS

Iowa Troops in "Disgraceful" Scene. According to Gen. H. A. Allen—Protest Against Underwear

DES MOINES, July 14.—Three hundred soldiers, clad as scantily as the law allows, paraded at Camp Dodge for the benefit of Gen. H. A. Allen. The general, in front of whose headquarters the howling, howling crowd marched, termed their action disgraceful.

The men paraded in protest against the underwear that had been supplied to them. The size were 18 and 32, they say, must too big for any of them.

The men with disbands flying from poles to represent flags, marched to headquarters. Gen. Allen appeared, but took no action. The demonstration lasted half an hour.

FIRE IN ATLANTIC HOTEL

ATLANTIC CITY, July 14.—Fire caused about $10,000 damage to the Hotel Raleigh at St. Charles place and the beach yesterday, and for a short time gave the ocean front property holders some anxiety, as a high wind was blowing. The flames started in the upper part of the hotel. Most of the guests were at luncheon at the time and all escaped from the building without injury.

TO LEARN WAGE SCALE

BOSTON CARMEN TO HEAR THE NEWS TONIGHT — GIVES $2,000,000 IN PAY INCREASES

BOSTON, July 14.—The members of the Boston Street Carman's union, at special meetings in Tremont Temple, tonight will receive from their wage committee and the international officers, who settled the wage grievance, a report which will explain in detail just how much wages they will receive during the next three years for their work, dating from May 1, last.

The new agreement will not be completed until late this afternoon, and none of the employees of the Boston Elevated will know just what part of the more than $2,000,000 to be expended in this increase he will receive, until the official report is made known tonight.

The final terms of the agreement are not even known to the members of the wage committee, as the increases for the employees are figured on a percentage basis, each class of workers receiving a different percentage, with the result that the increases range all the way from 3 cents an hour for one class to about 8 cents for another.

Yesterday as a result of a call for assistance from the officers of the Portland Street Carman's union, which walked out on strike Wednesday noon, International Pres. William D. Mahon of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, sent Pres. Matthew J. Higgins, Past Business Agent Thomas F. Shine of the local union, John H. Reardon, general executive board member, and James H. Valley, attorney for the union, to assist the strikers.

Late yesterday afternoon it was stated that the plans for the meeting tonight had not been completed and for that reason it can not be said whether there will be but one meeting or two sessions tonight.

It is expected, though, that the first session will be held at 9 o'clock as usual and the second session after midnight, so that all members can receive the official report and be given a chance to vote on the ratification of the agreement.

According to the leaders of the union there is not much doubt as to the action tonight, as it was said that the increase is substantial and with no extended arbitration expenses to be paid, the increase will be "velvet" for the workers.

Treasury Department Takes Large Sum From Deposits in Federal Reserve Banks

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Withdrawal of $10,000,000 of the treasury's deposits in the federal reserve banks was ordered yesterday by Sec. McAdoo. Treasury officials said the action was in the usual course of business, the enormous total of the withdrawal being due to the fact that heavy deposits made by internal revenue collectors in the closing days of the fiscal year had brought the treasury's balance in the banks to well above $100,000,000. Part of the $10,000,000 will be taken from each of the 12 banks.

FOUND DEAD IN FIELD

CANTON, July 14.—James Middleton, 35, who lived with his mother on Church street, was found dead by some boys yesterday afternoon in a field near the bank of the Neponset river. Medical Examiner W. O. Faxon decided that the man had probably been taken ill in an electric car owing to the heat Wednesday, left the car and entered the field to lie down.

The body was taken to the home of his mother, with whom two sisters and a brother of the deceased live.

TWO DEAD, ONE STRICKEN

Worcester Hard Hit by the Heat—Oscar Langevin of Millbury and Iver Johnson Succumb

WORCESTER, July 14.—The heat and humidity yesterday caused three heat prostrations, two of which proved fatal, and made the day the most oppressive here of the present heat wave. Oscar Langevin of Millbury entered a barber shop at 140 Franklin street overcome by the heat and dropped dead on the floor.

A man, identified several hours after his admission to City hospital as Iver Johnson of 35 Belmont street, fell to the sidewalk on Mechanic street, unconscious shortly afterward, and was taken to the hospital in the police ambulance. He died last night without regaining consciousness.

George Burke of 334 Greenwood street was overcome while at work at a packing plant on Franklin street. He fell five feet to the ground and was taken to City hospital, unconscious. His condition was reported as improved last night. Several factories were closed on account of the heat.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

In a recent article I mentioned some of the experiences of John C. King as manager of the Lowell ball team of a century ago, which came to a sudden ending just at this part of the season. The team wound up its career at this date, and the Sun had only the following brief but expressive obituary notice:

"The Lowell baseball team disbanded yesterday. Bad management, bad ball playing, poor patronage and many other things contributed to the collapse of the club. Joseph Kelley, formerly of the Lowell team, has signed with the Boston Nationals and played his first game Monday. The Boston papers speak highly of his ability."

John C. King was the man who introduced the future manager Joe Kelley to the big show, securing him the berth above-mentioned through his influence with Frank Selig, then connected with the Boston team. As I told you before, Kelley made good and afterward became famous and wealthy. The same issue of the old Sun had the following:

"The Big Twelve defeated the Hogs in a hotly contested ball game at Tyng's Island, Thursday. Billy Hawes got his nose turned away by a ball. The Page company entered."

But Bill got his nose turned back all right, and later played ball again with the Lowell team, and likes to see a good game today. The Big 12 and the Hogs were two very popular social organizations of a century ago, between whom a friendly rivalry existed which showed itself on the occasion of outings in the summer and dances in the cold weather. The Big 12 held forth in comfortable quarters in the Hildreth building, and their "open houses" were the delight of multitudes. The Hogs had rooms in Central street and vied with the Big 12 as entertainers. The Hogs became so famous that branches were formed in Boston, Brockton and Fall River, and at one time after a convention of the four lodges of Hogs held in Boston, it looked as if the organization was about to develop into a state-wide fraternity. But organized purely for social purposes it did not develop as it might have, had it any benefit of fraternal feature connected with it. Both the Big 12 and Hogs went out of existence about the same time. As the members married they lost interest in club-life and that fact had as much to do with the disbandment of both organizations as any other cause. The Alpines, who were in existence in those days, are still intact and as prosperous as ever. But they held on to their married brethren by making them honoraries without financial obligations upon their marriage, admitting new members as each old member went on the roll of honoraries. The result is that for quarter of a century the Alpine club has had a full membership list.

Old Time Athlete in Town

An old time athlete who could show his heels to the best of them quarter of a century ago is George Picard, for the past 10 years a resident of Worcester, where he is prospering. Mr. Picard returned to Lowell a week ago and picking up The Sun read an account of an outing in Lowell quarter of a century ago at which he won a couple of prizes, and he subsequently had an interesting chat with the writer over old time athletic events in Lowell. Picard was a contemporary of Billy Salmon, Dan and Frank Looney, Tom Kelly and the other star cinder path athletes of quarter of a century ago, and he was one of the swiftest of the bunch. Mr. Picard has been in the painting business in Worcester but while Old Scout Jesse Burkett had the Worcester team, Picard was associated with him at the Worcester grounds. George states that if the weather isn't too hot he'd like to return to Lowell some day and have an old timers' race with Kelly, Looney, Dick McCluskey and a few more as entrants.

Labor Day Appropriation

The old Sun notes the fact that the city council at its July meeting appropriated $200 for the observance of Labor day, which would indicate that the celebration of that time was decidedly limited, as far as expenditures were concerned. But quarter of a century ago while there were quite a few labor unions in Lowell they did not possess the numbers and influence that they do today and they were few compared with the large number of the present time. The cotton and woolen mills were just beginning to organize in those days, while the leather workers hadn't become organized at that time. Then the diversity of industries that has since sprung up in this city, has been followed by a large increase in the number and character of labor unions. The old time labor leaders worked hard and untiringly to get the members of the different crafts to become affiliated with the different unions, and their efforts met with success. Among some of the old timers who did much to help the labor movement in this city, were Edward Rogers, Thomas F. Connolly, William Rafferty, Alex. Ray and others. This year the city has appropriated $1500 for Labor day, and the unions intend to hold a monster parade, which will be followed one month later by a state parade of the Knights of Columbus. Verily the year 1910 will be the banner year for parades in Lowell.

Some Old Time Personals

What the people were doing during the vacation season in Lowell quarter of a century ago will be of interest and hence are reproduced below a number of "personals" items which appeared in The Sun at that time:

GOLD AND SILVER

Mazatlan is Mexico's Metropolis of the Pacific Coast

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Mazatlan, Mexico's metropolis of the Pacific coast, reported to have been the scene of an unprovoked attack upon officers and men from the American gunboat Annapolis, is described in the National Geographic society's war geographic bulletin issued in Washington today.

The north entrance to its harbor marked by a lighthouse perched on the crest of an eminence called Cerro del Creston, making it one of the loftiest guides to navigation in the world, Mazatlan is the chief entrepot for one of the richest mining sections of the southern republic. It not only exports the gold and silver from its own immensely wealthy state of Sinaloa (estimated by some experts to have the most valuable mineral deposits in Mexico) but it also handles the ore shipments by sea of Zacatecas and Durango.

The city, which has a population of 20,000, is situated on a small peninsula opposite the Bay of Ocas Altas (High Waves), and is surrounded by coconut groves. It is a six days' voyage by steamship from here to San Francisco, the Mexican port being 225 miles east of the southern tip of Lower California. The distance from El Paso, due south, to Mazatlan is about the same as from St. Louis to New Orleans.

The aspect of the territory adjacent to Mazatlan is little affected by the prosperity of the port. The Indians live in the same type of huts which they have occupied since the Spanish conquest and perhaps for centuries before that. The strip of lowland along the shore has a tropical climate with an abundance of rain. Beyond this verdant margin to the east rises the towering thickly wooded Sierra Madre range, extending for hundreds of miles to the north and south.

"Among the rich products of Mexico's fertile fields, undersea caves and river hills which find their way to the outside world through the Mazatlan gateway are rubber, cane, dyewoods, all-weather copper, lead, pearls, tortoise shell, salted fish and cabinet woods. The city's manufacturing activities include saw mills, cotton factories and rope works."

"Fourteen years ago Mazatlan was almost depopulated by a frightful epidemic of bubonic plague which carried in severity some of the most terrible ravages of the 'Black Death' in Europe during the middle ages. According to one authority only 4000 people out of a total of 18,000 were spared, and more than 1000 houses were burned in an effort to stay the march of the disease. During the last decade sanitary conditions have been improved greatly."

family are at Cape Cod.

"Mr. Will Cogger, the Arena, and Mr. R. L. Walker, Charles Donlan and John Boyle have returned from a delightful cruise up the Concord."

"Mr. W. H. Hovey, the banjo teacher, has started on a month's trip down the coast of Maine. Forrest has returned from a bicycle trip through New Hampshire, having covered over 300 miles on their wheels."

"Mrs. Thomas F. Maguire and her boy are enjoying their vacation with relatives in West Fitchburg."

"Mrs. F. X. A. Hurtubise of Fort Hill avenue has gone to Minneapolis for the summer."

"Mr. John J. Cluin has returned from Exeter, N. H., where he celebrated the third anniversary of his marriage."

"Mr. Joseph W. Purcell of the Faragut house and family are summering at their cottage at Bass Point, Nahant."

"Miss Della Brady and Miss Etta Keefe, teachers at the Butler school, are at Bethlehem, N. H."

"Mrs. Hector Turnbull and two children are at Turnhill, Vt., where they will remain until September."

"Miss Maud Paradis, the well known pianiste, is filling a summer engagement at Long Island sound."

"George F. Burns, basso at the First Unitarian church, and Bert T. Stephenson are going to Belfast, Me., for three weeks."

And there were many others, equally fortunate.

"Jack" Benson in Town

Says The Sun of quarter of a century ago:

"John W. Benson, who has travelled with different theatrical companies for several years, is now at his home in Lawrence street. He is engaged for the coming season with 'The Still Alarm' company under Manager Arthur's direction. Harry Lacey has left the company and Mr. Benson will have Mr. Lacey's part for the coming season. The company opens in Newark, N. J., in August."

Harry Lacey created the leading role in "The Still Alarm," which made a big hit on the road for several seasons, and Jack Benson succeeded him and was successful in the role. "The Still Alarm" introduced the interior of a fire house as one of its scenes, with a three-horse-hitch fire engine responding to an alarm. This stunt in those days was considered the height of stage realism. Afterward Mr. Benson took up with the Frohmans and was in their company for several seasons. He created the part of "Kelly, the Barkeeper" in the original production of "Chimney Padden," and later was with Maggie Cline, May Irwin and other celebrities. Mr. Benson was one of the first of the New York actors to respond to the lure of the movies and appeared in some of the earliest popular film productions. Now they're all doing it, and Jack is still on the job.

THE OLD TIMER.

"Miss Nettie Rogers, aged 18, a graduate from an agricultural school, has filed a homestead claim on 160 acres of land on Flint Ridge, Ark., and will engage in fruit raising and truck farming. Miss Rogers is the youngest homesteader in that section and one of the very few women who have manifested the grit to attempt to cultivate the rough mountain tract of land in that vicinity."

PLAYERS LIKE ALEX RUBE OLDRING LURED BACK TO GAME BY YANKS' BIG OFFER

WHAT TEAMMATES HAVE TO SAY ABOUT WORK OF PHILLIE PITCHER

Here are what certain persons think of Alexander the Great:

Pat Moran—I have caught Charley Nichols, Mordecai Brown, Orvie Overall, Ed Reulbach and other famous stars, but the king of them all is Alexander.

Bill Killefer—I am glad that it is my privilege to catch a man like Alexander. What is the difference between Alexander and an inferior pitcher? Why, one difference is that Alexander watches the runner first, inferior pitchers don't take that trouble.

Cactus Cravath—My home runs always win games when Alexander is pitching, because one of those belts, when he is on the hill, is enough to win.

Capt. Luderus—I am from Milwaukee and don't like Alexander one whit better than an order of Milwaukee buttermilk.

Dode Faskert—When Alexander is pitching, center-fielding is a cinch. I never have to run far. The opposition is lucky to get the ball past the infield.

George Whitted—What do I think of Alexander? What you should do is find out what Alexander thinks of me. He has won his last three games on the home grounds by a score of 2 to 1, and in each contest I have broken up the game.

Bert Nichols—If Alexander was running for president next fall I would vote six times.

David Baneroff—If Alexander could only learn to catch foul tips he would be a wonder.

Millon Stock—The greatest friend I ever had in the world is John McGraw. He traded me to Philadelphia. Now I am with Alexander. I don't have to bat against him.

Eddie Burns—When I catch Alexander I know that only one hour and a half of my time is taken up, and that the Phils are going to win a game.

Wilbur Good—I hate Alexander. He is such a good hitter that I never get a chance to bat for him.

Jaakey Dugay—I don't think much of Alexander. He is such a fast runner that I am never asked to stop for him.

Smitty, the announcer—I am against Alexander. He never gives me any work to do. He is never knocked out of the box.

Chief Bender—He is a pitcher, boys, a pitcher.

Al Demaree—He is to pitching what Krupp is to cannon-making.

Eppa Rixey—I can see my left better, than Alexander, but we won't speak about his right.

Erskine Mayer—The only way he would be more valuable to the Phils, he would have to be twins.

George McQuillan—He must be good for I never have to succeed him.

SPEAKER WORTH HIS WEIGHT IN GOLD, DECLARES MORTON OF THE CLEVELAND CLUB

NEW YORK, July 14.—"If Guy Morton, our star pitcher, had not been injured about a month ago, we now would be leading the American league by a safe margin," says Robert J. Roy, vice president of the Cleveland club, after his team had regained the lead yesterday. Morton snapped a tendon near his right elbow and he hasn't tried to pitch a curve ball in practice since that unlucky mishap. He is with the team, but Len Fohl has no idea when he can return to the box. Morton had won 11 out of 13 games for us when he became crippled.

Meanwhile we have secured several new pitchers, including Gould from Davenport, Ia., Bailey, a New England recruit of some quality, and Lambeth of the Topeka club. Beebe, who was purchased from the Buffalo club recently, is helping the team wonderfully. But I must admit that our mainstay is Stanley Caveleskie who seems to be a horse for work.

"The Cleveland club has spent $80,000 for players, including Speaker, since Jim Dunn became the owner, but we will make some money. Speaker is worth his weight in gold. If anything should happen to him we would be out of the running in no time. Fohl is a splendid manager. He has welded the team together with rare skill and he is entitled to much of the credit for the Indians' excellent record to date."

NEW YORK, July 13.—Rube Oldring, former outfielder of the Athletics, will don a New York uniform and play left field for the Yankees shortly. Oldring was finally lured out of his retirement from baseball by Gernany Schaefer, who was the last emissary sent to see him. Though Oldring was given his unconditional release when he left the Athletics last month, he made a promise to Connie Mack if he ever decided to play again he would give his services to the Philadelphia leader first. Therefore the Yankees will purchase him as though he was still under contract to the Philadelphia club. Oldring was more sincere in his retirement than many thought. He had really grown tired of the game, and his interests at home, where he has a big farm, took a good deal of his time. One reason why he has not been able to reach a decision earlier is that he could not make arrangements to have his place taken care of. At the most, Oldring says, he will play only one more season. He declares he will be through when this season closes. Oldring will be a great help to the Yankees in their present predicament, with Gilheoley out of the game for six weeks or two months. Oldring has never been a great hitter, but he has always been a dangerous and timely hitter. He hit well up around .270 last year and has gone over the .300 mark in his time. But he is a fast and sure outfielder and a smart ball player.

Oldring was finally lured out of his retirement from baseball by Gernany Schaefer, who was the last emissary sent to see him. Though Oldring was given his unconditional release when he left the Athletics last month, he made a promise to Connie Mack if he ever decided to play again he would give his services to the Philadelphia leader first. Therefore the Yankees will purchase him as though he was still under contract to the Philadelphia club. Oldring was more sincere in his retirement than many thought. He had really grown tired of the game, and his interests at home, where he has a big farm, took a good deal of his time. One reason why he has not been able to reach a decision earlier is that he could not make arrangements to have his place taken care of. At the most, Oldring says, he will play only one more season. He declares he will be through when this season closes. Oldring will be a great help to the Yankees in their present predicament, with Gilheoley out of the game for six weeks or two months. Oldring has never been a great hitter, but he has always been a dangerous and timely hitter. He hit well up around .270 last year and has gone over the .300 mark in his time. NEW YORK, July 13.—Rube Oldring, former outfielder of the Athletics, will don a New York uniform and play left field for the Yankees shortly. LEVINSKY WINS

New Yorker Gives Jack Dillon a Fine Lacing at Brooklyn

BALTIMORE, Md., July 14.—Battling Levinsky of New York put a very large crimp into the championship aspirations of Jack Dillon of Indianapolis, when they met in a 10-round bout yesterday afternoon at Oriole Park. At the end of the last round Levinsky had Dillon on the ropes, racking his head with rights and lefts, and only the bell saved the conqueror of Frank Moran from a knockout.

At the beginning of the fight Dillon forced the issue and tried time and again to land a right on the batter's jaw that would have ended the fight. Levinsky outboxed Dillon at every part of the game, straightening him up with sharp left jabs to the face and hard rights to the body and actually made Dillon look like a novice.

In the second round Levinsky opened a cut over Dillon's right eye and kept it bleeding throughout the bout. He also brought disaster to Dillon with a hard smash to the wind that made Dillon wince and a hard blow in the mouth evidently loosened some of Jack's teeth, as he made a wry face.

The men were matched to box 15 rounds to a decision for the lightweight championship, and had it gone that distance every man who saw the fight was of the belief that Levinsky would have been the champion. Fortunately for Dillon, the man who guaranteed him $5000 and $2500 to Levinsky, disappeared and the men not to disappoint about 1500 visiting Elks, decided to box 10 rounds with no decision, for the gate receipts.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

New York won from Cleveland yesterday and regained the lead in the American league race.

The St. Louis Browns are in Boston until after next Tuesday.

Tom Daley, the former Lowell catcher, who once made a home run before the king of England, has been traded from the White Sox to Cleveland and is now assisting Steve O'Neill, another New England graduate, in the backstop work for the Indians.

Catcher Doon has been traded by the New York Nationals to the Rochester club.

"Hook" Warner, third baseman for the Dayton Central league club, has been sold to Pittsburgh. The sale price was said to be $4000.

Reuben N. Oldring, former star left fielder of the Philadelphia Athletics, who announced his retirement from baseball on July 1, signed a contract yesterday to play with the New York Americans.

The Yankees had better not back much further. The way the American league teams now are bunched it won't take much for a team to be backed out of the first division.

If the Yankees could save about half of those runs they get so lavishly for Cullup and present them to Caldwell, Ray, instead of Nick, would be the hero of the Yank staff. Ray is pitching grand ball, but he can't win games when his team scores only two runs in twenty-nine innings behind him. He beat Johnson 1 to 0 in eleven innings, then lost 2 to 1 to Chicago and 1 to 0 to Cleveland.

Fritz Malsel was put off the grounds before he had a chance to get into the game. Fritz put a uniform on last Monday, and yesterday intended to sit it out, on the bench. However, Silt O'Loughlin didn't like the sound of Malsel's voice in the first inning of the second game and ordered Malsel out. Silt made the discovery in the second inning that Fritz still was using up room on the bench and ordered the game stopped until the little Maryland Tonten moved himself away. Malsel shagged flies in the outfield in the early afternoon, but made no attempt to throw.

Persons did not appreciate what an important little gink Frank Gilheoley really was on the Yanks until Frank suddenly was incapacitated. The club needs another outfielder badly. Rube Oldring seems in no hurry to report. There are reports Mack is blocking Rube's efforts to come to New York.

To whom it may concern, including several New York scribes, Frank Baker did not tie his best Athletic home run record by hitting his eighth homer of the 1916 season last Monday. Baker led the American league in home runs with nine in 1911, with ten in 1912, with twelve in 1913, and in 1914 Frank was tied with Sam Crawford for the home run crown with

FINED FOR SNOWBALLING
While the mercury registered 92 degrees in the Malden court house yesterday, Albert Curtin and Frank M. Parcellini of Everett were fined $10 each for snowballing. LOWELL MADE CLEAN

It is a healthy sign and one that presages better things when a committee of local women takes a practical interest in civic cleanliness, and it is an indication of a spirit that will not be satisfied until it achieves results. The Sun and the press generally have been advocating a cleaner Lowell for a long time, but unfortunately the sudden spurts that broke out from time to time peter out all too soon and are followed by general indifference. Clean-up weeks and similar agitations serve their purpose, but unless they are succeeded by a genuine desire for a more wholesome state of affairs and unless there is tireless and continual co-operation it is worse than futile to work ourselves into a one-week fever of effort.

Mrs. William P. White of the local branch of the Special Aid Society for Preparedness was very specific in her recommendations to the municipal council, and the justice of her protest can be ascertained by any interested citizen who looks over the parks, commons, streets, alleys, etc. The municipal council expresses itself as glad of the interest taken by the Lowell women and Superintendent Kernan regrets that a small appropriation makes it difficult for the park department to achieve results. The general public is not so much interested in placing the responsibility and is not disposed to blame any group or groups of officials, but the fact remains that Lowell is not as clean as it might be. This being so, how are we going to set about remedying conditions?

In the first place, since we cannot have appropriations as large as the different departments think necessary, let us do the best we can within a small appropriation. Where is the use of agitating park extension, planning for observatories or band concerts or ornamental fountains, if we cannot keep our present park system in proper condition? It will not take a great deal of money to procure half a dozen wire receptacles for waste, but Lowell seems to have a peculiar aversion to receptacles of the sort. Boston commons have these necessary appendages on all sides. Lawrence has them all along its main streets, but if one has a piece of wrapping paper to throw away in Lowell, there is likely to be a long walk to the nearest waste basket. The result is that people get into the slovenly and unsanitary habit of throwing waste around as though the streets were common dumps. Over and over again The Sun has referred to this condition. We have spoken of the undesirable tendency of the markets to throw boxes, etc., on the sidewalks; of the littering of Park Garden and Fort Hill park with papers; of the waste nuisance on Howe street; of the filthy condition of some streets where the children play; of the dangers arising from dirty, evil smelling cellars, attics, store rooms, etc., and of many other phases of the question that are of especial local interest.

At the present time the direct connection between civic uncleanness and disease is argued so strongly by physicians and health authorities that there is no ignoring it. In New York a clean-up crusade was started a few days ago in an effort to check infantile paralysis. Tons of footstuffs were destroyed; ice-cream parlors, slaughter houses, candy factories, etc., were rigidly inspected and hundreds of householders and heads of families were haled into court and fined. Extraordinary conditions called for extraordinary methods and for once the great city was the scene of an attempt to legislate the people into clean and sanitary habits.

Lowell should not have to wait for the impetus of a contagion before striving to remedy the conditions that operate against civic cleanliness and order. Let the street cleaning department make a special effort to keep the streets in condition; let the park department postpone some ideas for improvement and spend money in keeping the parks and commons tidy. Would it not be a good idea to agitate the matter through the summer playgrounds and to impress on the youngsters the value of cleanliness and the many dangers of dirt? A speaker at the graduation of the local Normal school related how organized bands of school pupils keep a large section of Brooklyn spick and span, and here, too, auxiliary bands of youngsters in all sections might do good in supplementing the efforts of the city. From time to time the fire department has tours of inspection so that the dangers of fire may be minimized. Could not this top be availed of to impress on careless persons their positive obligation to keep their premises so that they will not be spreaders of disease over the neighborhood?

It is time for a full co-operative effort between the board of trade, the municipal authorities, the various organized bodies and the citizens generally to make Lowell a sister to Spotless town. Now for an effort all together!

THE SHARK HORRORS

On Wednesday a score or more were killed by accident. Some were run over by autos or by trains; some were drowned; a few died by fire or the collapse of walls—and so on. In this country of so many people and so great a percentage of accidents most of these accidents produce little impression. It takes the unusual to arouse the people and to send a thrill of horror through society. This has been done several times of late by announcements that sharks have devoured or mutilated swimmers off the New Jersey shore.

There is grim proof that the man-eating shark is an unwelcome visitor to eastern waters as the recent fatalities to six swimmers have attested. Whether due to changes in the food supply, to the temperature of the sea or to some phenomena not yet explained, the terrible creatures that have heretofore kept south of Cape Hatteras are in the waters of some of our most popular bathing places. They constitute a terrible menace, their presence being made known only after they have inflicted fatal injury on some unfortunate victim. A sudden commotion in the water, the flash of a grey blue side, possibly the sight of rows of gleaming teeth, and the deed is done. The Jersey beaches have been thrown into a frenzy of excitement, and armed patrols have been availed of, but hitherto without results. When it comes to a fight between the shark and the swimmer, the odds are all with the shark.

Popular hysteria is frequently started from slight results and it is highly probable that the shark menace will send foolish tremors through swimmers at nearby beaches. There is little danger, however, that the monsters will come further north than the Jersey coast where they have not appeared heretofore. The danger is a temporary one and surely some way will be found to surmount it. The wealthy interests of the beaches where the sears were born will either screen the bathing places or else establish a guard that will remove the possibility of danger. Yet, people at all beaches will breathe easier when it is definitely announced that the sharks which have made such a mysterious appearance have just as mysteriously disappeared.

A PROGRESSIVE REVOLT

Signs are not wanting that the growing indignation among progressives at the way in which they have been handed over body and bones by their leader will soon take shape. A conference of representative progressives from all parts of the country will soon be held in Chicago, and it is extremely likely that the sincere element of the party will organize a revolt against the attempt of Theodore Roosevelt to line them up like a lot of automatons for Candidate Hughes. Their feeling of resentment is fostered by the attitude of the republican papers which studiously refuse to see the displeasure in the ranks of the erstwhile progressives. As a sample of the tone against which the progressives complain is the following from an editorial in yesterday's Boston Herald: "The progressive has always been a personal party. It has rejoiced to follow a chosen leader—one of the eminent men of his time—and that leader has made his position clear."

If this is not adding insult to injury, what else can it be called? It brazenly asserts in effect that the progressive party was the personal property of Theodore Roosevelt, who has done what he chose with it. He may soon discover his mistake, and the Herald along with him. Bainbridge Colby of New York is one of the prominent progressives who will not vote for Mr. Hughes and he has given out data considering what he calls "the wide-spread and bitter revolt within the party." He says that he has received letters from all over the country protesting against the "Perkins-Filinn program," and he gave out for publication a letter from John M. Parker of Louisiana, progressive party nominee for vice-president, who writes: "An enormous number of votes will never submit to such treatment." Evidently all is not well with the Roosevelt machine and a great many of Roosevelt's followers resent the insinuation that when Teddy takes snuff they must all sneeze. The revolt is a strong probability and the progressives are also considering another convention that shall shape the present nation-wide indignation into prompt action to show Roosevelt and Hughes that the principles of some men are not common political property.

AUTO THIEVES

The auto thief still plies his trade without any special danger of detection and without having to pay a heavy penalty in case he is caught with the goods. If he gets away for a few days he generally changes over the machine so that its owner cannot recognize it, and he uses the stolen car to good advantage in getting out of sight and sound of the law. The insurance companies know only too well how common auto thefts are becoming.

coming owing to the large number of claims they are called upon to settle. The auto thief is not very careful, not having paid much for the property, and as a result many stolen cars are found at the bottom of an embankment or wound around a tree. The insurance companies say that the courts are too lenient with the fellows who steal cars. If they had stolen a diamond necklace of the same value it would be regarded as a heavy crime, but the auto thief generally tells a story that moves the judge to mercy. When judges get riding round and taking chances like the average owner, we may see a change in the attitude of the courts towards the modern highwayman.

BACTERIA AND BULLETS

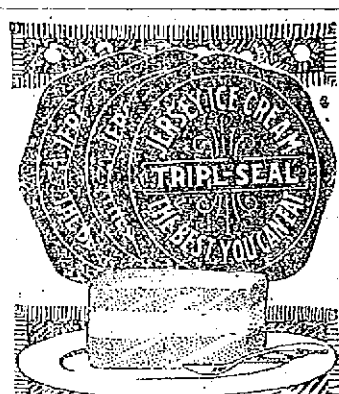

Professor Rosenau of Harvard who is in favor of the pasteurization of milk recently declared: "Bacteria have killed more people in the world's history than bullets. Most wars are preventable—so also are most diseases." As applied to diseases in general the pointed phrases are true, but it is certain that the pasteurization of milk is desirable. There are those who say that under this system the public would take more risks than now. Milk that has been so treated is not necessarily clean milk and as it does not get sour there is danger that old milk would be palmed off by the larger dealers who sell in enormous quantities. Pasteurization would do some good—but there is such a thing as overdoing the scientific, and if we could be sure of milk as good as the cow gives it there would be little cause to worry. There is too great a tendency now to call for standards that farmers cannot attain with profit and just as soon as we have the pasteur treatment there will be a cry for something else.

So Sensitive!

Every seat in the trolley was occupied, when a group of women got in. Going through the car to collect fares, the conductor noticed a man who, he thought, was asleep. "Wake up!" shouted the conductor. "I wasn't asleep," said the passenger. "Not asleep?" snapped the conductor. "Then what did you have your eyes closed for?" "It was because of the crowded condition of the car," explained the passenger.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A SIMPLE, SAFE, RELIABLE WAY People who are over-weighted with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.

If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure. There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation diet or thrashing exercise, here is a test worth trying. Spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from A. W. Dows & Co., or any good druggist a box of oil of korelin capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. Weigh yourself once a week so as to know just how fast you are losing weight and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal weight. Oil of korelin is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, and helps digestion. Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show noticeable reduction in weight. Footstuffs become lighter, your work seems easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of you while being. Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial.

Blessings in Disguise

Alleging that he was deprived of the ability to chew tobacco by injuries he suffered when a wagon on which he was riding and a street car came into collision, Robert Bowman, a teamster, is suing the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company for $5000 damages.

Bowman was driving a load of sand. He was thrown off to the pavement and his lower jaw dislocated. His complaint says he had used tobacco for years, and since the accident had been "deprived of the pleasure and enjoyment" he formerly had.

He Got His $5

Little Tommy had a very pretty sister. Pretty sister had a very devoted admirer. One evening when the devoted admirer was sitting in the parlor waiting for sister to appear, he was approached by little Tommy.

"Say, Mr. Smith," rather pointedly queried the youngster, "do you love Sister Jenny?"

"Why, Tommy?" was the amazed response of the blushing Mr. Smith. "Why do you ask me a question like that?"

"Because," was the quick rejoinder of the youngster, "she said last night that she would give $5 to know, and I need the money."

The Fickle Age

When I'm far away from you, When I'm by the pebbled shore, Where the skies are copal blue, Will you love me, and how much, When I'm where the sea-winds blow, Where the sky and ocean touch?

Will you love me, Eleanor, When I walk the shining sands, When I walk the lonely shore, With head bowed and clasping hands, And I hear the sea-birds' cries, Far out from the world of men, Will the old love live in your eyes, For me, I am asking, then?

Will you wish that you were there, Far on the shining sand, With the sea-wind in your hair, With your hand held in my hand? With me looking out to sea, Marking every changing hue, Glad to be out there with me, Glad to have me there with you?

"That is what I crave to know. Have you not a word to say? Will your heart be charged with woe For me when I am away? Tell me while I watch the glow Of your eyes, your locks of gold—Swear it to me! Girls are so Fickle when they're three years old!" —Judd M. Lewis in the Houston Post.

Pointer for Wives

The Iowa supreme court has handed down several Solomonian decisions. In one ruling the court held that confession of a crime on the part of a husband does not constitute grounds for divorce proceedings.

"It becomes," wife, said the court, "to prefer criminal charges against her husband. She took him for better or for worse, and she should try to redeem him."

In the same decision the court de-

EARLY MORNING FATIGUE

When you awaken the morning feeling tired out, feeling worse in fact than when you went to bed, you are confronted with one of the characteristic symptoms of neurasthenia. It is due to the run-down condition of the nerves that rest does not bring renewed strength and sleep refresh the tired brain. Overwork and worry are the most frequent causes of this condition. Neurasthenia is the name given to this common form of nervous debility in which the power to recuperate is gone.

The blood can be built up so that it will increase the supply of needed elements to the wasted nerves and this is the only way that the nerves can be reached. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic that especially builds up the blood, because they supply to the blood the elements that the nerves need. Many nervous disorders, sometimes chronic ones, have yielded to this tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when other methods failed to give relief. They are certainly worth a trial.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by druggists everywhere or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for free book on the nerves.

of Spanish ring in Mexico, and some of them contain large amounts of precious metals which give a tone of richness and vibrating purity of sound. In isolated parts of the country where there are no watches and but few clocks, the bells which are rung to call the people to prayers are also the time keepers, and while the service of the bell ringer in the remote districts is gratis, it is performed with regularity and precision.

Mosquitoes on Snow Banks

In both the Rocky Mountains and Alaska the geological survey have as part of their regular equipment mosquito nets for their heads. Even when working in deep snow, head-nets and gauze nets are necessary to protect the field men from the blood thirstiness of the pests, says the Popular Science Monthly. The mosquito does not vanish with increasing altitude. At 11,000 feet, or timber line, he is as prolific as at sea level, and smoke, no matter how dense and pungent it may be, will not eradicate him. The only sure relief lies in the net. In some sections of Colorado the mountain natives let mosquitoes bite them until their systems become thoroughly inoculated with their poison. After this they are bothered no more. The first advice given to the "tenderfoot" by the old-timer is, "let 'em bite; they won't keep it up long."

BELLS OF MEXICO

The Bell Ringer is a Great Man in His Community

During the long marches when the American troops first went into Mexico in pursuit of Villa, when their ears were keyed to the finest distinction between sounds, they were puzzled by the constant ringing or the reverberation of the tinkling sound of bells which seemed to come at all hours of the day and night and from every direction. The soldiers at first were puzzled by the sound, but as they were sometimes in waves faintly as from a great distance, and again with a swell and volume that was seeming to burst out of the atmosphere immediately above them. Then it would creep upon their ears like a haunting, despairing wail of a lost soul, giving a feeling of contact with the supernatural. The soldiers doing picket duty at night were unmoved and obsessed with a creepy, ghastly feeling, as if confronted with an unnatural foe with whom steel and lead would not cope, and with whom they would not have a fair chance. Suddenly there would burst over them a joyous sound, a tone of gladness, full of animation and life.

Until they understood the wonderful acoustic properties and climatic conditions of the country through which they were passing, it was almost puzzling. But when they penetrated farther into Mexico they discovered that every ranch and hacienda through which they passed, every little hamlet of a dozen houses, the wretched shacks in the most inaccessible parts of the country, all had from one or two bells, and that these bells in chapels and churches were rung every half hour and those at the shrines by whomsoever passed that way.

In remote places on some of the great haciendas which include thousands of acres of land there are some of the most beautiful churches in Mexico, pure types of Spanish or Moorish architecture, with beautiful marble altars and exquisite silver lamps, altar railings of fine wood and bits of freestone that are works of art, which time has not tarnished. Many of these larger churches have been looted by the revolutionary armies, but the bells have remained. Many of these bells were brought from Spain in the days

Edward Higgins, consul at Stuttgart, against which complaint has been made by the German press bureau because of alleged pro-English sentiment, is transferred to Bahia, Brazil. George N. Litt, at St. Gall, Switzerland, succeeded Mr. Higgins. Three other consuls in Germany and three in Austria were assigned to new posts.

DEMAND FOR MUNITIONS

Holidays Abandoned to Supply Armies—"Victory Flowing Our Way", Says Lloyd George

LONDON, July 14.—David Lloyd George, British minister of war, presiding today at an allied conference on equipment, declared that the combined offensive of the allies had wrenched the initiative from the German, never, he trusted, to return.

"We have crossed the watershed," he said, "and now victory is beginning to flow in our direction. This change is due to the improvement in our equipment."

Premier Asquith, speaking in the house of commons, said the allied offensive on the western front is only in its beginning and asked the munition workers to make it plain to Great Britain's foes that the British attack, in its present intensity of bombardment and assault, will, if necessary, be continued indefinitely.

The munition conference, over which Mr. Lloyd George presided, was held at the war office and was participated in by Albert Thomas, French minister of munitions; Gen. Bellhoff, assistant minister of war of Russia; Gen. A. Bell Olio, member of the Italian ministry of war, and the new British minister of munitions, Edwin S. Montague.

White Complexion of War Changed

"Since our last munition conference," said Lloyd George, "there has been a considerable change in the complexion of the war. On that date the great Champagne offensive in the west had just failed to attain its objectives and the French and British armies had sustained heavy losses without the achievement of any particular success."

"In the east the enemy had pressed the gallant armies of Russia back some hundred miles, and the Balkans had just been overrun by the Central powers."

"The overwhelming victories won by the valiant soldiers of Russia have struck terror into the hearts of the Central powers, and those coupled with the immortal defense of Verdun by our indomitable French comrades, and the brave resistance of the Italians against overwhelming odds in the Southern Alps, have changed the whole complexion of the landscape."

"Why have our prospects improved?" The answer is, the equipment of our armies has improved enormously and is continuing to improve.

Immense Artillery Supply

"The British army until recently has absorbed more than half of the metal works of this country. The task of building ships and repairing the old ones for the gigantic navy and fitting and equipping them occupies the energies of 1,000,000 men."

"Most of our new factories are now complete, most of the machinery has been set up. Hundreds of thousands of men and women, hitherto unaccustomed to metal and chemical work, have been trained for munitions making."

"Every month we are turning out hundreds of guns and howitzers, light medium and heavy. Our heavy guns are rolling in at a great rate and we are turning out nearly twice as much ammunition in a single week—and, what is more, nearly three times as much heavy shell—as we fired in the great offensive in September, although the ammunition we expended in that battle was the result of many weary weeks accumulation."

Increasing With Great Rapidity

"The new factories and workshops we have set up have not yet attained one-third their full capacity, but their output is now increasing with great rapidity. Our main difficulties in the organization, construction, equipment, labor supply and readjustment have been solved."

"If officials, employers and workmen keep at it with the same zeal and assiduity as they have hitherto employed, our supplies soon will be overwhelming."

"I cannot help thinking that the improvement in the Russian ammunition has been one of the greatest and most unpleasant surprises the enemy has sustained. Still, our task is but half accomplished. Every great battle furnishes additional proof that this is a war of equipment. More ammunition means more victories and fewer casualties."

Have Made "Brilliant Beginning"

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons that the government had decided to ask workers to forego their August holidays because of the demand for munitions in France. The August bank holidays will be postponed by royal proclamation.

"Since the June and July holidays were put off," he added, "a great and very favorable change in the military situation has been produced by the allied offensive now in progress."

"That offensive," he continued, "is only in its beginning and it necessarily requires for its success a continuous supply of munitions of all kinds. From the success achieved we have been able to gauge the paramount necessity of avoiding even the slightest risk of restriction of the use of munitions in the field, not merely in the weeks immediately before us, but until our objective is achieved. In the opinion of the commander-in-chief there must be no slackening in the output even for a moment."

"I, therefore, appeal to the patriotism of the workers and the public generally to again postpone their holidays in order that the attack, so brilliantly begun, can be carried through to a triumphant conclusion." He said he was sure co-operation would be forthcoming and that the forces in the field would be given encouragement and the enemy discouraged by the present intensity of bombardment and assault will, if necessary, be continued indefinitely."

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

The headquarters of the members of Local 569, Woolen Spinners' union, 32 Middle street, was last night the scene of a merry gathering, the occasion being the first anniversary of the organization. In the early part of the evening a brief business meeting was held and this was followed by a social hour.

President Austin Kennedy presided over the evening's festivities and after delivering a brief address of welcome he gave a history of the organization and the progress it has made during its twelve months of existence. The principal speaker of the evening was President Frank Warnock of the Trades & Labor council, who spoke on "Unionism." Other speakers were John Hanley of the executive board of the Loomknives' union, Frank Mullin, president of the Woolen Weavers' union and others.

A varied entertainment program was given and luncheon and cigars were served. The attendance was large, there being representatives of several textile unions of the city. The success of the evening was due to the efforts of the organization.

DINNER TO STATE DEPUTY

Members of Dorchester Lower Mills Council, K.C., Honor Asst. Dist. Atty., D. J. Gallagher

BOSTON, July 14.—The pride which the members of his own council took in the recent election of Asst. Dist. Atty., Daniel J. Gallagher to the office of state deputy of the Knights of Columbus was evidenced at a dinner tendered him by the members of Dorchester Lower Mills council at the American house last evening.

The affair was informal—a gathering of his friends to voice the satisfaction that his elevation to the highest office within the gift of the membership of order gave them and to extol the qualities that made him worthy of such honor.

In addition to the chief guest, those seated at the head table who spoke in most eulogistic terms of the new state deputy were Mayor James M. Curley, ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, Rev. Francis X. Dolan, D.D., of St. Gregory's church, the council chairman, Rev. John A. Degan of Beverly, Judge William J. Day, state secretary of the order; District Deputy John A. Foley and Grand Knight James P. Gallagher of Newton council, a brother of the state deputy, Grand Knight Thomas F. Murray was toastmaster.

The committee in charge comprised Frank P. Fanning, chairman; David A. Hefferman, secretary; Patrick J. Cushing, treasurer; Daniel F. Cameron, John Canavan, John Crowley, James W. Ego, Michael Hannigan, John G. Murray, Thomas F. Campbell, Martin Conlon, John Dillon, Daniel W. Flynn and Owen McLaughlin.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"Daphne and the Pirate," with pretty Lillian Gish in one of the leading parts, was shown at the B. F. Keith theatre, yesterday afternoon and last night, and it will be repeated twice today and tomorrow. One of the chief charms of Miss Gish, and in many respects the keynote of her screen success, is her natural poise, and this in splendid evidence in the present picture. This is, it might be said, a costume play of another period, and it has the air of romance from beginning to end. In brief the story tells of the career of "Philippe de Morney," a handsome, debonaire young man, adored by women. Bored by his success, and to escape the adulation of his companions, Philippe rushes away from Paris to a shooting-box in the Green forest. The family of Francois La Tour has always held the position of gamekeeper in this forest and they have always been on intimate terms with the de Morneys. The present gamekeeper has a delightful daughter, who has been educated by the Ursulines, and she is home when Philippe goes to the place. The two meet and for once in his life the gay young man feels himself in the presence of sweetness unadorned. His interest is piqued. But serious complications follow this first meeting, complications which mean duels and sensational climaxes galore. Of course the handsome young man and the beautiful girl become happy in their love match, and all ends well.

"The Other Man," with the inimitable Roscoe Arbuckle in one of the principal roles, is slightly different from the usual Keystone picture, although it has the usual tangle and the speedy close. Arbuckle for once in his life plays a role. First thing is the college chap with the high-powered car, who is in love, and secondly he does a splendid reproduction of a Weary Willie. He cleverly changes the scene of the picture. How the tramp is substituted at a masked ball for the other man makes a funny picture. The cast presenting the piece is wholly adequate.

As aforesaid, the Hearst International News Picture is easily the best of the news pictures shown on the screen. This week there are shown the following: Effect of British shells on Bulgarian trenches in Greece; First Massachusetts Field Artillery going to the border; recruiting for Second cavalry in Chicago; latest fashions, etc. In addition to these pictures there are several shorter ones which are bound to be interesting. A George Ade fable in slang is one. It deals with the young college graduate who went abroad, and the woman who came back, after all, and followed his natural bent. The ventilating system of the theatre enables one to keep cool. For the air is drawn in through ducts from the roof and is then whirled into the theatre through many holes in the floor.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Indescribably funny is perhaps the best way to characterize the intensely funny five-act comedy, "The Smugglers," the play in which the celebrated Donald Brian appeared in the role of John Battleby Watts at the Merrimack Square theatre yesterday before interested audiences who readily responded with laughter to the many mirthful situations which are developed to their fullest in this screaming play. There is always something to laugh over in this well acted comedy in which poor Mr. Watts has his ups and downs. This play will also be shown at this theatre today and tomorrow at all the performances.

"La Vie de la Boheme" was a big number also. Much has been written upon the subject of Bohemian life; some true and some otherwise. Witnessing this splendid picture, one gets a true portrayal of the undercurrents of this life. Throughout the play the genius of Miss Alice Brady is ever present and animates every scene. Be sure to see both of these pictures today as well as the other numbers on this same program, which include Burton Holmes Travel pictures which are interesting to all.

OWL THEATRE

"The Labyrinth," which is the next of the Equitable's big features to come to the Owl theatre, being scheduled for presentation today and tomorrow, has for its base the story of a woman who sacrifices herself for a suffering sister, falls into the clutches of a theatrical manager of the worst class, becomes interested in, and marries a mission minister in the slums, and between the two gets into the labyrinth of difficulties from which the way out is shown in a startling, but, effective way. Gall Kane, who is now known as "The Equitable Girl," plays the part of the big-hearted actress sister and later wife of the minister, and that she fulfills all the expectations of the company is enough to stamp her as an actress and screen artist of the very highest rank. The story is told in a series of pictures which include some realistic scenes of stage life.

In addition to this wonderful five-act photo-play, other excellent attractions will also be presented at the Owl today and tomorrow. Do not forget that the sliding roof at the Owl always keeps it cooler inside than out on the street.

CANOBIE LAKE

Canobie lake park has six acts of vaudeville as an attraction for the week, and the show as a whole has everything beaten the proverbial mile as far as vaudeville goes. There are six as big acts as ever graced a stage even in the metropolitan centres of the country, and for a feature positively the biggest sensation that has ever played the western states. It is "The Wonder Kettle" and it is certainly all of that and some. With it you can boil water and cook eggs on ice as well as light a pipe or make ice cream and do it all at the same time, now can you imagine anything like that. We don't think you can, and you would hardly believe it until you see it. Roll a rubber ball along the kettle and it comes off a solid piece of marble in less than a second. These are only a few of the many humorous things it performs as well as the sensational and startling ones. There is plenty on the big bill also to please as far as comedy and goodness goes, for there are the renowned Japs, the Yamas with their novelty work, the riot of mirth, melody and song offered by Leonore Sherwood and Army, as presented by Jimmy Lyons, who is one of the hits of the show, and the gymnasts of the Todd Nards are a well appreciated act. Then for a closing laugh there are the "Two Smokey Mokes," Bailey and Thomas. Sunday the usual band concert will be offered by the Lawrence Brass band, a well arranged program already being arranged. Sunday also should be a great day for the folks hereabout especially those who have loved ones with the troops on the border, for the first authentic pictures of the troops at Framingham before their departure for the border will be shown.

HOUSE COMPLETES WORK STATUS OF DEUTSCHLAND

Passage of Corrupt Practices Bill Peaceful Merchant Craft and Last of Entire Program Suggested by President Wilson Entitled to All Privileges as Such—May Sail Any Time

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Democratic Leader Kitchen reported to President Wilson today that with the passage of the corrupt practices bill the house will have completed the entire legislative program suggested to congress by the president. He asked if any additional legislation was desired and Mr. Wilson replied that he was satisfied with the work done by the house and had no further recommendations.

Mr. Kitchen said a suggestion that the house take three-day adjournments until the senate had caught up with its work had not met with general approval, because it was necessary to stay in session in order that conference reports be received. Therefore, he said, the house would mark time by adjourning from day to day. He estimated that congress should be able to adjourn by Aug. 10.

The legislative program suggested to congress which has been completed by the house included the Philippine and Porto Rican bills, preparedness legislation, the revenue, Mississippi flood control, shipping, rural credits and conservation bills.

While Representative Kitchen was at the White House, Senator Gallinger, the senate minority leader, was announcing on the floor that republicans of that body never contemplated a filibuster against government shipping, revenue or any other legislation pending, and that they would co-operate with the democrats to complete the program and adjourn.

"The legislative program is not in our hands," said Senator Gallinger, "but whatever the majority concludes to lay before use they will find the minority ready with good natured co-operation. The minority is in favor of the child labor, workmen's compensation and immigration bills and hope they may be passed."

"Will you support the vocational educational bill?" asked Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia.

"Yes, that is another good bill," said Senator Gallinger.

"Will you support the constitutional amendment for woman suffrage?" asked Senator Thomas.

"The senator from New Hampshire will support Senator Gallinger. But I cannot speak with authority for my associates regarding that measure."

President Wilson decided today to write a letter to Majority Leader Kern of the senate, urging that special efforts be made to secure the passage of the McClellan compensation bill for government employees injured in the federal service and the pending child labor bill. Both measures already have passed the house.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—An advisory report on the status of the German merchant submarine Deutschland submitted to Acting Secretary Polk today by the government neutrality board is understood to hold that the vessel is a peaceful merchant craft and entitled to all privileges as such.

Indications now are that the state department will make no formal announcement concerning the submarine but that the treasury department will be advised to permit her to clear and sail from Baltimore whenever her captain desires to start on his return voyage.

Mr. Polk received the neutrality board's report just before he went to the White House to attend the cabinet meeting. He indicated that a formal ruling by the department would be necessary only in case the submarine has been found to be a warship, liable to be ordered from American waters.

The neutrality board gave its advice after considering the reports of navy and customs officers, who made a complete examination of the Deutschland and concluded that she not only was unarmed but could not be converted for war purposes without extensive structural changes.

PREPARING FOR DASH

Flying Boat May Be Sent to Capes Before Deutschland Starts Back to Germany

BALTIMORE, Md., July 14.—Silence continues as to the date of departure of the super-submarine Deutschland. The tug Timmins, which met her at the capes and conveyed her to Baltimore, remains fastened at the pier day and night. She is in such close proximity to the shore that it probably would take only ten minutes to get the latter from the mooring into open water.

It was learned that a big hydro-aeroplane, virtually completed, is stored on the pier of the Eastern Pier, where the Deutschland is docked. Persons in touch with the operations of the forwarding company indicated that the flying boat will be sent to the capes for scouting purposes before the submarine makes her dash for the Atlantic.

The manner in which the Deutschland has been cleared of everything except the food and the idea that she would return to Germany heavily laden.

Capt. Konig, the submarine's commander, ridiculed the report from American yesterday that the principal object of the Deutschland's voyage was to convey a consignment of diamonds.

SITS IN WILSON'S CHAIR

One of Deutschland's Crew Takes Commodes at White House—Six Visit Capital

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Six seamen from the German submarine merchantman Deutschland came over from Baltimore yesterday and were entertained at the White House and the navy department. A White House attaché showed them through the east, blue and red rooms, the cabinet room and President Wilson's private office.

One asked permission to sit in the President's chair and he did so while his comrades grinned with appreciation. At the navy department, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt received the visitors and congratulated them in German upon their voyage. They inspected historic naval relics in Secretary Daniels' office, including the flag of the American submarine E-4, which sank with twenty-one men.

AIR FREIGHTERS NEXT

BALTIMORE, July 14.—City officials who visited the German submarine merchantman Deutschland yesterday quoted Capt. Konig as saying that Zeppelin airship freighters are being built in Germany for trans-Atlantic service.

"To you," Capt. Konig was quoted as saying, "the trip of the Deutschland is a great achievement. You mustn't be too enthusiastic over it, for a bigger trip is coming. A great Zeppelin airship—or maybe I should say airships—are being built in Germany. In the not distant future one or more of them will sail through the air to the United States. Just as sure as the Deutschland came to America, so will the Zeppelins come."

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, spent an hour aboard the Deutschland today. He inspected the vessel from stem to stern, had the intricate machinery and instruments aboard explained to him, and personally brought his vessel safely through waters infested with hostile war craft.

cautioning fishermen and bathers to use the greatest care in boating or swimming.

Records of the bureau show that until this year there have been no sharks in the waters where during the last few weeks they have claimed several victims. Bureau officials believe a lack of food may have brought them to the middle Atlantic coast in great numbers.

NO SHARKS NORTH OF LONG ISLAND

BOSTON, July 14.—The Boston Fish bureau and old fishermen of Massachusetts have no knowledge of man-eating sharks in these waters, they said yesterday.

Sharks have been brought into Boston, but they have been mackerel sharks or bluefishes, and not of the variety now terrorizing the Jersey coast. According to men along the waterfront, who pick up the carcasses of sharks that come into port, man-eating sharks do not come north of Long Island. The other varieties are seldom seen within 100 miles of the shore.

SHARKS MORE NUMEROUS

JACKSONVILLE, July 14.—Sharks are more numerous along the South Atlantic coast this year than ever before within the memory of fishermen and boatmen. Large schools which have appeared in unusual numbers in rivers and harbors during the last few days are believed to have come in seeking refuge.

A manatee 14 feet long and weighing 2000 pounds was caught in the St. John's river today. Yesterday a group weighing 600 pounds was hit by a boatman and later was picked up by a fisherman.

Sharks recently drove 12 small whales ashore at Pablo beach, 13 miles from Jacksonville. Great schools of sharks, believed to have been carried southward by the recent tropical storm, have been sighted in the Gulf of Mexico.

EASY TO CAPTURE

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The federal bureau of fisheries is at a loss to explain the presence of sharks in the Atlantic waters, but the experts are busy considering what the bureau can do about it. Inquiries have been poured in to the bureau and its opinion of the recent incidents is best summarized in the following, which Commissioner Smith sent yesterday to Representative Bacharach of New Jersey.

"While it is true that occasional human beings have been attacked by sharks in tropical waters, the number of such instances in temperate waters, of which these are apparently the first authentic ones on our coast, are so exceedingly rare that bathers need have little fear."

"Dr. Frederick A. Lucas, director of the American Museum of Natural History, has stated that the danger of being attacked by sharks in the waters near New York is infinitely less than that of being struck by lightning."

"None of our common sharks have been known to attack a human being. Although stragglers of dangerous tropical species, the white shark and blue shark have been taken in our waters. In practically every instance they were immature, not adult, fish."

"In the present instances we have cases in which human beings have been attacked, presumably by a shark. We may either believe it to be a solitary individual that has wandered a short distance from his normal haunts, or possibly a small number of sharks driven by scarcity of food to adopt unusual measures. In either case it should not be difficult to remedy this condition, for hungry sharks promptly fall an easy prey to a baited hook."

"As a precautionary measure it is suggested that if the authorities at the various resorts of your coast will attach a heavy line and baited shark hook buoyed to within two or three feet of the surface of the water to a pile or anchored buoy some 400 or 500 yards from the life-lines at intervals of about one-quarter of a mile parallel

SWEPT BY HURRICANE

ONE LIFE LOST, SHIPPING TIED UP AND WIRE COMMUNICATION INTERRUPTED

ATLANTA, Ga., July 14.—The hurricane which swept the South Carolina and Georgia coasts last night, costing one life and tying up shipping, increased in intensity at Charleston early today, and shortly thereafter all communication with the Carolina city was interrupted. Last reports said the gale which raged there at 61 miles an hour was increasing and that the barometer was falling. Savannah reported the worst of the storm had passed.

Summer Resort Inundated

Waves broke over the sea wall at Charleston during the night and washed against buildings along the water front, while a number of barges and small vessels were torn from their moorings. No deaths were reported there. A fisherman was driven out to sea and drowned near Savannah.

Ytbee Island, a summer resort below Savannah was partly inundated. The passenger liner Lenape, which arrived at Charleston yesterday from New York, remained there rather than try to proceed to Jacksonville. The liner Somerset was tied up at Savannah. No serious damage had been reported from along the coast early today.

A lineman reporting to the local telephone office said the wind still was high in Charleston this morning but its velocity was decreasing. He said no street cars were running, there were no lights and telephone service was disabled. Before he could be questioned as to casualties or other loss the wire was lost.

The hurricane has passed to the north of Charleston, according to later reports here, wrecking telephone and telegraph lines and doing considerable property damage. Savannah suffered no serious damage.

Charles M. Strong, local weather observer, received a telephone message from Observer Garrison at Charleston this morning. He reported no great damage to property and only one death.

TWO MEN KILLED

SUMMERVILLE, S. C., July 14.—Two men are reported killed and extensive damage done in Charleston by the storm. Meagre despatches said the wind still was high and that the water front had been inundated.

HURRICANE ABATED

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 14.—The hurricane which struck Charleston last night, abated today. One life was reported killed. Damage to shipping and the water front was not great and the balance of the city did not suffer severely.

HIS HAND INJURED

Avila Sawyer, the well known contractor residing in White street, suffered a very painful accident this morning while removing boulders in White street. Mr. Sawyer was placing an iron chain around a large boulder, which was to be drawn by a horse. The animal started too soon with the result that the middle finger of the left hand was caught between the chain and boulder and was crushed so badly that amputation will be necessary. Despite the pain he was entering Mr. Sawyer, cracked his automobile and started on his way home, but he did not finish his trip. Later he was removed to the Lowell hospital, where he received treatment.

CALLED OUT AT MIDNIGHT

MEMBERS OF EIGHTH REGIMENT OF MASSACHUSETTS REPORT TO NIGHT DRILL—QUICK WORK

EL PASO, Tex., July 14.—Determined to be fully ready for a night attack, and to guard against such confusion as is said to have reigned among the American troops when the Villa raid was made on Columbus, the commanding officers of the Eighth and Ninth regiments have begun a series of late night false alarms. The first of these took place just before 11 o'clock Wednesday night, when Col. Graves of the Eighth regiment routed his men from their sleep and had them prepare to resist an enemy quickly and noiselessly as possible.

It took just seven minutes from the time the signal was given to the time that a little line was formed by two of the companies, and the men of the other companies, as per directions, stood ready to participate in the supposed action.

AT THE Y.M.C.A. CAMP

THUNDER STORM IN THE AFTERNOON INTERFERED WITH THE AMUSEMENT PROGRAMS

Yesterday's rain to a very great extent marred the pleasure of the outings held by the various Lowell stores yesterday. Just at the time when the real enjoyment of the day was getting well under way, a thunderstorm broke over the beaches, upsetting all the arrangements for the afternoon's enjoyment of the parties had to be abandoned except so far as they could be carried out under the various shelters along the beaches. The A. G. Pollard company's employees in spite of the weather had a very enjoyable day at Nahant while the Chalfoux store people at Nantasket refused to be downcast by such a trifle as the rain of the afternoon. They devised good substitutes for the sporting events that had to be dropped on account of the weather. They proved a very fully gathering and many a merryment had full swing throughout the day.

The Bon Marche party was delayed a full hour at Rowe's wharf, Boston, because of a stop and change of cars at Melrose, something which nobody seemed to understand. But it caused the party to lose a full hour, which was spent in the sweltering heat at Rowe's wharf. They arrived there just in time to see the Nantasket boat pull out at quarter past 10 o'clock. Arriving at the beach at 12 o'clock, the party immediately went to the Palm Garden, where an appetizing shore dinner was served. After dinner the party started out on pleasure bent, on boating, bathing, fishing, dancing and all the other attractions which were enjoyed until the rain came down. The clouds lifted before taking the boat at 4:15 and the sail was delightful. The party on the boat and afterwards on the cars kept up their hilarity, each car having a number of vocalists who led in songs and choruses.

The two carloads from Saunders' market had a fine time at Revere. They utilized all the facilities for amusement along the beach, but on account of the rain they did not spend much time in the water.

CROWDED BEACH NEAR NEW YORK; MAN EATING SHARK

Beach resorts near New York were thoroughly alarmed by the recent attacks of sharks on bathers, resulting in four deaths and one maiming, and feared the killing of the season unless the sharks were captured speedily. Hundreds of men, with rifles, spears, dynamite and nets, searched New Jersey waters for the man eating shark that in its third attack since July 2 killed two men and two boys and maimed another boy. The scare that has gone the rounds of many New Jersey resorts since the first shark raid on bathers has not reached Coney Island and other places near New York, but bathhouse keepers said they would take precautions against a visit from sharks, although they do not believe there is any danger. Life guards will be stationed beyond the life lines to watch for possible approach, and if necessary the men will be armed. Fishermen will be stationed on piers with baited shark hooks. Men familiar with the habits of fish are frankly puzzled over the shark raids. Assuming that one man eater is responsible, it must have a long beat. It has been seen at Spring Lake, N. J., and at Bridgehampton, N. Y. If it is the same shark that went to Mattawan it must have skirted all of the lower bay of New York and at some time within the last few days passed Coney Island and the Rockaways. Pictures show a crowded bathing beach near New York and a man eating shark.

WALTER E. GUYETTE, Auctioneer

Office, 53 Central St., Lowell, Mass. Tel. 2415

Tomorrow, July 15th, 1916, at 3 P. M.

Absolute Sale at Public Auction of a Two-Story House, Men House and About 4000 Square Feet of Land, More or Less, at Number 508 Pleasant Street, Draught Centre.

I have been instructed to offer at absolute public auction sale, this two-story house and about 4000 feet of land, situated within two minutes' walk of the Hovey Square electric car line, and about five minutes of the Bridge street and Draught Centre line.

The property comprises a two-story house of eight rooms, besides bathroom and pantry, cemented cellar, gas, town water, etc.; buildings in very good repair. The lot has an area of about 4000 feet, with a frontage on Pleasant street of about 40 feet; there is ample room for a garden, besides space for keeping of cows. There is also a hen house on the lot.

The location is splendid, the neighbors mostly owning their own homes, thereby keeping the locality a quiet and reserved district. It is handy to the centre of Lowell, also close to schools, churches, stores, etc., and is almost within a stone's throw of the electric, and above all, enjoys transfer privileges to and from the city or all lines, Draught Centre being the only suburb of the city to have such transfer accommodations.

This sale presents an excellent opportunity for any one to buy a home in a beautiful residential town, just over the city line, where one receives almost all the city privileges, and yet be located in a village well situated. If you have had in mind buying a home, and have thought anything of going just outside the city limits, "Here's your chance."

Terms: $250 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off.

W. E. GUYETTE in Charge.

Tomorrow, July 15th, 1916, at 4 P. M.

POSITIVE SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION OF AN ATTRACTIVE COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 2000 SQUARE FEET OF LAND, AT NUMBER 13 FARMLAND ROAD, CENTRALVILLE.

I will offer for sale at public competition on the premises, this cottage house containing five rooms and bathroom, sewer, city water, gas, etc. The lot has an area of about 2000 square feet of land and is situated within one minute's walk of the Lakeview avenue line of electric cars.

The property is located within easy walking distance of many of Lowell's largest manufacturing plants, and should be especially attractive to any one working in any of the nearby mills or factories, as it enables one to go home to his dinner. It is a splendid little home, is supplied with a bathroom, has gas, a good yard, and is in very good condition, and the sale of such a parcel should draw the attention of, and interest, any one with a small amount of money to pay down, who is desirous of owning his own home and who wishes to be in a first-class neighborhood.

Terms: $150 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off.

W. E. GUYETTE in Charge.

STORM BREAKS HOT WAVE

THREE MORE DEATHS IN GREATER BOSTON DUE TO THE HEAT—MAN KILLED BY LIGHTNING

BOSTON, July 14.—Three deaths and many prostrations were reported in greater Boston yesterday due to the third day of excessive heat.

One man was killed by lightning in New Bedford during a severe storm. Another death, indirectly caused by an early morning thunder storm off Hull, was also reported.

The drive of Old Sol and Gen. Hummity upon Boston is ended, temporarily at least. Under a shower of cold rain from the artillery of Old Jove, Phylloxera yesterday afternoon, the heat battalions were dispersed and relief came at last.

Following a night of unusual severity, due to the absence of even the slightest breeze in which the thousands sleeping outdoors were as uncomfortable as their brethren in more conventional surroundings, the morning dawned with threatening portent, the temperature at 7 o'clock reaching the 90 mark, one degree higher for that hour than the day previous.

The rise of the mercury was then handicapped for several hours by a slightly overcast sky, but with the sun again unobscured, at 11 o'clock, and the degree below the 90 mark, it promised to be a record-breaker. A slight shower which promised much, but petered out, brought the thermometer down to 86 at noon.

The relief was only temporary, however, for Old Sol again got busy and at 1 o'clock, 90 degrees was reached. A half-hour later the advance guard of the storm which had played such havoc in New York and Connecticut during the morning made its appearance in a low-lying bank of clouds and the temperature dropped four degrees in half an hour.

At about 3 o'clock a rain which started in as a slight shower developed into a torrential downpour for a few minutes and then continued with a steadiness that indicated the certain breaking of the heat wave.

While the storm was of only ordinary severity in the city proper, only 13 of an inch of rain falling, many of the outlying districts suffered heavily from the miniature cloudbursts and the effects of lightning. Dorchester in particular received its full force, one bolt striking a pair of horses from a hay wagon, while another struck a flagpole on a house, and passed clear through to the cellar, knocking down a servant girl in the kitchen on its way. Several street car fuses were blown out.

In Brighton a wooden house was struck by lightning and set afire, but the blaze was promptly put out by the neighbors.

In Hyde park the lightning struck a "movie" theatre and the audience had to be turned out in the rain.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—President Wilson plans to spend the week-end on board the naval yacht Mayflower down the Potomac river and Chesapeake bay. Accompanied by Mrs. Wilson he will leave late today to cruise until Sunday night or Monday morning.

KILLED IN FRIENDLY BOUT

CONCORD, N. H., July 14.—John Grant, a private in the militia camp here, was killed last night while engaged in a friendly boxing match with another private named Dossie.

During an exchange of blows Grant was hit in the stomach and collapsed. When companions started to assist him to his feet they found that he was dead. The medical referee decided that death was due to the shock of the blow. An autopsy will probably be held. Both men came from the town of Berlin.

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND

Floating on Merrimack Near Stackpole St.—Young Woman Long Time in Water

The body of an unknown woman was found floating in the Merrimack river near its junction with the Concord river in the rear of the Barry Shoe Co. at the foot of Stackpole street, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons were notified and they removed the body to their funeral parlors in Market street.

The body is that of a woman about 20 years old, weighing about 110 pounds, and measuring about 5 feet 2 inches. The body was scantily attired in undergarments and had been in the water for a long time, for the features are almost unrecognizable. The young woman was of dark complexion and had dark hair. There is nothing on the body to aid in the identification.

BASCOM BLOCK IS SOLD

Another large real estate transaction was completed in this city yesterday, when the Bascom block located in Merrimack street opposite Kirk street, was sold to James A. Grant, a clerk at the Lowell Five Cents Savings bank. The sale was made through the office of Walter E. Guyette, but the purchase price was not made public. The deeds were recorded at the registry of deeds' office late yesterday afternoon.

CHALIFOUX'S

A LITTLE AHEAD
Lord Nelson, that great English admiral, had the personal trait of always being a little ahead in everything he did. If he had an engagement at a specified time he would always be there before that time. He once said that he owed his success in life to this trait. Chalifoux's also, are always a little ahead in all their undertakings. They are ahead not only in their choice of men's and women's styles, but also in their methods of doing business. As this trait helped Nelson, so it has also helped us.
Written by Paul F. Farrington of the High School Commercial Department.

It was reported sometime ago that the Bascom block had been sold to a certain party who would soon open a large store in the building, but this was proved incorrect and denied by The Sun.

The Bascom block is a large brick building on Merrimack street, with stores on the street floor and rooms and offices on the other three floors. The land area is 2500 square feet, assessed at $14 a square foot, while the total assessed valuation of the property is $62,500. It was owned by Edward C. Bascom of Weymouth, Mass., and Mrs. Flora Bascom Masse of Paris, France. It is believed that the building will be remodeled, although the purchaser when seen by a Sun reporter this afternoon would not state what his future plans are.

ORDER IN MEXICO

Gen. Trevino and All Members of Carranza Government United

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mex., July 14.—A declaration that he and all other members of the Carranza government are mutually united with the firm determination of establishing order in Mexico, was made today by Gen. Jacinto Trevino, military commander of the northeast, in a statement given to The Associated Press.

BRITISH RENEW GREAT OFFENSIVE IN FRANCE

British Break Into German Second Line in Somme Region and Capture Important Positions—Fierce Battles on Both Sides of Somme, Says Berlin—German Activity North of Aisne—Russian Successes in Turkish Armenia—Not a Man or Gun Withdrawn From Verdun by Germans

Renewing their great offensive in northern France at daybreak today the British broke into the German second line in the Somme region along a four mile front.

The offensive was still in full swing when the British official statement was issued shortly before noon in London. The villages of Longueval and Bazentin-le-Grand were unofficially reported captured. The Trones wood captured and ground east of Contalmaison gained.

The force of the drive was exerted apparently chiefly to the northeast in a push toward the British objective of Baupenne along the southern flank of the curving German line in the Montauban region.

Longueval lies one and a half miles northeast of Montauban and is approximately six miles from Baupenne on the main road between that city and Maricourt, while Bazentin-le-Grand lies slightly to the west.

In the Verdun region the Germans have so far not followed up their bombardment for the Fort Souville region by further infantry assaults. Heavy infantry fire in this section is being continued.

German activity was noted north of the Aisne where attempted attacks were stopped by French machine gun fire near Ville-au-Bois and on the Vaucouleurs plateau.

The recent favorable turn of events for the Russians in Turkish Armenia, resulting in their capture of Mamakhatun has been taken advantage of by Grand Duke Nicholas to press the Turks farther westward. The Russians are now operating west of Mamakhatun and also are gaining ground in the Balbut region to the north along the Tchoruk.

Says British Beaten Off
Berlin's account of the renewed British offensive north of the Somme declares that the first British attacks were beaten off. The attacks were resumed and violent fighting was in progress when the last reports were received from the field.

Assaults by the French south of the Somme, in the vicinity of Barleux and Estrées were barren of favorable result for them, the German statement declares, as were their attempts to gain ground in the Verdun sector near Fort Souville.

Germans Gain In East
On the Russian front the battles along the Stokhod are progressing favorably for the Germans, Berlin announces. In Galicia Russian troops which had penetrated Gen. Count von Bothmer's lines were driven out.

Rome announces the blowing-up by the Italians of the summit of Castello, in the Tofana region, all the Austrians who occupied the position being buried in the debris. The scene of this exploit is in the Dolomite zone, along the border to the northeast of the Trentino.

BRITISH FORCES CAPTURE MOST OF VILLAGE OF OVI-LERS.
LONDON, July 14, 5:55 p. m.—Reuter's correspondent at the British front telegraphs that the British forces have captured Bazentin-le-Petit and most of the village of Ovil-lers.

BRITISH PUSH ONWARD—CAPTURE MORE IMPORTANT POINTS
BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE, July 14, 3 p. m., via London, 7 p. m.—The British have now taken both Bazentin-le-Petit and Bazentin-le-Grand, as well as Longueval. The struggle is continuing in the wood beyond Longueval and on the high points of the ridge.

BRITISH RESUME OFFENSIVE AND PENETRATE GERMAN SECOND LINE DEFENSES
LONDON, July 14.—Resuming the offensive north of the Somme the British at daylight this morning attacked the German second line defenses, and according to the report of their commander, Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, succeeded in penetrating them on a front of four miles. Press despatches add that the villages of Bazentin-le-Grand and Longueval, north of Montauban, were captured.

HUNT RESUMED
NEW YORK, July 14.—Shark-hunting suddenly has become a popular sport along the New Jersey coast, in New York bay and along the ocean side of Long Island, as a result of the recent raids by man-eating monsters from southern waters which have killed four persons. Reports of the work out, but the idea is to have the service aid in locating and killing sharks and when possible warn resorts of their proximity.

Secretary Redfield told the cabinet that the bureau of fisheries had been unable to offer any scientific explanation of the unprecedented attacks of sharks on human beings.
A resolution was introduced in the house today by Representative Bacharach of New Jersey, authorizing the department of commerce to co-operate with state authorities in an effort to exterminate the sharks and appropriating $5000 for the purpose.

Tells What Was Promised Last Year and Contradicts Mr. Morse's Statements

Edward I. Hannah, general secretary of the International union of pavers, rammers, etc., takes exception to certain statements accredited Commissioner Morse relative to the present strike of pavers and rammers of the street department. Mr. Hannah says that pavers and rammers in Lowell receive less pay than is paid

In any other city of the United States of which he has any knowledge. He avers that last year he took the matter up with Mr. Morse and that the latter promised to do better this year. Mr. Morse acknowledges that he talked with Mr. Hannah last year; that he did promise an improvement.

NAVAL COLLIER SINKING

The Hector, Carrying Fifty Marines, in Distress Sixty Miles Off Charleston

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 14.—The naval collier Hector, bound for Santo Domingo, carrying 50 marines, is reported sinking about 60 miles off Charleston. The lightship tender Cypruss went out at 10 o'clock this morning to the assistance of the Hector, but was unable to breast the heavy seas and returned.

The tug Vigilant which had been in wireless communication with the Hector reported at 12:30 p. m. that a steamer was standing by, but it was not known whether she had transferred the marines and crew. Wireless communication is difficult.

MORE RIOT WITNESSES

GRAND JURY AT SALEM INVESTIGATING LEYDEN DISTURBANCE AT HAVENHILL

HAVENHILL, July 14.—A group of additional witnesses was summoned yesterday afternoon and last night to appear before the Essex county grand jury at Salem today in the April 3 riot probe, including Dr. Thomas E. Leyden of Somerville, around whom the excitement centered.

When City Marshal Mack returned to this city last evening a list of telephone numbers awaited his call and in each instance they proved to be from witnesses who were seeking to be excused from going to Salem to testify. Each one was informed, however, that failure to appear there in compliance with the summons would result in the issuance of a capias.

Out of the 53 witnesses summoned Wednesday night, only 20 were heard yesterday. The prospects are now for a Saturday session of the grand jury.

City Marshal Mack received a telephone message last evening from Dist. Atty. Cox excusing Mayor Bartlett and other members of the city council from attendance today, although they are to await the marshal's call from Salem in the event of their being needed.

Among the new witnesses summoned yesterday was Albert E. Stickney of 33 Cedar street, a postoffice clerk here and a son of Alderman Albert E. Stickney. Summonses were also served upon Mayor Bartlett and Aldermen Cook, Hoyt, Stickney and Wood. Another witness summoned was Joseph G. Powers of 43 Jackson street, city sealer of weights and measures.

The list of new witnesses also includes George Coddie, J. Stanley Turner, Louis Gerhacuser, Alexander Rolley, Paul Carrigg, Harry Reed, Harold F. Keefe, Roswell Wedgewood, Dana A. Hinkson, Simon J. Linehan, William Risan, Daniel Maguire, Jr., William Graham, Dennis J. Ring and William Salkins.

$10,000 HUBBARDSTON FIRE

General Store and Postoffice at Williamsville Destroyed—Milton Boy Scouts Save Cottage

HUBBARDSTON, July 14.—A building containing the general store of Seth P. H. Hale the Williamsville postoffice, and the waiting room of the Boston & Albany Railroad company at Williamsville, a hamlet in the west part of the town, was burned to the ground. A barn adjoining the building was also consumed. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

The building was owned by S. P. H. Hale and the loss is partly covered by insurance. A stock of postcards and a collection of antiques, consisting of furniture, rare coins and stamps destroyed, were highly valued by the owner, William B. Hale, a son of Mr. Hale.

A cottage house nearby, owned by Benjamin Collins was saved by the prompt action of a company of Boy Scouts from Milton, who are camping at Williamsville.

NICARAGUAN LEADER DEAD

Dr. Adam Cardenas, Active in Politics for 40 Years, Succumbs at San Juan del Sur

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, July 14.—Dr. Adam Cardenas, head of the conservative party and president of Nicaragua from 1882 to 1886, died here yesterday.

Dr. Cardenas played a prominent part in the stormy politics of Nicaragua for 40 years. In 1903 he organized a "revolutionary" expedition against President Zelaya from Costa Rica. He was defeated and fled from the country, but returned after the fall of the so-called "Dictator of Central America." He supported President Estrada and was elected president of the Nicaraguan Congress in 1911.

GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY DESCRIBES BORDER STATES OF THE UNITED STATES AND MEXICO

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Many interesting facts about the border states of the United States and Mexico have been compiled and issued by the National Geographic society today as a war geography bulletin on that section of the continent to which our National Guard has been ordered. The Bulletin gives the following comparative statistics:

"While the whole of America is vitally concerned in the present Mexican situation, the great human drama is being enacted along the 1810 mile boundary line which separates the four American border states of California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, and the five border states and one territory of Mexico—Lower California, Sonora, Chihuahua, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, and Tamaulipas. The area of the American border states is a little more than one-sixth the total area of the United States, including Alaska, while the area of the Mexican border states is more than three-sevenths the total area of that republic, yet the territory embraced in the bounds of the American states is almost twice as extensive as that of the six political divisions of the smaller country.

"The population of the six Mexican states is 1,700,000 compared with 6,800,000 on the American side, the former constituting about one-ninth the total population of Mexico, while the four American states have only about one-fourteenth of the total population of the northern republic.

"It is an odd coincidence that the four American states on the border are, with the exception of Montana and the territory of Alaska, the four largest political divisions in the Union, while three Mexican border states—Chihuahua, Coahuila and Sonora—and the territory of Lower California are, likewise, the largest divisions of that republic.

"All of the American border states were a part of the Mexican nation up to the middle of the last century when Texas seceded from the southern republic and subsequently cast her lot with the United States. Other territory was acquired in the War of 1848.

the boundaries being fixed by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo which followed, and by the Gadsden Purchase. "The Rio Grande forms a natural boundary line of more than 1100 miles separating Texas from the Mexican states of Chihuahua, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, and Tamaulipas, while the arbitrary boundary of nearly 700 miles, zigzagging from El Paso to a point on the Pacific coast about ten miles south of San Diego, separates New Mexico, Arizona and California from Chihuahua, Sonora and Lower California.

"Five great railway arteries, over which has flowed the commerce of the two republics and which are of vital importance in all military operations, cross the border at Brownsville, Laredo, Eagle Pass, and Nogales. The corresponding Mexican towns are Matamoros, Nuevo Laredo, Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, Juarez, and Nogales, the last named being bisected by the boundary line. The main lines of four of these railroads run in a general north and south direction through the states of Sonora, Chihuahua, Coahuila and Nuevo Leon, but the line which crosses the Rio Grande at Brownsville runs west from Matamoros through Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, and Coahuila, turning to the southwest at Torreon and extending through the state of Durango. "The mouth of the Rio Grande, which marks the eastern end of the boundary, is more than 450 miles nearer the equator than the western end of the line."

"POWER OF THE NICKEL"

FIVE CENT PIECE IS WORTH SIX CENTS—WAR RESPONSIBLE FOR RISE IN PRICE OF METAL

"The power of the nickel" has been increased, according to discoveries made this week. The "jimmy" that you handed the conductor this morning was worth six cents, and every other nickel is worth one cent more than its face value.

What is the cause? The European war, of course.

Street car and telephone companies could make fortunes trafficking in nickels taken by their employees.

In this way the Bay State Street Railway company could virtually secure the six-cent fare for which it has been fighting for weeks in extended hearings before the public service commission.

War time prices have been responsible for this rise in the price of the metal.

Among the amazing possibilities connected with this discovery is the fact that the German submarine Deutschland, here in search of a cargo of nickel and rubber, needed by the kaiser's government, could be lured to the water line with five-cent pieces, which could be smelted or refined into nickel and copper, also high in price because of the abnormal war demand.

According to the best figures obtainable last night the cost of refining a pound of nickels would be from four to five cents. When 35 worth of nickels were procured and weighed it was found that they tipped the scales at exactly one pound. If the nickels were smelted, however, the cost would not be much over one cent per pound. The refining process is more expensive, as it removes the copper and antimony. The actual metal contained in the American nickel or five-cent piece at the present market value is worth $0.5522651, or nearly one cent more than the face value of the coin. Of this amount $0.2125755 represents the value of the nickel and $0.3396895 the value of the copper used.

The nickels of the latest coinage weigh 7.16 grains, of which 10.20 grains is nickel and 57.57 grains copper. According to the World Almanac the coinage of nickels to June 30, 1915, was $55,003,337, a total of $42,750,429.33 in value. On the basis of present nickel and copper prices, however, they are worth $51,305,515.22.

There is no law to prevent the melting of nickels or other United States coin, according to Sub-Treasurer Chas. B. Strecker.

"It is often done in this country by American manufacturers," he said. "We have calls on the average of two or three a week for gold pieces. Jewelers who run short of gold come here for gold money, melt the coins and use the metal for manufacturing purposes. A $20 gold piece contains its actual value in 23-carat gold in addition to 56 grains of copper."

Therefore, it appears that there is nothing in the law of the land to prevent German sympathizers from buying up huge quantities of the beleaguered "jimmies" to be reduced to metal in a plant state for shipment in the holds of the "Deutschland" to the fatherland.

ARE TO BE REINSTATED

SEN. O'GORMAN SAYS BOTH'S COLONEL AND LIEUTENANT WILL BE PUT BACK IN REGIMENT

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The fight between military discipline in the army and political persuasion waxed warmer yesterday over the order of Major General Wood mustering Col. Conley and Lieut.-Col. Phelan of the Sixty-ninth New York Infantry out of the federal service on account of physical disability.

After a conference at the White House with the president, Senator O'Gorman said the two officers would be reinstated. Secretary of War Baker indicated that he was not going to act until he had carefully examined Gen. Wood's statement embodying the report of the military surgeon who found the two officers physically disqualified.

It is clear, however, that if there is any technical flaw in the procedure in the case of the two officers, the war department will respond to representations made to the white house from political quarters. It is not yet certain, however, whether Sen. Baker will follow this course if the report from General Wood shows that the ordinary routine military procedure was followed.

There is keen resentment in army circles over the insinuation that General Wood had any interest in the mustering out of the two officers. All that Gen. Wood has done, army officers say, is to endorse the report of the military surgeon.

The army surgeon is practically supreme in his sphere, it is explained. Army officers are not supposed to know about purely medical subjects, and it is ethics in the army for the military surgeon to decide unhampered all cases of physical unfitness.

Reports were current here tonight that Secretary Baker had received information justifying the belief that

Col. Conley would be reinstated, but that Lieut.-Col. Phelan would remain mustered out.

There were indications that Secretary Baker was leaning toward favorable action in the case of Col. Conley.

DEFENDS PNEUMATIC TUBE

Congressman Urges Retention of the Plant Now in Use at the Boston Postoffice

WASHINGTON, July 14.—That the abandonment of the present pneumatic mail tube service and the substitution for it of the motor trucks which Postmaster General Burleson is said to favor, would probably work more hardship to Boston than to any other city, was stated yesterday by Congressman Peter F. Tagus of Boston, who is making a hard fight for the retention of the present service.

"Because of Boston's narrow streets in the business and financial district," the congressman explained, "it now suffers from a traffic congestion which additional motor trucks would render almost impossible to handle. The great advantages of pneumatic tube service are its high speed and the fact that mail can be sent every 10 seconds."

No other means of transportation yet invented can be compared with it. The cost of automobiles on a 10-minute headway compared with pneumatic tubes on a 10-second headway would be prohibitive, aside from their low rate of speed and the street congestion which, particularly in Boston, would result from their use."

TIME'S UP --- Saturday the Sale Ends

An order for a Behr Bros. piano or player-piano, accompanied by the initial payment of FIVE DOLLARS, if placed before the close of business Saturday night, will be filled and delivered immediately upon its arrival. Your money back if you are not satisfied.

SALES may come and sales may go---but we doubt if any piano sale has ever been the success of this. Pianos are things you do not buy every day. You buy one in your life time; maybe two. Pianos represent a considerable investment. You can furnish a whole house very comfortably for the price of a single piano. So, when we tell you that there were days during this sale when we could hardly wait on our customers, you can then appreciate the stupendous "go" to this sale.

It was the plan that did it.

It was co-operation; we co-operating with the manufacturers direct; our customers co-operating in turn with us.

The prices were low; extremely low.

The terms were easy. Any one could meet them.

And the guarantee (which we called our Bond of Confidence) and the half dozen or more unusual conditions of sale made altogether the most liberal proposition upon which any goods were ever sold.

And the public saw this---and simply "flocked" in to take advantage of it.

The sale is closing two weeks earlier than we expected---and even then we have been obliged to provide for more instruments than it was our original intention to sell.

The value of the Behr Bros. piano has been $350 to $400. The sale price is $257. The value of the player-piano has been $600 to $650. The sale price is $397.

Either the piano or player-piano will be delivered upon receipt of the initial payment of $5. If you order the piano, your payments will be $1.50 a week---no more. If you order a player-piano, your payments will be $2.25 per week---no more.

The sale is not closing without everyone having a fair opportunity to take advantage of it. If we had restricted the sale strictly to the number of Behr Bros. instruments originally arranged for---the sale would now be a matter of history.

We decided upon a definite closing day, which is Saturday. Thus any order received for a Behr Bros. piano or a Behr Bros. player-piano up to Saturday at the close of business will be filled.

These orders will be numbered as they are received and filled and delivered in the order received.

Those who can call may select the style they wish from the instruments on our floors which are sold but not delivered.

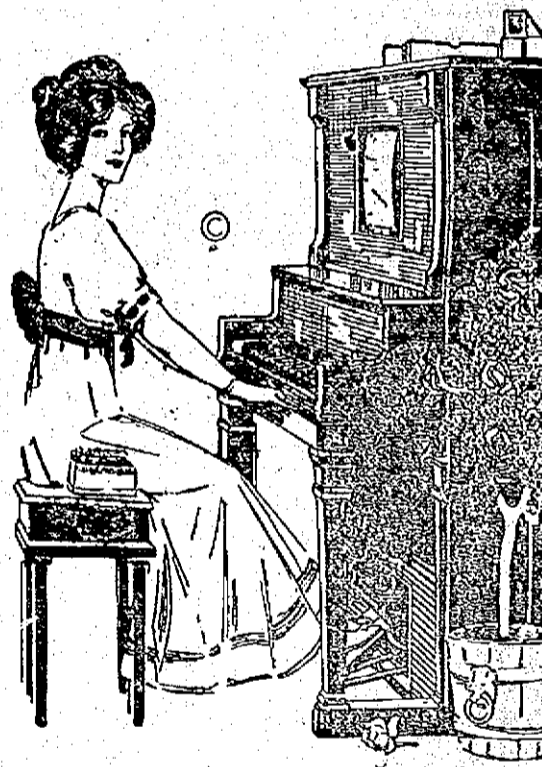

Those who cannot visit our warerooms can order easily and intelligently from our Book of Photographs, showing all styles of Behr Bros. instruments, which we will gladly mail, if request is made immediately.

The initial payment of Five Dollars must accompany all orders whether left at the store or sent in by mail. All orders will be accepted and filled subject to all conditions of sale---even to the delivery of the instrument into your home upon the first payment of Five Dollars and giving you your money back at the end of a 30 days' trial if you wish it.

Also all orders will be held subject to delivery at a time convenient to you.

THE THREE E CHILDREN

Once upon a time Eve, the Three E children's little rabbit, followed Eric, the dog, down the shore. The children had gone to look for crabs and Eric thought it a good time to take a swim. He didn't see Eve hopping along behind him nor did he see her follow him down close to the water. It was very hot and the water was nice and cool, so Eric splashed and swam about until he was nice and cool and ready to come out and go home. He swam ashore and shook the water off from his dripping body and ran to the rocks to lie down and dry.

Eve hopped about on the shore and nibbled at the bugs and ran her soft nose down in the wet sand until she looked almost as big as a bug herself.

Eric was almost asleep when he heard a funny noise and looked up just in time to see a wave come up where Eve was playing and carry her off into the water.

Eve tried to swim but she couldn't and it looked as though the children would lose their pet but Eric jumped up, ran down and swam out until he reached his little friend.

He put out one paw, drew her toward him and then, very carefully, he took hold of her with his mouth and held her up high over his head while he swam toward the shore. When he reached the beach he let her go and she ran up toward the house as fast as her legs would carry her.

The children were just coming home and Ethel ran to get their pet. When she saw how wet it was she called out to the others, saying, "Look, I am sure Eve has been in the water and of course she couldn't swim. How did she ever get out?"

Just then Eric came running along and poked his head into Ethel's hand as much as to say, "If I could talk I could tell you all about it, but you understand, don't you?" And the children did and they took good care that Eve never went down to the beach unless they were near.

too, and would go just so far and not one step more, when the children went to the beach. Once Edna took her in her arms quite near to the water, but Eve turned her head and cuddled closer to Edna, and wouldn't even look at the water. So the children knew Eve had been taught not to go near the water any more.

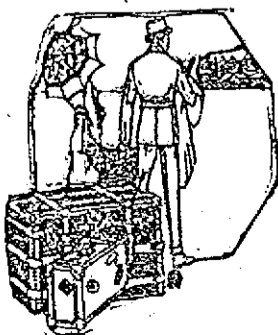

ASK CHANGE IN CLAYTON LAW

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Representatives of several large railroads yesterday appeared before the senate judiciary committee in support of a proposal to postpone to 1918 the effective date of the section of the Clayton anti-trust act prohibiting common carriers from dealing in more than $50,000 worth of securities or supplies with any corporation in one year, where the two organizations have interlocking directors in whole or in part. It was argued that the two years given to reorganize was too short.

POLICE COURT SESSION

MEN FINED FOR SWIMMING IN CANAL—BIG JUVENILE SESSION BEFORE JUDGE ENRIGHT

Owing to the number of cases to be heard in the regular and juvenile sessions of police court this morning, it was necessary for two judges to preside, Judge Enright sitting in the juvenile court and Judge Fisher in the regular court.

Disturbed the Peace

Charles J. Warner and James Moghan were charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace. Patrolman O'Connell and Tansy testified that the men got into a mixture on Central street shortly before 6 o'clock last night and during the battle scores of people were attracted to the scene. Both officers said that the defendants were under the influence of liquor. The court found both guilty and ordered each to pay a fine of $10 for disturbing the peace, the cases of drunkenness being placed on file.

Swimming in the Canal

Joseph Dube and Frank H. Croteau were charged with trespassing on the land of the Locks & Canals Corp. in a mixture on Central street. The testimony of Patrolman Swanwick the two young men were swimming in the canal near the Boat Mills despite the fact that there are several signs posted warning persons not to enter the water. The defendants admitted their guilt and each was ordered to pay a fine of $1.

Neglected His Wife

Thomas F. Gilday, charged with failing to provide proper support for his wife, Ellen, was given a suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction. Thomas M. Cox and Mary J. Powers, charged with drunkenness, were sentenced to the state farm. Joseph G. Weaver, Frederick Cronin, Michael Burke and Peter J. Donohoe were each given a suspended sentence of one month in jail. John C. Cox was given a suspended sentence of two months in jail. James Ryan, John Rhoddy, Arthur Colleton and Catherine Rowbottom were each fined $5.

Juvenile Session

There was a long list of cases in the juvenile session and three delinquents were sentenced to the Lyman school.

One boy after being found guilty of unlawfully removing and injuring a grave stone in the Edison cemetery was committed to the industrial school at Shirley.

In conditions and he maintains that conditions have improved, but that at no time did he intimate or suggest that he would pay the pavers $4 a day when they were performing laborers' work. And this, he declares, is the pavers' grievance. They would be satisfied with $1 a day if it was paid them for all kinds of work.

In diving into the facts, past and present, Mr. Hannah takes at least one blind plunge. He says that in the face of Mr. Morse's statement to the effect that conditions of employment would improve, the commissioner turned into the sinking fund $30,000 over expense for the year 1915, which could have been used and ought to have been used to do the necessary repairs and give more steady employment to the pavers and ramblers of the city of Lowell.

"I did not turn back a cent to the sinking fund or the general treasury either," said Mr. Morse, and if I did it would have been against the law. The money was borrowed for a specific purpose must be expended for that particular purpose. The paving money remaining over from last year is being spent this year, and somebody evidently has directed Mr. Hannah up the road. Mr. Morse's Commissioner Morse, on several occasions, has made the statement that he has lost six weeks on account of the rain and that as a result his street work is six weeks behind. Mr. Hannah says the records of the weather bureau do not bear out Mr. Morse's statement. Mr. Hannah says Mr. Morse is using the statement as an apology to the people of Lowell for his failure to do the work. Mr. Hannah says the paving and repairing work did not start until June and that it should have been started not later than April.

"It is evident," said Mr. Hannah, "that Commissioner Morse does not understand how the various cities contract their work out. When a contractor performs work for any city, there is a clause which prevents the contractor from subcontracting. The pav- ing employed by the contractor is paid from $5.00 to $7.00 a day for eight hours. He has no task to perform in the number of yards laid, only to do a reasonable day's work, the same as the pavers in the city of Lowell are doing, and it is paid this amount as a day's wage, regardless of yardage. The only difference between contractor work and day work is that the city does not in all cases get the best of workmanship, and work done under contract system is more costly to tax payers."

"The city of Lowell has some of the best and finest pavers to be found in the United States, and with a lower cost of yarding than elsewhere. For workmanship and skill, the streets themselves are the best argument. Commissioner Morse's statement would lead one to believe that the pavers and ramblers were receiving good pay in Lowell when in fact they are paid as common laborers. He would put them to work as pavers for three to six hours a day at pavers' wages, then put them for the balance of the day for laborers' wages, sometimes keeping them as laborers for three and four days. With the result that the paver who has no better than the weight of your body resting on your limbs, with the hot sun beating down upon you, the hot sand burning your feet, the danger of disease from the fifth of the street in handling the old stone, the constant strain upon the body, I think you will conclude that $4.50 a day from the first day of April to the first day of December is not too much to ask of the people of Lowell to pay their pavers, when all the other cities are paying $5.00 per day and up for the same class of work. Hiring Pavers Here

It was stated today that men from Boston are endeavoring to hire pavers in Lowell and report has it that Paul Hannagan of Lawrence, who was recently made consulting engineer on street work in Boston, was short of pavers, and hearing of the trouble in Lowell, sent lieutenants here to see if they could hire some of the striking pavers. The report also had it that the pay offered was $5 a day. There are about 24 pavers in Lowell. Asked if he had heard that Boston men were looking for pavers in Lowell, Mr. Morse said: "I haven't heard anything to that effect. Mr. Hannagan told me the other day that he could place at least six of my pavers and I told him he had my permission. Out of town men are in the habit of hiring Lowell pavers and Lowell pavers are at liberty to go where they please. I do not know of anything to stop them."

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

BOY STRUCK DOWN BEFORE SOCIETY GOLFERS—LATER THEN KNEEL AND PRAY

NEW YORK, July 14.—More than a score of society women, including Mrs. Oscar Lewisohn, formerly Edna May, the actress, narrowly escaped death from lightning on the grounds of a golf club at Great Neck, L. I., late yesterday when Felix Jacobus, a caddy, was struck and instantly killed within a few feet of them. As the body of the caddy was carried from the field all the women in the party fell upon their knees and prayed.

The Great Neck tragedy occurred while Mrs. Lewisohn and her party were playing golf. The president of the golf club, who was engaged in an exciting game, they were negotiating for position, when Jacobus, holding the tin, was hit and fell dead in front of them.

Three other persons were killed by lightning, three property damage was caused by a violent thunderstorm, accompanied by a 60-mile gale from the west, which swept this city and vicinity. The temperature dropped 17 degrees in 15 minutes, bringing relief to thousands of persons who had been suffering in intense heat for 48 hours.

Henry Riemann, 21, a molder, was struck by lightning and killed while repairing a pigeon coop on the roof of a building in this city. A laborer seeking shelter in a barn at Elizabeth, N. J., was struck and instantly killed while opening the door. Thousands of commuters and others, it was announced last night, were marooned on trains along the line of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad as far as Bridgeport, Conn. The high voltage wires from which the electric trains are operated were reported down at several points between Stamford and New York, affecting schedules all the way to New Haven.

Half a dozen express trains due to arrive here early in the evening from Boston and other points on the New Haven line were hours behind time.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CASE

JUDGE FISHER FOUND YOUNG DESMOND NOT GUILTY—BASEBALL SUIT RETURNED

In the case of James A. Shanley of the high school vs. William J. Desmond, a graduate who failed to return his baseball uniform on the time fixed by the school, a charge of larceny was preferred it seemed without any foundation. The boy had no intention of holding the suit. An attempt was made to prevent him graduating because he had left the suit at a camp and could not get it before the exercises opened. Another suit was given as proof of good faith. This was taken back through no fault of the defendant and then the school authorities preferred a charge of larceny and brought the case to court. William J. Carroll, Esq. appeared for Desmond and scouted the idea that there was any intention to keep the suit. He asked if every boy who violates one of the rules of the school is brought to police court. The suit was produced in court but Lawyer Carroll insisted upon a decision upon the evidence adduced. Judge Fisher found the boy not guilty and then the baseball uniform was handed over to Mr. Shanley of the high school.

SENATE RESUMES DEBATE

TO EXPEDITE THE CONSIDERATION OF THE NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The senate resumed debate today on the naval appropriation bill with leaders determined to expedite its consideration. It was plain there would be no partisan opposition and an indication that the senate is in sympathy with increases written in by the naval committee was seen in the unopposed adoption of an amendment increasing the navy's enlisted strength to 53,700 men. The present strength is 54,000.

The building program probably will be reached within a few days.

COSTA IN FAMILY ROW

There was a lively row in Central street near the corner of Union street about 10:30 o'clock this morning when John Costa was assaulted by a relative. According to what could be learned by the police and the ambulance driver there was a family quarrel and Costa was beaten about the face and head. The ambulance was summoned and the injured man was taken to St. John's hospital where he received treatment.

ARRESTED SUSPECT LET GO

A young man, who has a police record, was arrested late last night on suspicion of having committed the break in Lyle's jewelry store in Central street but after being questioned the police were satisfied that he knew nothing of the affair. Although he appeared in the dock in police court this morning as a suspicious person he was released from custody.

without a collar, as the mercury was nearly up to the 100 mark. He said he expected to be elected and that no one had any strings on him. He accused the present administration of negligence in carrying out the votes of the last legislature of which he was a member.

Other speakers were Col. Frederick Hale of Portland, candidate for United States senator, Congressman John A. Peters and Chairman Frank J. Ham of the state committee.

Mr. Ham said the democrats were preparing to make a drive in Maine this year that would be unprecedented, and that Hon. William R. Pattingall would be the real democratic campaign manager. In the audience was Warren Hill of Machias, 94 years old, who have been voting the republican ticket since 1816.

A free fish dinner was served at noon.

tauban and the remaining portion of Trones woods were captured.

While it was expected the British would not allow any great length of time to elapse before continuing their operations, it was hardly believed the second German line would be attacked after only one day of artillery preparation; for it was only on the day before yesterday that they completed capture of the first line in the region between Hardecourt and Oviliers. The direction of the attack, too, was something of a surprise, for instead of pushing on towards Comblès, Gen. Halg chose to attack the flank of the Germans who faced Contalmaison and Oviliers and those who still occupy Pozieres. The advance to Longueval and Bazentin-le-Grand if accomplished gives the British possession of other important roads running in various directions, which have been a great help to the Germans in supplying their army directly south of the Ancre river.

Army Well Supplied

News of the British success has given added weight here to the request of the government to workmen to forego the August holidays so that the army may be kept well supplied with munitions. The supplies already on hand must be greater than was generally believed, else Gen. Halg would not have been able to continue his offensive without an intermission.

There was no news this morning of important developments on the remainder of the western front, but at last accounts the French were preparing to resume their offensive south of the Somme while the Germans were still hammering at the defenses of Verdun.

The Russians have made no noticeable advance on any part of their front since they gained the Stokhod river where the struggle continues desperately. The right bank apparently has now been cleared of Germans but it is not known here whether the crossings made by the Russians have given them a firm footing on the left bank.

GERMAN RESISTANCE MUCH WEAKER THAN ON FIRST LINE

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE, July 14, via London.—After their methodical day by day approach to within striking distance of the second line of German defenses, and after having brought up materials and guns, the British were ready for another big attack and at 3.30 o'clock this morning the infantry was sent forward. The assault seems to assure the taking of the villages of Longueval and Bazentin-le-Grand, the retaking of Trones wood and the gaining of ground beyond Contalmaison and the piercing of the second German line at every point of attack.

The Associated Press correspondent, watching the artillery preparation at night, was able to see the British, as dawn came, in possession of a coveted ridge, where German shells were bursting in an effort on the part of the German gunners to prevent the attack from proceeding further.

Accounts received at this early hour indicate the German resistance is much weaker than on the first line. The struggle is continuing in Bazentin-le-Petit woods, where the Germans still hold out and in the woods beyond Longueval.

GERMAN ATTEMPTS TO STORM FRENCH POSITIONS CHECKED

PARIS, July 14, noon.—The Germans made two attempts last night to storm French positions north of the Aisne, at a point south of Ville-aux-Bois, but were checked by the French machine gun fire, the war office announced today.

On the Verdun front, artillery fighting continues in the Souville sector. There were patrol engagements in Chenois wood. There were no important developments on the remainder of the front.

The announcement follows: "North of the Aisne, in the region south of Ville-aux-Bois and on the Vauclerc plateau two attempts by the Germans to make attacks were arrested promptly by the fire of our machine guns."

"On the right bank of the Meuse, (Verdun front) the artillery fighting was very active in the Souville sector. Patrol engagements occurred in Chenois wood."

"On the remainder of the front there were no important events."

BRITISH CAPTURES BY BRITISH IN ATTACK ON GERMAN SECOND LINE

LONDON, July 14, 12.05 p. m.—The British troops in their attack on the second system of German defenses captured Longueval, Bazentin-le-Grand and the Trones wood, says a Reuter despatch from the British front.

The Reuter despatch, which comes from the war correspondents' headquarters, says that, following a heavy bombardment of the German second defense line, the British infantry attacked dawn today and broke the second line over a front of 5000 yards. The despatch adds:

"Latest reports state that we captured the villages of Longueval, Bazentin-le-Grand and cleared the enemy out of Trones wood. The weather is cloudy and is cool and favorable to our operations."

The British advance reported in today's official despatches apparently constitutes the second phase of the great Anglo-French offensive in the neighborhood of the Somme river which began on July 1 over a front of something more than 20 miles. The first phase of this offensive carried the British forward to and gave them possession of Contalmaison and Montauban but the French on their right moved their lines further forward.

The reported capture of Longueval and Bazentin-le-Grand indicates that the British in today's assault advanced eastward or northward from Contalmaison or Montauban and that they apparently have brought their right wing on a par with the French left and are thrusting a salient between Peronne, the immediate French objective, and Bapaume, the point at which the British movement is reported to be directed.

Longueval is about three and a half miles east of Contalmaison and Bazentin-le-Grand is midway between those towns.

GERMANS HAVE NOT WITHDRAWN SINGLE MAN OR GUN FROM VERDUN

BERLIN, July 14.—(By wireless to Sayville.) The offensive of the entente allies on the western front has not caused the withdrawal by the Germans of a single man or a single gun from the Verdun front, where the French fortress is being garrisoned consistently and successfully pressed, says a statement issued today by the Overseas News agency summarizing newspaper comment on the western front campaign.

The German success reported yesterday to have been won on the right bank of the Meuse near Fort Souville and Lanfée plateau is commented upon by the German newspapers as an event of remarkable importance, says the news agency summary.

"This, the first enterprise attempted at Verdun since the beginning of the great enemy offensive, proves conclusively that the head of the German army, despite all hostile attacks on both the eastern and western front, has not lost sight of the original object in view."

"No German soldier and no German cannon have been withdrawn from Verdun and the battle is continuing successfully with the initiative in German hands. If Germany's enemies had hoped to seize the initiative by the attacks of their armies of millions of men and lay down a course of action for the Germans they have been bitterly disappointed by the course of events."

"After their brief successes won at the beginning of their offensive the advances of hostile masses have up to this time been broken up by the heroic resistance and tenacious defenders of the Somme. German headquarters remain the masters of the course of operations."

"The success won near Souville is worthy of mention as one of the means taken to achieve the German end, as it shows the whole world the superiority of German arms."

The summary concludes, "and proves that Germany has reason for viewing the military situation with the same confidence as before."

BRITISH TROOPS BROKE INTO GERMAN SECOND LINE NORTH OF SOMME

LONDON, July 14, 11.15 a. m.—The British troops at dawn today broke into German positions on a four-mile front in the region north of the Somme and captured several strongly defended localities, says the official announcement of the war office.

The British attack was delivered on the second system of the German defenses, says the statement which adds that heavy fighting continues.

"This morning at dawn the British troops have broken into hostile position on a front of four miles and have captured several strongly defended localities. Heavy fighting continues."

BERLIN REPORTS NEW AND VIOLENT FIGHTING ON BOTH SIDES OF SOMME

BERLIN, July 14 (by wireless to Sayville).—New and violent battles are being fought on both sides of the river Somme this morning, says the official statement given out today by the German army headquarters staff.

Early this morning, the statement says, British troops attacked in the sector of Mametz wood and Longueval and made repeated efforts to capture

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 14.—To C company, Second Texas Infantry, came the distinction today of being one of the first National Guard to exchange shots with Mexicans when they prevented a raiding party from crossing the Rio Grande near Laredo, Texas. Six armed Mexicans attempting to enter American territory at 3 a. m. were detected by outposts. They were ordered to halt, but continued advancing. The Texans opened fire. The fire was returned but discontinued after a minute, the Mexicans hurrying back to their own country. None of the Americans was injured and it is believed none of the Mexicans was hit.

JEWELRY STORE ROBBED

Bold Robber Broke Window With Stone and Made Off With Trays of Rings Yesterday Afternoon

One of the most daring daylight robberies perpetrated in this city for a long time occurred late yesterday afternoon when a young man smashed the plate glass in the door of the jewelry store of J. E. Lyle at 131 Central street and emptied the contents of several trays of rings into his pocket and walked away.

As a general rule there is considerable traffic through this part of Central street at the hour the robbery occurred, but inasmuch as practically all the jewelry stores were closed and hundreds of people were away the robbery, so far as can be learned, was witnessed only by two boys. The boys saw a man smash the glass in the door with a stone, enter the place and take the rings. One of the boys rushed to the corner of Market and Central streets and notified a police officer but when the latter arrived there was no sign of the robber.

It is a habit among robbers to enter stores by smashing plate glass, but as a general rule the stores used are covered so that the sound of the crash of glass will be deadened and it is only a daring robber who attempts such a thing in the daylight.

Fortunately the most valuable jewelry was locked up in the safe, but there was much good jewelry lying in trays and on counters which the robber passed up in his hurry. It is estimated that the jewelry taken includes more than 70 rings, the value of which is about $150.

THREE FATALITIES

Two Men Drowned and One Killed at Quincy—Mystery in One

QUINCY, July 14.—Three fatalities were recorded here yesterday within a short time, and in one case there is an air of mystery which was not wholly dispelled by the report of the medical examiner.

The victims were Samuel P. Gill, 26 years old, of Island avenue, Hough's Neck; Joseph Levovich, 15 years old, of 10 Gardner street, Roxbury, and Thomas Rholsen, 60 years old, of 194 East Howard street, Quincy Point.

Gill's body was found in a boat near Boston Light, about two hours after he had put out from Hough's Neck to haul in his lobster pots off Bug Light. The discovery was made at 7 this morning by his brother, Joseph Gill, who was also hauling in lobster pots. Gill's body was hanging over the side of the boat, with the head in the water.

It was thought at first that Gill was struck by lightning during the severe thunder storm of the early morning, although there were no marks on his body. Associate Medical Examiner George W. Higgins as Randolph, after an examination, said that death was caused by drowning, but what caused the young man to fall over the side of the boat and left him unable to help himself is something of a mystery. He was strong and healthy and was used to boats and water.

Gill was married and is survived by his wife and two children, one of whom was born only two days ago. Mrs. Gill is with her father, Joseph Sousa, Washington street, Hudson, where she went in anticipation of the birth of her baby. Gill is also survived by his father and brother. He was a plumber by trade and formerly lived in South Boston.

Joseph Levovich was drowned in Wendell's ledge, an abandoned quarry hole, which is filled with water and in some places is 100 or more feet deep. Levovich was visiting Frank Coffman of 145 East Howard street and with other young men went swimming in the quarry hole. The water, fed by springs, is very cold, and Levovich sank shortly after he had got into deep water, although he was only a short distance from the shore.

The police worked all day with grappling irons unsuccessfully. They gave up the job for the night about six o'clock when some men under Patrick H. Bradley, chief of the Fore River shipyard constables, took up the search. About 7 o'clock they brought the body to the surface. It was claimed by relatives last night.

Thomas Rholsen sustained fatal injuries in the freight yards off Granite street. Rholsen was employed by the Quincy Lumber Co. and was about to help in unloading a freight car loaded with lumber. Stakes holding the load broke, allowing several tons of lumber to fall on Rholsen.

The freight yard employees ran to his aid and pulled the lumber off. Rholsen was terribly crushed, especially about the hips. He was taken to the Quincy City Hospital, where he died this afternoon.

But very little is known here of the man. At the hospital, during periods of consciousness this afternoon, he was heard to mention Mechanicsville, N. Y., several times.

TO LEARN WAGE SCALE

BOSTON CARMEN TO HEAR THE NEWS TONIGHT — GIVES $2,000,000 IN PAY INCREASES

BOSTON, July 14.—The members of the Boston Street Car men's union, at special meetings in Tremont Temple, tonight, will receive from their wage committee and the international officers, who settled the wage grievance, a report which will explain in detail just how much wages they will receive during the next three years for their work, dating from May 1, last.

The new agreement will not be completed until late this afternoon, and none of the employees of the Boston Elevated will know just what part of the more than $2,000,000 to be expended in this increase he will receive, until the official report is made known tonight.

The final terms of the agreement are not even known to the members of the wage committee, as the increases for the employees are figured on a percentage basis, each class of workers receiving a different percentage, with the result that the increases range all the way from 3 cents an hour for one class to about 8 cents for another.

Yesterday as a result of a call for assistance from the officers of the Portland Street Car men's union, which walked out on strike Wednesday noon, International President William D. Mahon of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, sent Past Pres. Matthew J. Higgins, Past Business Agent Thomas F. Shino of the local union, John H. Reardon, general executive board member, and James H. Vaher, attorney for the union, to assist the strikers.

Late yesterday afternoon it was stated that the plans for the meeting tonight had not been completed and for that reason it can not be said whether there will be but one meeting or two sessions tonight.

It is expected though, that the first session will be held at 2 o'clock as usual and the second session after midnight, so that all members can receive the official report and be given a chance to vote on the ratification of the agreement.

According to the leaders of the union there is not much doubt as to the action tonight, as it was said that the increase is substantial and with no extended arbitration expenses to be paid, the increase will be "velvet" for the workers.

Treasury Department Takes Large Sum From Deposits in Federal Reserve Banks

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Withdrawal of $40,000,000 of the treasury's deposits in the federal reserve banks was ordered yesterday by Sec. McAdoo. Treasury officials said the action was in the usual course of business, the enormous total of the withdrawal being due to the fact that heavy deposits made by internal revenue collectors in the closing days of the fiscal year had brought the treasury's balance in the banks to well above $100,000,000. Part of the $40,000,000 will be taken from each of the 12 banks.

FOUND DEAD IN FIELD

CANTON, July 14.—James Middleton, 35, who lived with his mother on Church street, was found dead by some boys yesterday afternoon in a field near the bank of the Neponset river. Medical Examiner W. O. Faxon decided that the man had probably been taken ill in an electric car owing to the heat Wednesday, left the car and entered the field to lie down.

The body was taken to the home of his mother, with whom two sisters and a brother of the deceased live.

EFFORT TO SAVE CASEMENT

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Senator O'Gorman asked President Wilson yesterday to have Ambassador Page at London intervene informally in an effort to secure the commutation of the death sentence of Sir Roger Casement. The president said he would do anything proper in the case. The senate foreign relations committee recently declined to recommend passage of a resolution introduced by Senator Martin, asking the president to seek a stay of execution until further facts could be presented in Sir Roger's case.

TWO DEAD, ONE STRICKEN

WORCESTER, July 14.—The heat and humidity yesterday caused three heat prostrations, two of which proved fatal, and made the day the most oppressive here of the present heat wave. Oscar Langevin of Millbury entered a barber shop at 140 Franklin street overcome by the heat and dropped dead on the floor.

A man, identified several hours after his admission to City Hospital as Iver Johnson of 58 Belmont street, fell to the sidewalk on Mechanic street, unconscious shortly afterward, and was taken to the hospital in the police ambulance. He died last night without regaining consciousness.

George Burke of 554 Greenwood street was overcome while at work at a packing plant on Franklin street. He fell five feet to the ground and was taken to City Hospital, unconscious. His condition was reported as improved last night. Several factories were closed on account of the heat.

MADE DEPUTY SHERIFF

Henry G. Gallagher Appointed to Fill Vacancy Caused By Death of Peter P. Fee

BOSTON, July 14.—Henry G. Gallagher, clerk of the Charles street jail, was appointed deputy sheriff of Suffolk county by Sheriff John Quinn, yesterday, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Peter P. Fee, who for 18 years held that position.

Mr. Gallagher, who is married and living at 3 Everton street, Dorchester, was born in Revere, Oct. 4, 1881. He attended the schools of Revere and Boston, and then entered the employ of the sheriff's office. He filled various offices there from 1902 until 1914 when he accepted a clerical position in the Charles street jail, at the request of the sheriff. Many endorsements of Mr. Gallagher, for the place from men who do business with the civil courts, have been received by the sheriff.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

In a recent article I mentioned some of the experiences of John C. King as manager of the Lowell ball team of a quarter of a century ago, which came to a sudden ending just at this part of the season. The team wound up its career at this date, and the Sun had only the following brief but expressive obituary notice:

"The Lowell baseball team disbanded yesterday. Bad management, bad ball playing, poor patronage and many other things contributed to the collapse of the club. Joseph Kelley, formerly of the Lowell team, has signed with the Boston Nationals and played his first game Monday. The Boston papers speak highly of his ability."

John C. King was the man who introduced the future manager Joe Kelley to the big show, securing him the berth above-mentioned through his influence with Frank Selig, then connected with the Boston team. As I told you before, Kelley made good and afterward became famous and wealthy. The same issue of the old Sun had the following:

"The Big Twelve defeated the Hogans in a hotly contested ball game at Tyng's Island, Thursday. Billy Hawes got his nose turned away by a ball. The Page company catered."

But Bill got his nose turned back all right, and later played ball again with the Lowell team, and likes to see a good game today. The Big 12 and the Hogans were two very popular social organizations of a quarter of a century ago between whom a friendly rivalry existed which showed itself on the occasion of outings in the summer and dances in the cold weather. The Big 12 held forth in comfortable quarters in the Hildreth building, and their "open houses" were the delight of multitudes. The Hogans had rooms in Central street and vied with the Big 12 as entertainers. The Hogans became so famous that branches were formed in Boston, Brockton and Fall River, and at one time after a convention of the four lodges of Hogans held in Boston, it looked as if the organization was about to develop into a state-wide fraternity. But organized purely for social purposes it did not develop as it might have, had it any benefit of fraternal features connected with it. Both the Big 12 and Hogans went out of existence about the same time. As the members married they lost interest in club-life and that fact had as much to do with the disbandment of both organizations as any other cause. The Alpines, who were in existence in those days, are still intact and as prosperous as ever. But they held on to their married brethren, by making them honoraries without financial obligations upon their marriage, admitting new members as each old member went on the roll of honoraries. The result is that for quarter of a century the Alpine club has had a full membership list.

Old Time Athlete in Town

An old time athlete who could show his heels to the best of them quarter of a century ago is George Picard, for the past 16 years a resident of Worcester, where he is prospering. Mr. Picard returned to Lowell a week ago and picking up "The Sun" read an account of an outing in Lowell quarter of a century ago at which he won a couple of prizes, and he subsequently had an interesting chat with the writer over old time athletic events in Lowell. Picard was a contemporary of Billy Salmon, Dan and Frank Looney, Tom Kelly and the other star cinder path athletes of quarter of a century ago, and he was one of the swiftest of the bunch. Mr. Picard has been in the painting business in Worcester but while Old Scout Jesse Burkett had the Worcester team, Picard was associated with him at the Worcester grounds. George states that if the weather isn't too hot he'd like to return to Lowell some day and have an old timers' race with Kelly, Looney, Dick McCluskey and a few more as entrants.

Labor Day Appropriation

The old Sun notes the fact that the city council at its July meeting appropriated $200 for the observance of Labor day, which would indicate that the celebration of that time was decidedly limited, as far as expenditures were concerned. But quarter of a century ago while there were quite a few labor unions in Lowell they did not possess the numbers and influence that they do today and they were few compared with the large number of the present time. The cotton and woolen mills were just beginning to organize in those days, while the leather workers hadn't become organized at that time. Then the diversity of industries that has since sprung up in this city has been followed by a large increase in the number and character of labor unions. The old time labor leaders worked hard and untiringly to get the members of the different crafts to become affiliated with the different unions, and their efforts met with success. Among some of the old timers who did much to help the labor movement in this city, were Edward Rogers, Thomas F. Connolly, William Rafferty, Alex. Ray and others. This year the city has appropriated $1200 for Labor day, and the unions intend to hold a monster parade, which will be followed one month later by a state parade of the Knights of Columbus. Verily the year 1916 will be the banner year for parades in Lowell.

Mazatlan is Mexico's Metropolis of the Pacific Coast

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Mazatlan, Mexico's metropolis of the Pacific coast, reported to have been the scene of an unprovoked attack upon officers and men from the American gunboat Annapolis, is described in the National Geographic society's war geographic bulletin issued in Washington today.

"The north entrance to its harbor marked by a lighthouse perched on the crest of an eminence called Cerro del Creston, making it one of the loftiest guides to navigation in the world, Mazatlan is the chief entrepot for one of the richest mining sections of the southern republic. It not only exports the gold and silver from its own immensely wealthy state of Sinaloa (estimated by some experts to have the most valuable mineral deposits in Mexico) but it also handles the ore shipments by sea of Zacatecas and Durango.

"The city, which has a population of 20,000, is situated on a small peninsula opposite the Bay of Olas Altas (High Waves), and is surrounded by coconut groves. It is a six days' voyage by steamship from here to San Francisco, the Mexican port being 225 miles east of the southern tip of Lower California. The distance from El Paso, due south, to Mazatlan is about the same as from St. Louis to New Orleans.

"The aspect of the territory adjacent to Mazatlan is little affected by the prosperity of the port. The Indians live in the same type of huts which they have occupied since the Spanish conquest and perhaps for centuries before that. The strip of lowland along the shore has a tropical climate with an abundance of rain. Beyond this verdant margin to the east rises the towering thickly wooded Sierra Madre range, extending for hundreds of miles to the north and south. "Among the rich products of Mexico's fertile fields, undersea caves and river hills which find their way to the outside world through the Mazatlan gateway are rubber, gums, dyewoods, silver, copper, gold, lead, pearls, tortoiseshell, salted fish and cable wire. The city's manufacturing activities include saw mills, cotton factories and rope works.

"Fourteen years ago Mazatlan was almost depopulated by a frightful epidemic of bubonic plague which surpassed in severity some of the most terrible ravages of the 'Black Death' in Europe during the Middle Ages. According to one authority only 4000 people out of a total of 18,000 were spared, and more than 1000 houses were burned in an effort to stay the march of the disease. During the last decade sanitary conditions have been improved greatly."

family are at Cape Cod."

"Mr. Will Cogger of the Arena, and Mr. R. L. Walker, Charles Donlan and John Boyle have returned from a delightful cruise up the Concord."

"Mr. W. H. Hovey, the banjo teacher, has started on a month's trip down the coast of Maine."

"W. N. Shaw and C. M. Forrest have returned from a bicycle trip through New Hampshire, having covered over 300 miles on their wheels."

"Mrs. F. N. A. Hortubise of Fort Hill avenue has gone to Minneapolis for the summer."

"Mr. John J. Chinn has returned from Exeter, N. H., where he celebrated the third anniversary of his marriage."

"Mr. Joseph W. Purcell of the Farragut house and family are summering at their cottage at Bass Point, Nahant."

"Miss Della Brady and Miss Elita Keefe, teachers at the Butler school, are at Belfast, N. H."

"Mrs. Hector Turnbull and two children are at Underhill, Vt., where they will remain until September."

"Miss Maud Paradis, the well known pianiste, is filling a summer engagement at Long Island sound."

"George F. Burns, basso at the First Unitarian church, and Bert T. Stepleton are going to Belfast, Me., for three weeks."

"And there were many others, equally fortunate."

"Jack" Benson in Town

Says The Sun of quarter of a century ago:

"John W. Benson, who has travelled with different theatrical companies for several years, is now at his home in Lawrence street. He is engaged for the coming season with 'The Still Alarm' company under Manager Arthur's direction. Harry Lacey has left the company and Mr. Benson will have Mr. Lacey's part for the coming season. The company opens in Newark, N. J., in August."

Harry Lacey created the leading role in "The Still Alarm," which made a big hit on the road for several seasons, and Jack Benson succeeded him and was successful in the role. "The Still Alarm" introduced the interior of a fire house as one of its scenes, with a three-horse-hitch fire engine responding to an alarm. This stunt in those days was considered the height of stage realism. Afterward Mr. Benson took up with the Frohman and was in their employ for several seasons. He created the part of "Kelly, the Barkeep" in the original production of "Chimie Fadden," and later was with Maggie Cline, May Irwin and other celebrities. Mr. Benson was one of the first of the New York actors to respond to the lure of the stage and appeared in some of the earliest popular film productions. Now they're all doing it, and Jack is still on the job.

Mrs. Nettie Rogers, aged 18, a graduate from an agricultural school, has filed a homestead claim on 160 acres of land on Flint Ridge, Ark., and will engage in fruit raising and truck farming. Mrs. Rogers is the youngest homesteader in that section and one of the very few women who have manifested the grit to attempt to cultivate the rough mountain tract of land in that vicinity.

LYNN HITS WERE TIMELY

Pieper's Team Defeated Lowell in Rainy Day Game—Pitcher Jewett
Was Effective—Score 5 to 3

Lynn made it two straight from Lowell by capturing yesterday afternoon's game at Springfield park by the score of 5 to 3. At 3 o'clock, the starting hour, rain was falling heavily and Umpire Waters delayed in calling the game. In about 20 minutes there was a slight let-up and the game was begun and continued through the full nine innings with rain falling steadily. The crowd gathered in the grandstand and remained to the end, showing enthusiasm whenever the occasion arose.

Pitcher Jewett was on the mound for Lynn and the youngster was too much for the home team. He was especially effective with men on bases. Three times during the game Lowell opened with clean hits, but failed to score. Twice fast double plays were made by the Lynn infield, spoiling all chances of a score.

John Bonsack worked for the locals and while 12 hits are credited to him, many were of the scratch variety and were just beyond the reach of the Lowell players. The Lynn hits were timely, however, four of the runs being scored on clean hits and the fifth on a long sacrifice fly. Pitcher Jewett drove in two runs and scored another.

First Inning
Gleason, the first man up, foul flied to Helfrich. Daley singled, stole second and went to third on Orcutt's out. Torphy to Whalen. Denoville singled, scoring Daley. Porter was third out on a grounder to Bonsack.

One run, two hits, no errors.
In the latter half of the inning Stimpson singled through Gleason, but was forced at second on Whalen's grounder to Couley. Robinson singled and Whalen went to third. Orcutt attempted to catch Whalen's third and threw wild. Whalen scoring. Robinson stole third and scored on Helfrich's single to right field. Kihullen flied to Gleason. Greenhalge was third out on a grounder to Jewett.

Two runs, three hits, one error.
Score: Lowell 2, Lynn 1.

Second Inning
The visitors scored three runs in the second while the home team sent one man across the plate.
Cajrol sent a grounder to Torphy and was nailed at first. Prysock walked and Conley struck out. Jewett knocked out a double, scoring Prysock. Gleason, singled to right and Jewett scored. Gleason going to second on the throw. Daley singled to left and Gleason scored. Daley then stole second, but died there for Orcutt sent a grounder to Greenhalge and was out at first.

Three runs, three hits, no errors.
In Lowell's half Kane sent a two-bagger to left and went to third on Torphy's infield out. Prysock to Denoville. Bonsack walked to first. Stimpson bunted to Jewett and Kihullen was doubled up between third and the home plate. Carroll made a bad throw and Kane scored. Bonsack was forced out at the plate on Whalen's grounder to Jewett. Robinson went out on a grounder to Jewett.
One run, one hit, one error.
Score: Lowell 3, Lynn 4.

Third Inning
Neither side scored in the third. Denoville flied to Whalen and Porter went out on a grounder to Torphy. Carroll singled to left and went to third on Prysock's double. Conley closed the inning with a fly to Robinson.
No runs, two hits, no errors.

Helfrich singled through the pitcher's box and Kihullen followed with another hit. Greenhalge in attempting to bunt popped a fly to Jewett. Jewett sent the ball to Prysock who threw to Denoville, getting Kihullen off the bag. Kane flied to Prysock.
No runs, two hits, no errors.
Score: Lowell 3, Lynn 4.

Fourth Inning
Two more goose eggs were registered in the fourth. Jewett flied to Kane and Gleason sent a fly to Torphy. Daley flied to Helfrich.
No runs, no hits, no errors.
Torphy sent a long drive to left which Porter took care of and Bonsack and Stimpson flied to Carroll.
No runs, no hits, no errors.
Score: Lowell 3, Lynn 4.

Fifth Inning
Orcutt and Denoville flied to Stimpson. Porter singled by third base and went to third on Carroll's single to right. Porter and Carroll attempted a double steal and Porter was caught at the plate.
No runs, two hits, no errors.
In the latter half of the inning Whalen singled to left. Robinson sent a grounder to Gleason who threw to Prysock, getting Whalen at second and Prysock shot the ball in first for a double play. Helfrich was third out on a fly to Porter.
No runs, one hit, no errors.
Score: Lowell 3, Lynn 4.

Sixth Inning
Prysock got his second two-bagger in this inning and went to third on Conley's sacrifice, and scored on Jewett's long sacrifice fly to Stimpson. Gleason singled but was nailed while trying to steal second.
One run, two hits, no errors.
Kihullen hit a long fly to Porter and Greenhalge and Kane went out on grounders to Prysock and Gleason respectively.
No runs, no hits, no errors.
Lowell 3, Lynn 5.

Seventh Inning
Daley struck out and Orcutt flied to Helfrich. Denoville sent a grounder to Helfrich and was out at first.
No runs, no hits, no errors.
Torphy flied to Prysock and Bonsack struck out. Stimpson was third out on a fly to Orcutt.
No runs, no hits, no errors.
Score: Lowell 3, Lynn 5.

Eighth Inning
Porter singled to left field and stole second. Carroll died at first on his grounder to Helfrich. Helfrich took Prysock's grounder and threw to Kihullen, getting Porter at the plate. Conley struck out.
No runs, one hit, no errors.
Whalen struck out. Robinson was out at first on his grounder to Prysock. Helfrich walked and was forced at second on Kihullen's grounder to Prysock.
No runs, no hits, no errors.
Score: Lowell 3, Lynn 5.

Ninth Inning
Jewett flied to Stimpson. Gleason sent up a high fly to Torphy. Daley flied to Greenhalge.
No runs, no hits, no errors.
Greenhalge flied to Orcutt. Kane flied to Orcutt.
Torphy flied to Orcutt.
No runs, no hits, no errors.

ED. GEERS BADLY HURT
VETERAN GRAND CIRCUIT DRIVER
THROWN IN RACE AT NORTH RANDALL, O.
CLEVELAND, O., July 14.—Ed. F. Geers, veteran grand circuit driver and trainer, who was badly hurt yesterday when thrown under the heels of a horse on the North Randall track, passed a comfortable night at the hospital where he is convalescing, and was reported in good condition today. He will be confined to bed for a few days, but his condition is not regarded as serious, though it is doubtful whether he will be able to do any driving at the opening of the Grand Circuit here next week.

SPRINGFIELD RACES POSTPONED
SPRINGFIELD, July 14.—The Short Ship circuit races scheduled for the Eastern States Exposition grounds yesterday afternoon were postponed until today—on account of rain.

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT

Two games tomorrow, starting at 2 o'clock.

Prysock was present with two ringing doubles.

Easy flies were in order after the rain had soaked the balls.

Pitcher Jewett was easily the star. Besides working effectively in the box, he batted well and made a spectacular catch of a fly in front of the plate, which should have resulted in a triple play. Helfrich was on second and Kihullen on first with Greenhalge at the bat. Saubrey attempted to sacrifice but the ball popped into the air. Jewett made a dive for it and caught it in his left and reached down to get the runner, but by that time the Lynn left fielder was safe at second.

Portland got a lead on New London by winning a double header from Lawrence yesterday. In the second game, which lasted but five innings, Martin held Lawrence to one scratch hit.

The Lawrence players received the money due them following Wednesday's game as Owen Sullivan promised at the league meeting. Several offers have been made for the Lawrence club, two of which are from out of town men.

Tamm of the Portland club is to figure in a trade soon. It has been reported that he was offered to the Lawrence club for a member of O'Donnell's team. Tamm might be a help to the Lowell team, as Helfrich could be shifted to second unless Manager Kihullen intends to keep Snubner in the infield.

Alex Pearson has joined the Gardner, Me., team and will soon be in the lineup with Harry Lord and Cuko Barrows. Joe Monahan, a former Lowell catcher, is also with the same team.

PAUL TEWESBURY WITHDRAWS

BOSTON, July 14.—When play in the open tournament of the Woodland Golf club was resumed today announcement was made that Paul Tewesbury, one of the club members who is under the ban of the United States Golf association because of business activities had withdrawn his entry. He was tied for the lead in medal play.

Tewesbury's action, it was explained yesterday, was due to a vote by the directors of the Woodland club that it "would be better form, entirely regardless of the United States Golf association ruling, for Tewesbury, Francis Quimet and J. H. Sullivan, Jr., not to enter open tournaments pending hearing of the appeal from the decision which declared them to be no longer amateurs."

The directors' attitude to this effect was agreed upon two weeks ago, according to Secretary Irving J. French, and was not influenced by the notification made public yesterday that the club had been refused active membership in the United States Golf association.

PLAYERS LIKE ALEX RUBE OLDRING LURED BACK TO GAME BY YANKS' BIG OFFER

WHAT TEAMMATES HAVE TO SAY ABOUT WORK OF PHILLIE PITCHER

Here are what certain persons think of Alexander the Great:

Pat Moran—I have caught Charley Nichols, Mordecai Brown, Orvie Overall, Ed Reulbach and other famous stars, but the king of them all is Alexander.

Bill Kilmer—I am glad that it is my privilege to catch a man like Alexander. What is the difference between Alexander and an inferior pitcher? Why, one difference is that Alexander watches the runner first. Inferior pitchers don't take that trouble.

Cactus Cravath—My home runs always win games when Alexander is pitching, because one of those belts, when he is on the hill, is enough to win.

Capt. Luderus—I am from Milwaukee and don't like Alexander one whit better than an order of Haverhurst with eye bread and Milwaukee buttermilk.

Dode Paskert—When Alexander is pitching, center-fielding is a cinch. I never have to run far. The opposition is lucky to get the ball past the infield.

George Whitted—What do I think of Alexander? What you should do is find out what Alexander thinks of me. He has won his last three games on the home grounds by a score of 2 to 1, and in each contest I have broken up the game.

Bert Nichols—If Alexander was running for president next fall I would vote six times.

David Hancock—If Alexander could only learn to catch foul tips he would be a wonder.

Milton Stock—The greatest friend I ever had in the world is John McGraw. He traded me to Philadelphia. Now I am with Alexander. I don't have to bat against him.

Eddie Burns—When I catch Alexander I know that only one hour and a half of my time is taken up, and that the Phils are going to win a game.

Wilbur Good—I hate Alexander. He is such a good hitter that I never get a chance to bat for him.

Jakky Duguey—I don't think much of Alexander. He is such a fast runner that I am never asked to stop for him.

Smitty, the announcer—I am against Alexander. He never gives me any work to do. He is never knocked out of the box.

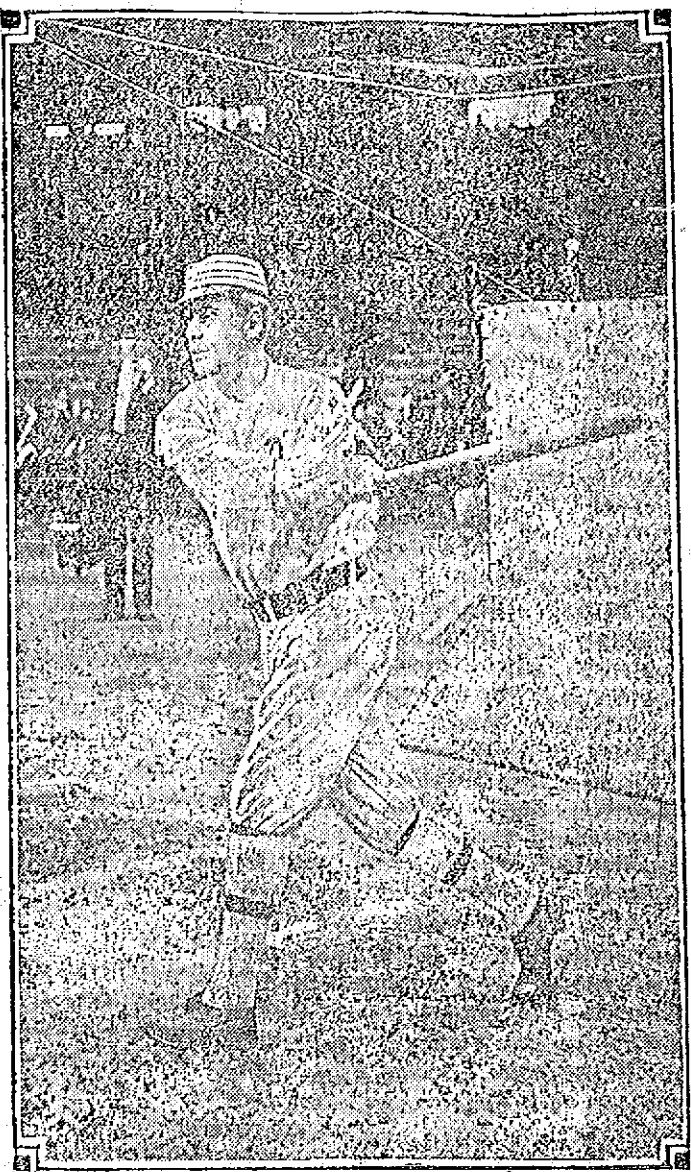

Chief Bender—He is a pitcher, boys, a pitcher.

Al Demaree—He is to pitching what Krupp is to cannon-making.

Eppa Rixey—I can use my left better than Alexander, but we won't speak about his right.

Erskine Mayer—The only way he would be more valuable to the Phils, he would have to be twins.

George McQuinn—He must be good for I never have to succeed him.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Rube Oldring, former outfielder of the Athletics, will don a New York uniform and play left field for the Yankees shortly. Oldring was finally lured out of his retirement from baseball by Germany Schaefer, who was the last emissary sent to see him. Though Oldring was given his unconditional release when he left the Athletics last month, he made a promise to Connie Mack if he ever decided to play again he would give his services to the Philadelphia leader first. Therefore the Yankees will purchase him as though he was still under contract to the Philadelphia club. Oldring was more sincere in his retirement than many thought. He had really grown tired of the game, and his interests at home, where he has a big farm, took a good deal of his time. One reason why he has not been able to reach a decision earlier is that he could not make arrangements to have his place taken care of. At the most, Oldring says, he will play only one more season. He declares he will be through when this season closes. Oldring will be a great help to the Yankees in their present predicament, with Gilhooley out of the game for six weeks or two months. Oldring has never been a great hitter, but he has always been a dangerous and timely hitter. He hit well up around .270 last year and has gone over the .300 mark in his time. But he is a fast and sure outfielder and a smart ball player.

purchased from the Buffalo club recently, is helping the team wonderfully. But I must admit that our manager is Stanley Caveleskie who seems to be a horse for work.

"The Cleveland club has spent $30,000 for players, including Speaker, since Jim Dunn became the owner, but we will make some money. Speaker is worth his weight in gold. If anything should happen to him we would be out of the running in no time. Fohl is a splendid manager. He has welded the team together with rare skill and he is entitled to much of the credit for the Indians' excellent record to date."

Fohl, who has jumped into the front rank of major league managers in less than a year, hadatcher Morton and Outfielder Elmer John Smith with him when he managed the Waterbury club some time ago. He is depending on Chick Gandil numerous cast-offs to keep in the thick of the fight. He secured Chick Gandil from Washington, Roth, Klepper and Daly from the White Sox and Howard from the Browns. He obtained Lowdermilk from the Detroit, while Beebe once drew salary from the Cincinnati Reds. Coombs was a member of the Red Sox two years ago. When Fohl succeeded Joe Birmingham as the manager of the Indians, Graney, Chapman, Turner, O'Neill and Wambach all were under contract. Fohl picked up Joe Evans, the young infielder, also Bagby, who was purchased from New Orleans.

LEVINSKY WINS

New Yorker Gives Jack Dillon a Fine Lacing at Brooklyn

BALTIMORE, Md., July 14.—Battling Levinsky, New Yorker put a very large crimp into the championship aspirations of Jack Dillon of Indianapolis, when they met in a 10-round bout yesterday afternoon at Oriole Park. At the end of the last round Levinsky had Dillon on the ropes, rocking his head with rights and lefts, and only the bell saved the conqueror of Frank Moran from a knockout.

At the beginning of the fight Dillon forced the issue and tried time and again to land a right on the batter's jaw that would have ended the fight. Levinsky, outboxed Dillon at every part of the game, straightening him up with sharp left jabs to the face and hard rights to the body and actually made Dillon look like a novice.

In the second round Levinsky opened a cut over Dillon's right eye and kept it bleeding through the fourth. He also brought disaster to Dillon with a hard smash to the wind that made Dillon wince and a hard blow in the mouth evidently loosened some of Jack's teeth, as he made a wry face.

The men were matched to box 15 rounds to a decision for the lightweight championship, and had it gone that distance every man who saw the fight was of the belief that Levinsky would have been the champion. Fortunately for Dillon, the man who guaranteed him $5000 and $2500 to Levinsky, disappeared and the men not to disappoint about 1500 visiting Elks, decided to box 10 rounds, with no decision, for the gate receipts.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

New York won from Cleveland yesterday and regained the lead in the American league race.

The St. Louis Browns are in Boston until after next Tuesday.

Tom Daley, the former Lowell catcher, who once made a home run before the king of England, has been traded from the White Sox to Cleveland and is now assisting Steve O'Neill, another New England graduate, in the backstop work for the Indians.

Catcher Dooin has been traded by the New York Nationals to the Rochester club.

"Hook" Warner, third baseman for the Dayton Central league club, has been sold to Pittsburgh. The sale price was said to be $4000.

Reuben N. Oldring, former star left fielder of the Philadelphia Athletics, who announced his retirement from baseball on July 1, signed a contract yesterday to play with the New York Yankees.

The Yankees had better not back much further. The way the American league teams now are bunched it won't take much for a team to be backed out of the first division.

If the Yankees could save about half of those runs they get so lavishly for Cullop and present them to Caldwell, Ray, instead of Nick, would be the hero of the Yank staff. Ray is pitching grand ball, but he can't win games when his team scores only two runs in twenty-five innings, behind him. Last Monday, Ray pitched a 9 in eleven innings, then lost 2 to 1 to Chicago and 1 to 9 to Cleveland.

Fritz Malsel was put off the grounds before he had a chance to get into the game. Fritz put a uniform on last Monday, and yesterday intended to sit it out on the bench. However, Silk O'Loughlin didn't like the sound of Malsel's voice in the first inning of the second game and ordered Malsel out. Silk made the discovery in the second inning that Fritz still was using up room on the bench and ordered the game stopped, with the Little Maryland Traction moved himself away. Malsel shagged flies in the outfield in the early afternoon, but made no attempt to throw.

Persons did not appreciate what an important little star Frank Gilhooley really was on the Yanks until Frank suddenly was incapacitated. The club needs another outfielder badly, and Rube Oldring seems in no hurry to report. There are reports Mack is blocking Rube's efforts to come to New York.

To whom it may concern, including several New York scribblers, Frank Baker did not tie his best Athletic home run record by hitting his eighth homer of the 1916 season last Monday. Baker led the American league in home runs with nine in 1911, with ten in 1912, with twelve in 1913, and in 1914 Frank was tied with Sam Crawford for the home run crown with

While the mercury registered 92 degrees in the Malden court house yesterday, Albert Curtis and Frank M. Parcellini of Everett were fined $10 each for snowballing. Early in April, the boys annoyed motorists by snowballing them. The police, however, did not discover the boys' identity until recently. Parcellini, who lives at 53 Rich street, Everett, paid his fine and Curtis, who lives at 72 Central avenue, Everett, was given until Aug. 12 to pay.

THE LOWELL SUN

LOWELL MADE CLEAN

It is a healthy sign and one that presages better things when a committee of local women takes a practical interest in civic cleanliness, and it is an indication of a spirit that will not be satisfied until we achieve results. The Sun and the press generally have been advocating a cleaner Lowell for a long time, but unfortunately the sudden spurt that broke out from time to time petered out all too soon and are followed by general indifference. Clean-up weeks and similar agitations serve their purpose, but unless they are succeeded by a genuine desire for a more wholesome state of affairs and unless there is tireless and continual co-operation it is worse than futile to work ourselves into a one-week fever of effort.

Mrs. William P. White of the local branch of the Special Aid Society for Preparedness was very specific in her recommendations to the municipal council, and the justice of her protest can be ascertained by any interested citizen who looks over the parks, commons, streets, alleys, etc. The municipal council expresses itself as of the interest taken by the Lowell women and Superintendent Kernan regrets that a small appropriation makes it difficult for the park department to achieve results. The general public is not so much interested in placing the responsibility and is not disposed to blame any group or groups of officials, but the fact remains that Lowell is not as clean as it might be. This being so, how are we going to set about remedying conditions?

In the first place, since we cannot have appropriations as large as the different departments think necessary, let us do the best we can within a small appropriation. Where is the use of agitating park extension, planning for observatories or band concerts or ornamental fountains, if we cannot keep our present park system in proper condition? It will not take a great deal of money to procure half a dozen wire receptacles for waste, but Lowell seems to have a peculiar aversion to receptacles of the sort. Boston commons has these necessary appendages on all sides, Lawrence has them all along its main streets, but if one has a piece of wrapping paper to throw away in Lowell, there is likely to be a long walk to the nearest waste basket. The result is that people get into the slovenly and unsanitary habit of throwing waste around as though the streets were common dumps. Over and over again The Sun has referred to this condition. We have spoken of the undesirable tendency of the markets to throw boxes, etc., on the sidewalks; of the littering of Park Garden and Fort Hill park with papers; of the waste nuisance on Howe street; of the filthy condition of some streets where the children play; of the dangers arising from dirty, evil smelling cellars, attics, store rooms, etc., and of many other phases of the question that are of especial local interest.

At the present time the direct connection between civic uncleanness and disease is argued so strongly by physicians and health authorities that there is no ignoring it. In New York a clean-up crusade was started a few days ago in an effort to check infantile paralysis. Tons of footstuffs were destroyed; ice-cream parlors, slaughterhouses, candy factories, etc., were rigidly inspected and hundreds of householders and heads of families were haled into court and fined. Extraordinary conditions called for extraordinary methods and for once the great city was the scene of an attempt to legislate the people into clean and sanitary habits.

Lowell should not have to wait for the impetus of a contagion before striving to remedy the conditions that operate against civic cleanliness and order. Let the street cleaning department make a special effort to keep the streets in condition; let the park department postpone some ideas for improvement and spend money in keeping the parks and commons tidy. Would it not be a good idea to agitate the matter through the summer playgrounds and to impress on the youngsters the value of cleanliness and the many dangers of dirt? A speaker at the graduation of the local Normal school related how organized bands of school pupils keep a large section of Brookline spick and span, and here, too, auxiliary bands of youngsters in all sections might do good in supplementing the efforts of the city. From time to time the fire department has tours of inspection so that the dangers of fire may be minimized. Could not this too be availed of to impress on careless persons their positive obligation to keep their premises so that they will not be spreaders of disease over the neighborhood?

It is time for a full co-operative effort between the board of trade, the municipal authorities, our various organized bodies and the citizens generally to make Lowell a sister to Spotless town. Now for an effort all together!

THE SHARK HORRORS

On Wednesday a score or more were killed by accident. Some were run over by autos or by trains; some were drowned; a few died by fire or the collapse of walls—and so on, in this country of so many people and so great a percentage of accidents most of these accidents produce little impression. It takes the unusual to arouse the people and to send a thrill of horror through society. This has been done several times of late by announcements that sharks have devoured or mutilated swimmers off the New Jersey shore.

There is grim proof that the man-eating shark is an unwelcome visitor to eastern waters as the recent fatalities to six swimmers have attested. Whether due to changes in the food supply, to the temperature of the sea or to some phenomena not yet explained, the terrible creatures that have heretofore kept south of Cape Hatteras are in the waters of some of our most popular bathing places. They constitute a terrible menace, their presence being made known only after they have inflicted fatal injury on some unfortunate victim. A sudden commotion in the water, the flash of a grey blue side, possibly the sight of rows of gleaming teeth, and the deed is done. The Jersey beaches have been thrown into a frenzy of excitement, and armed patrols have been availed of, but hitherto without results. When it comes to a fight between the shark and the swimmer, the odds are all with the shark.

Popular hysteria is frequently started from slight results and it is highly probable that the shark menace will send foolish tremors through swimmers at nearby beaches. There is little danger, however, that the monsters will come further north than the Jersey coast where they have not appeared heretofore. The danger is a temporary one and surely some way will be found to surmount it. The wealthy interests of the beaches where the scare was born will either screen the bathing places or else establish a guard that will remove the possibility of danger. Yet, people at all beaches will breathe easier when it is definitely announced that the sharks which have made such a mysterious appearance have just as mysteriously disappeared.

A PROGRESSIVE REVOLT

Signs are not wanting that the growing indignation among progressives at the way in which they have been handed over body and bones by their leader will soon take shape. A conference of representative progressives from all parts of the country will soon be held in Chicago, and it is extremely likely that the sincere element of the party will organize a revolt against the attempt of Theodore Roosevelt to line them up like a lot of automatons for Candidate Hughes. Their feeling of resentment is fostered by the attitude of the republican papers which studiously refuse to see the displeasure in the ranks of the erstwhile progressives. As a sample of the tone against which the progressives complain is the following from an editorial in yesterday's Boston Herald: "The progressive has always been a personal party. It has rejoiced to follow a chosen leader—one of the eminent men of his time—and that leader has made his position clear."

If this is not adding insult to injury, what else can it be called? It brazenly asserts in effect that the progressive party was the personal property of Theodore Roosevelt, who has done what he chose with it. He may soon discover his mistake, and the Herald along with him. Bainbridge Colby of New York is one of the prominent progressives who will not vote for Mr. Hughes and he has given out data considering what he calls "the widespread and bitter revolt within the party." He says that he has received letters from all over the country protesting against the "Perkins-Plinn program," and he gave out for publication a letter from John M. Parker of Louisiana, progressive party nominee for vice-president, who writes: "An enormous number of votes will never submit to such treatment." Evidently all is not well with the Roosevelt machine and a great many of Roosevelt's followers resent the insinuation that when Teddy takes snuff they must all sneeze. The revolt to come is a strong probability and the progressives are also considering another convention that shall shape the present nation-wide indignation into prompt action to show Roosevelt and Hughes that the principles of some men are not common political property.

AUTO THIEVES

The auto thief still plies his trade without any special danger of detection and without having to pay a heavy penalty in case he is caught with the goods. If he gets away for a few days he generally changes over the machine so that its owner cannot recognize it, and he uses the stolen car to good advantage in getting out of sight and sound of the law. The insurance companies know only too well how common auto thefts are heretofore.

coming owing to the large number of claims they are called upon to settle. The auto thief is not very careful, not having paid much for the property, and as a result many stolen cars are found at the bottom of an embankment or wound around a tree. The insurance companies say that the courts are too lenient with the fellows who steal cars. If they had stolen a diamond necklace of the same value it would be regarded as a heavy crime, but the auto thief generally tells a story that moves the judge to mercy. When judges get riding round and taking chances like the average owner, we may see a change in the attitude of the courts towards the modern highwayman.

BACTERIA AND BULLETS

Professor Rosenau of Harvard who is in favor of the pasteurization of milk recently declared: "Bacteria have killed more people in the world's history than bullets. Most wars are preventable—so also are most diseases." As applied to diseases in general the pointed phrases are true, but is it certain that the pasteurization of milk is desirable? There are those who say that under this system the public would take more risks than now. Milk that has been so treated is not necessarily clean milk and as it does not get sour there is danger that old milk would be palmed off by the larger dealers who sell in enormous quantities. Pasteurization would do some good—but there is such a thing as overdoing the scientific, and if we could be sure of milk as good as the cow gives it there would be little cause to worry. There is too great a tendency now to call for standards that farmers cannot attain with profit and just as soon as we have the pasteurization treatment there will be a cry for something else.

So Sensitive!

Every seat in the trolley was occupied, when a group of women got in. Going through the car to collect fares, the conductor noticed a man who, he thought, was asleep. "Wake up!" shouted the conductor. "I wasn't asleep," said the passenger. "Not asleep?" snapped the conductor. "Then what did you have your eyes closed for?"

"It was because of the crowded condition of the car," explained the passenger.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A SIMPLE SAFE, RELIABLE WAY
People who are over-burdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.
If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.
There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise, here is a test worth trying. Spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from A. W. Dows & Co. or any good druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. Weigh yourself once a week, say to know just how fast you are losing weight and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal.
Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, and helps digestion. Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight. Footsteps become lighter, your work seems easier and a lighter and more active feeling takes possession of your whole being.
Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial.

Messings in Disguise

Alleging that he was deprived of the ability to chew tobacco by injuries he suffered when a wagon on which he was riding and a street car came into collision, Robert Bowman, a teamster, is suing the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company for $5000 damages.

Bowman was driving a load of sand. He was thrown off to the pavement and his lower jaw dislocated.

His complaint was he had used tobacco for years, and since the accident has been "deprived of the pleasure and enjoyment" he formerly had.

He Got His $5

Little Tommy had a very pretty sister. Pretty sister and a very devoted admirer. One evening when the devoted admirer was sitting in the parlor waiting for sister to appear, he was approached by little Tommy.

"Say, Mr. Smith," rather pointedly queried the youngster, "do you love Sister Jenny?"

"Why, Tommy?" was the amazed response of the blushing Mr. Smith. "Why do you ask me a question like that?"

The Fleckle Age

When I'm far away from you
When I'm by the lonely shore
Where the sea-birds' eyes are blue
Will you love me, Eleanor?

That's the thing that I would know,
Will you love me and love me true,
When I'm where the sea-winds blow,
Where the sky and ocean touch?

Will you love me, Eleanor?
When I walk the shining sands,
When I walk the lonely shore
With head bowed, and clasping hands,
And I hear the sea-birds' cry,
Far out from the world of men,
Will the old love light your eyes
For me, I am asking, then?

Will you wish that you were there,
By me on the shining sand,
With the sea-wind in your hair,
With your hand held in my hand?
With me looking out to sea,
Marking every changing hue,
Glad to be out there with me,
Glad to have me there with you?

That is what I crave to know,
Have you heard my song?
Will your heart be charged with woe
For me when I am away?

Tell me while I watch the glow
Of the sunset, and the stars come gold—
Swear it to me! Girls are so Fickle when they're three years old!

Polster for Wives

The Iowa supreme court has handed down several Solomonian decisions. In one ruling the court held that confession of a crime on the part of a husband does not constitute grounds for divorce proceedings.

"It'll become a wife," said the court, "to prefer criminal charges against her husband. She took him for better or for worse and she should try to redeem him."

In the same decision the court declared that a wife who

Mosquitoes on Snow Banks
In both the Rocky Mountains and Alaska the geological survey have as part of their regular equipment mosquito nets for their heads. Even when working in deep snow, head nets and gauze nets are necessary to protect the field men from the blood-sucking pests of the peaks, says the Popular Science Monthly. The mosquito does not vanish with increasing altitude. At 11,000 feet, or timber line, he is as prolific as at sea level, and smoke, no matter how dense and pungent it may be, will not eradicate him. The only sure relief lies in the net. In some sections of Colorado the mountain natives let mosquitoes bite them until their systems become thoroughly inoculated with their poison. After this they are bothered no more. The first advice given to the "hundredfoot" by the old-time is, "Don't bite; they won't keep it up long."

During the long marches when the American troops first went into Mexico in pursuit of Villa, when their ears were keyed to the finest distinction between sounds, they were puzzled by the constant ringing or the reverberation of the tinkling sound of bells which seemed to come at all hours of the day and night and from every direction, says the Washington Star.

Before reaching the foothills of the Sierra Madre mountains, when space appeared limitless on all sides, this sound would come to them sometimes in waves faintly as from a great distance, and again with a swell and volume that was seeming to burst out of the atmosphere immediately above them. Then it would creep upon their ears like a haunting, despairing wail of a lost soul, giving a feeling of contact with the supernatural. The soldiers doing picket duty at night were annoyed and obsessed with a creepy, uncanny feeling, as they confronted with an unnatural foe with whom steel and lead would not cope, and with whom they had not a fair chance. Suddenly there would burst over them a joyous, vibrant tone of great gladness, full of animation and life.

Until they understood the wonderful acoustic properties and climatic conditions of the country through which they were passing, it was almost puzzling. But when they penetrated farther into Mexico they discovered that every ranch and hacienda through which they passed, every little hamlet of a dozen houses, the wayside shrines in the most inaccessible parts of the mountains, all had from one to five bells, and that these bells in chapels and churches were rung every half hour and those at the shrines by whoever passed that way.

In remote places on some of the great haciendas which include thousands of acres of land there are some of the most beautiful churches in Mexico, pure types of Spanish or Moorish architecture, with beautiful marble altars and exquisite silver lamps, altarpieces, and crucifixes, and bits of frescoes that are works of art, which time has not tarnished. Many of these churches have been looted by the revolutionary armies, but the bells have remained. Many of these bells were brought from Spain in the days of Spanish rule in Mexico, and some of them contain large amounts of precious metals which give a tone of richness and vibrating purity of sound. In isolated parts of the country where there are no watches and but few clocks, the bells which are rung to call the people to prayers are also the time keepers, and while the service of the bell ringer in the remote districts is gratis, it is performed with regularity and precision.

When the country is at peace, in Mexico City alone there are about 2500 bell ringers regularly employed, while on days of religious celebrations the number is augmented, as the ringing of bells must be kept up almost constantly through the day and night.

The position of bell ringer is looked upon by the lower classes as being honorable and distinguished, and bell ringers are looked up to as an adjunct to the clergy. The position is handed down from father to son in some cases, and the bell towers of the large cathedrals are spacious and frequently fitted with rooms which become ancestral homes to the families who have occupied them through several generations.

From time to time the matter of installing clockwork electrical machinery with which to operate the many bells in the churches of the larger cities has been considered, but the church authorities have a certain sentiment about the propriety of it, and the people a superstition.

The bell ringers in the towns are divided into day and night shifts, being required to toll the hours with precision, and a new hand is readily recognized by the lack of smoothness in the strokes of the bell.

DEMAND FOR MUNITIONS

Holidays Abandoned to Supply Armies—"Victory Flowing Our Way", Says Lloyd George

LONDON, July 14.—David Lloyd George, British minister of war, presiding today at an allied conference on equipment, declared that the combined offensive of the allies had wrenched the initiative from the Germans, never, he trusted, to return.

"We have crossed the watershed," he said, "and now victory is beginning to flow in our direction. This change is due to the improvement in our equipment."

Premier Asquith, speaking in the house of commons, said the allied offensive on the western front is only in its beginning and asked the munitions workers to make it plain to Great Britain's foes that the British attack, in its present intensity of bombardment and assault, "will, if necessary, be continued indefinitely."

The munitions conference, over which Mr. Lloyd George presided, was held at the war office and was participated in by Albert Thomas, French minister of munitions; Gen. Bellhoff, assistant minister of war of Russia; Gen. A. Dall'Olio, member of the Italian ministry of war, and the new British minister of munitions, Edwin S. Montague.

Whole Complexion of War Changed
"Since our last munitions conference," said Mr. Lloyd, "there has been a considerable change in the fortunes of the allies. On that date the great Champagne offensive in the west had just failed to attain its objectives and the French and British armies had sustained heavy losses without the achievement of any particular success."

"In the east the enemy had pressed the gallant armies of Russia back some hundred miles, and the Balkans had just been overrun by the Central powers."

"The overwhelming victories won by the valiant soldiers of Russia have struck terror into the hearts of our foes, and those, coupled with the immortal defense of Verdun by our indomitable French comrades, and the brave resistance of the Italians against overwhelming odds in the Southern Alps, have changed the whole complexion of the landscape."

"Why have our prospects improved?"

The answer is, the equipment of our armies has improved enormously and is continuing to improve.

Immense Artillery Supply

"The British navy until recently has absorbed more than half of the metal workers of this country. The task of building ships and repairing the old ones for the gigantic navy and fitting and equipping them occupies the energies of 3,000,000 men."

"Most of our new factories are now complete; most of the machinery has been set up. Hundreds of thousands of men and women, hitherto unaccustomed to metal and chemical work, have been trained for munitions making."

"Every month we are turning out hundreds of guns and howitzers, light medium and heavy. Our heavy guns are rolling in at a great rate and we are turning out nearly twice as much ammunition in a single week—and, what is more, nearly three times as much heavy shell—as we fired in the great offensive in September, although the ammunition we expended in that battle was the result of many weary weeks accumulation."

Increasing With Great Rapidity

"The new factories and workshops we have set up have not yet attained one-third their full capacity, but their output is now increasing with great rapidity. Our main difficulties in the organization, construction, equipment, labor supply and readjustment have been solved."

"If officials, employers and workmen keep at it with the same zeal and assiduity as they have hitherto employed, our supplies soon will be overwhelming."

"I cannot help thinking that the improvement in the Russian ammunition has been one of the greatest and most unpleasant surprises the enemy has sustained. Still, our task is but half accomplished. Every great battle furnishes additional proof that this is a war of equipment. More munitions means more victories and fewer casualties."

Have Made "Brilliant Beginning"

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons that the government had decided to ask workers to forego their August holidays because of the demand for munitions in France. The August bank holidays will be postponed by royal proclamation.

"Since the June and July holidays were put off," he added, "a great and very favorable change in the military situation has been produced by the allied offensive now in progress."

"That offensive," he continued, "is only in its beginning and it necessarily requires for its success a continuous supply of munitions of all kinds. From the success achieved we have been able to gauge the paramount necessity of avoiding even the slightest risk of restriction of the use of munitions in the field, not merely in the weeks immediately before us, but until our objective is achieved. In the opinion of the commander-in-chief there must be no slackening in the output even for a moment."

"I, therefore, appeal to the patriotism of the workers and the public generally to again postpone their holidays in order that the attack, so brilliantly begun, can be carried through to a triumphant conclusion." He said he was sure co-operation would be forthcoming and that the forces in the field would "be given encouragement and the enemy discouragement in the certain knowledge that the present intensity of bombardment and assault will, if necessary, be continued indefinitely."

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

The headquarters of the members of Local 555, Woolen Spinners' union, 32 Middle street, was last night the scene of a merry gathering, the occasion being the first anniversary of the organization. In the early part of the evening a brief business meeting was held and this was followed by a social hour.

President Austin Kennedy presided over the evening's festivities and after delivering a brief address of welcome he gave a history of the organization and the progress it has made during its twelve months of existence. The principal speaker of the evening was President Frank Warnock of the Trades & Labor council, who spoke on "Unionism." Other speakers were John Hanley of the executive board of the Loomfixers' union, Frank Mullin, president of the Woolen Weavers' union and others.

A varied entertainment program was given and luncheon and cigars were served. The attendance was large, there being representatives of several textile unions of the city. The success of the evening was due to the officers of the organization.

DINNER TO STATE DEPUTY

Members of "Dorchester Lower Mills Council, K.C., Honor Asst. Dist. Atty. D. J. Gallagher

BOSTON, July 14.—The pride which the members of his own council took in the recent election of Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel J. Gallagher to the office of state deputy of the Knights of Columbus was evidenced at a dinner tendered him by the members of "Dorchester Lower Mills Council at the American house last evening.

The affair was informal—a gathering of his friends to voice the satisfaction that his elevation to the highest office within the gift of the membership of the order gave them and to extol the qualities that made him worthy of such honor.

In addition to the chief guest, those seated at the head table who spoke in most eulogistic terms of the state deputy were Mayor James M. Curley, ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, Rev. Francis X. Dolan, D.D., of St. Gregory's church, the council chaplain; Rev. John A. Deagan of Beverly, Judge William J. Day, state secretary of the order; District Deputy John A. Foley and Grand Knight James J. Gallagher of Newton council, a brother of the state deputy; Grand Knight Thomas F. Murray was toastmaster.

The committee in charge comprised Frank P. Fanning, chairman; David A. Heffernan, secretary; Patrick J. Cushman, treasurer; Daniel E. Cameron, John Canavan, John Crowley, James W. Egan, Michael Hannigan, John G. Murray, Thomas F. Campbell, Martin Conlon, John Dillon, Daniel W. Flynn and Owen McLaughlin.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"Daphne and the Pirate," with pretty Lillian Gish in one of the leading parts, was shown at the B. F. Keith theatre, yesterday afternoon and last night, and it will be repeated twice today and tomorrow. One of the chief charms of Miss Gish, and in many respects the keynote of her screen success, is her natural poise, and this is splendidly exemplified in the present play. This is, it might be said, a costume play of another period, and it has the air of romance from beginning to end. In brief the story tells of the career of "Philippe de Mornay," a handsome, dashing young man, adored by women. Bored by his success, and to escape the adulation of his admirers, Philippe rushes away from Paris to a shooting-box in the Green forest. The family of Francois La Tour has always held the position of gamekeeper in the forest and they have always been on intimate terms with the de Mornays. The present gamekeeper has a delightful daughter, who has been educated by the Ursulines, and she is home when Philippe goes to the place. The two meet and for once in his life the gay young man feels the presence of sweetness unadorned. His interest is piqued. But serious complications follow this first meeting, complications which mean death and sensational climaxes galore. Of course the handsome young man and the beautiful girl become happy in their love match, and all ends well. "The Other Man," with the inimitable Roscoe Arbuckle in one of the principal roles, is slightly different from the usual Keystone picture, although it has the usual tangle and the speedy close. Arbuckle for once in his life plays a dual role. First he is the college chap with the high-powered car, who is in love, and secondly he does a splendid reproduction of a Weary Vagabond, a slightly ranting character in the same picture. How the tramp is substituted at a masked ball for the other man makes a funny picture. The cast presenting the piece is wholly adequate.

As aforesaid, the Hearst International News Pictorial is easily the best of the news pictures thrown onto the screen. This week there are shown the following: Effect of British shells over Bulgarian trenches in Greece; First Massachusetts Field Artillery going to the border; recruiting for Second cavalry in Chicago; latest fashions, etc. In addition to these pictures there are several shorter ones which are bound to be interesting. A George Ade fable in slang is one. It deals with the young college graduate who went out to conquer the world, and who came back, after all, and followed his natural bent. The ventilating system of the theatre enables one to keep cool, for the air is drawn in through ducts from the roof and is then whirled into the theatre through many holes in the floor.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Indescribably funny is perhaps the best way to characterize the intensely funny five-act comedy, "The Smugglers," the play in which the celebrated Donald Brian appeared in the role of John Battley Watts at the Merrimack Square theatre yesterday before interested audiences who readily responded with laughter to the many hilarious situations which are developed to their fullest in this screaming play. There is always something to laugh over in this well acted comedy in which poor Mr. Watts has his ups and downs. The play will also be shown at this theatre today and tomorrow at all the performances.

"La Vie de Boheme" was a big number also. Much has been written upon the subject of Bohemian life, some true and some otherwise. Witnessing this splendid picture, one gets a true portrayal of the undercurrents of this life. Throughout the play the genius of Miss Alice Brady is ever present and animates every scene. Be sure to see both of these pictures today as well as the other numbers on this same program, which include the Burton Holmes Travel pictures which are interesting to all.

OWL THEATRE

"The Labyrinth," which is the next of the Equitable's big features to come to the Owl theatre, being scheduled for presentation today and tomorrow, has for its base the story of a woman who sacrifices herself for a suffering sister. This play will also be shown at this theatre today and tomorrow at all the performances.

mission minister in the slums, and between the two gets into the labyrinth of difficulties from which the way out is shown in a startling, but effective way. Gail Kane, who is now known as "The Equitable Girl," plays the part of the big-hearted actress sister and later wife of the minister, and that she fulfills all the expectations of the company is enough to stamp her as an actress and screen artist of the very highest rank. The story is told in a series of pictures which includes some realistic scenes of stage life.

In addition to this wonderful five-act photo-play, other excellent attractions will also be presented at the Owl today and tomorrow. Do not forget that the sliding roof at the Owl always keeps it cooler inside than out on the street.

Canobie lake park has six acts of vaudeville as an attraction for the week, and the show as a whole has everything beaten the proverbial mile as far as vaudeville goes. There are six big acts as ever graced a stage even in the metropolitan centres of the country, and for a feature positively the biggest sensation that has ever played the western states. It is "The Wonder Kettle" and it is certainly all of that and some. With it you can boil water and cook eggs on ice as well as light a pipe or make ice cream and do it all at the same time, now can you imagine anything like that. We don't think you can, and you would hardly believe it until you see it. Roll a rubber ball along the kettle and it comes off a solid piece of marble in less than a second. These are only a few of the many humorous things it performs as well as the sensational and startling ones. There is plenty on the big bill also to please as far as comedy and goodness goes, for there are the renowned Japs, the Yamas with their novelty work, the riot of mirth, melody and song offered by Leonore Sherwood and Burrell. The "Soldier Without an Army," as presented by Jimmy Lyons, is one of the hits of the show, while the gymnasts of the Todd Nards are a well appreciated act. Then for a closing laugh there are the "Two Smoky Dicks," Bailey and Thomas. Sunday the usual band concert will be offered by the Lawrence Brass band, a well arranged program already being arranged. Sunday also should be a great day for the folks hereabout especially those who have loved ones with the troops on the border, for the first band concert will be offered by the Framingham before their departure for the border will be shown.

MEMBERS OF EIGHTH REGIMENT OF MASSACHUSETTS REPORT TO NIGHT DRILL—QUICK WORK

EL PASO, Tex., July 14.—Determined to be fully ready for a night attack, and to guard against such confusion as is said to have reigned among the American troops when the Villa raid was made on Columbus, the command officers of the Eighth and Ninth regiments have begun a series of late night false alarms. The first of these took place just before 11 o'clock Wednesday night, when Col. Graves of the Eighth regiment routed his men from their sleep and had them prepare to resist an enemy quickly and noiselessly as possible.

It took just seven minutes from the time the signal was given to the time that a little line was formed by two of the companies, and the men of the other companies, as per directions, stood ready to participate in the supposed action.

RAIN AFFECTED OUTINGS

THUNDER STORM IN THE AFTERNOON INTERFERED WITH THE AMUSEMENT PROGRAMS

Yesterday's rain to a very great extent marred the pleasure of the outings held by the various Lowell stores yesterday. Just at the time when the real enjoyment of the day was getting well under way, a thunderstorm broke over the beaches, upsetting all the arrangements for the afternoon's enjoyment on the beach. The programs of sports prepared for the amusement of the parties had to be abandoned except so far as they could be carried out under the various shelters along the beaches. The A. G. Pollard company's employees in spite of the weather had a very enjoyable day at Nahassett while the Chaffoux store people at Nantasket refused to be downcast by such a trifle as the rain of the afternoon. They devised good substitutes for the sporting events that had to be dropped on account of the weather. They proved a very jolly gathering and mirth and merriment had full swing throughout the day.

The Bon Marche party was delayed a full hour at Rowe's wharf, Boston, because of a stop and change of cars at Melrose, something which nobody seemed to understand. But it caused the party to lose a full hour, which was spent in the sweltering heat at Rowe's wharf. They arrived there just in time to see the Nantasket boat pull out at quarter past 10 o'clock.

Arriving at the beach at 12 o'clock, the party immediately went to the Palm Garden, where an appetizing shore dinner was served. After dinner the party started out on pleasure bent, on boating, bathing, fishing, dancing and all the other attractions which were enjoyed until the rain came down. The clouds lifted before taking the boat at 6.45 and the sail was delightful. The party on the boat and afterwards on the cars kept up their hilarity, each car having a number of vocalists who led in songs and choruses.

The two carloads from Saunders' market had a fine time at Rowe's. They utilized all the facilities for amusement along the beach but on account of the rain they did not spend much time in the water.

Curley's Market

The employees of Curley's market in John street closed for the day, but they are weatherwise. They knew it was going to rain, and spent the day about town.

KILLED PLAYING TAG

BOSTON, July 14.—A game of tag with some of his little playmates cost the life last night of John Grillo, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Grillo of 108 Pleasant street, Watertown.

The child started to run across the street in front of his home and had barely stepped into the gutter when he was knocked down by a motor truck filled with stone and operated by Albert K. Work of Arsenal street, Watertown. The truck passed over his body decapitating the head.

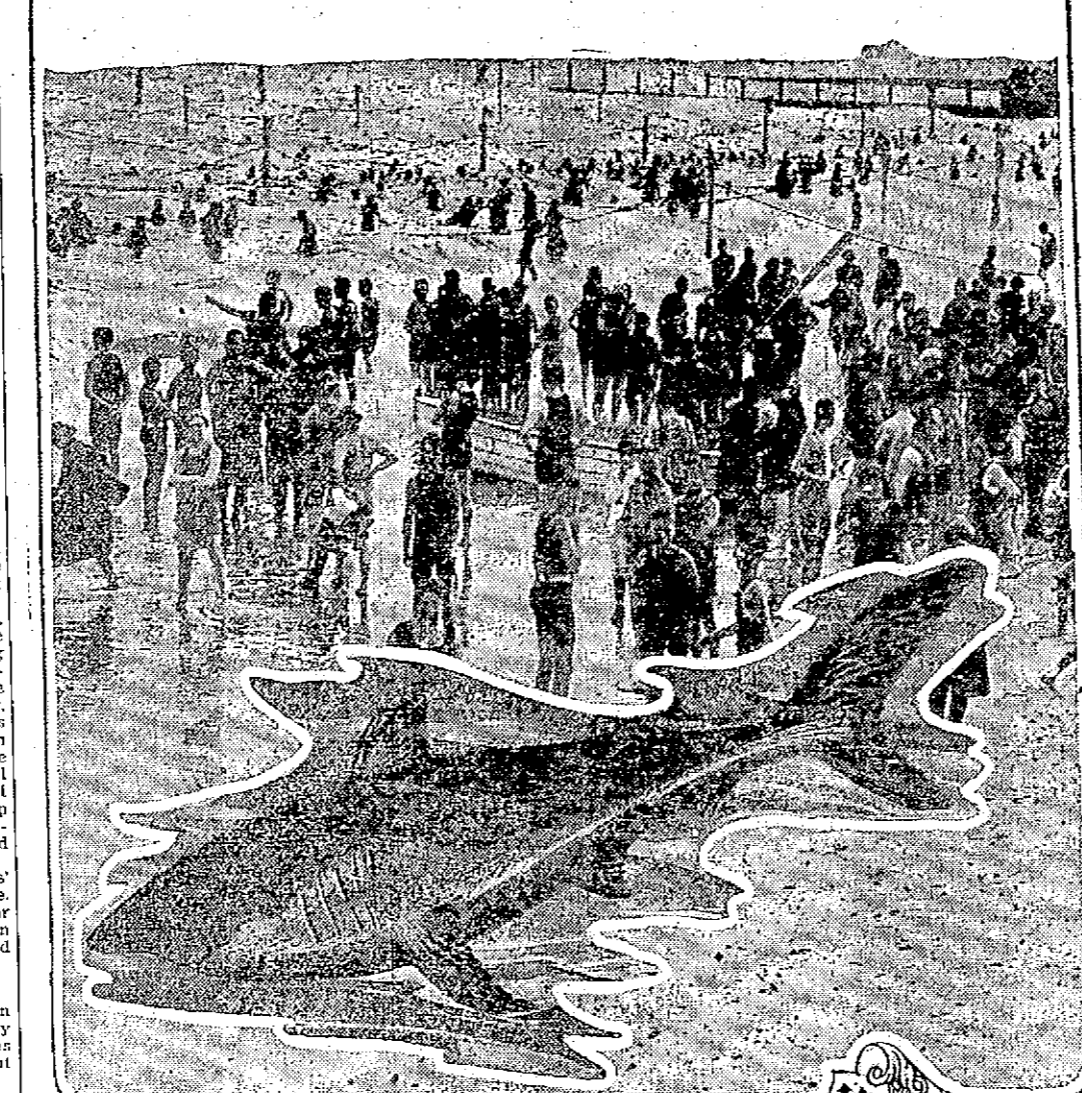

Work was arrested on a charge of manslaughter and will be arraigned this morning in the Waltham district court.

"WARE SHARKS!" CRY AT NEW YORK BEACHES

FOUR KILLED, ONE MAIMED, BY SEA MONSTER

CROWDED BEACH NEAR NEW YORK; MAN EATING SHARK

Beach resorts near New York were thoroughly alarmed by the recent attacks of sharks on bathers, resulting in four deaths and one maiming, and feared the killing of the season unless the sharks were captured speedily. Hundreds of men, with rifles, spears, dynamite and nets, searched New Jersey waters for the man eating shark that in its third attack since July 2 killed two men and two boys and maimed another boy. The scare that has gone the rounds of many New Jersey resorts since the first shark raid on bathers has not reached Coney Island and other places near New York, but bathhouse keepers said they would take precautions against a visit from sharks, although they do not believe there is any danger. Life guards will be stationed beyond the life lines to watch for possible approach, and if necessary the men will be armed. Fishermen will be stationed on piers with baited shark hooks. Men familiar with the habits of fish are frankly puzzled over the shark raids. Assuming that one man eater is responsible, it must have a long heat. It has been seen at Spring Lake, N. J., and at Bridgehampton, N. Y. If it is the same shark that went to Mattawan it must have skirted all of the lower bay of New York and at some time within the last few days passed Coney Island and the Rockaways. Pictures show a crowded bathing beach near New York and a man eating shark.

TO LOAN $100,000,000

NEW CORPORATION HEADED BY J. P. MORGAN & CO. ORGANIZED TO MAKE LOAN TO FRANCE

NEW YORK, July 14.—A corporation to be known as the American Foreign Securities company, will be organized by a group of bankers, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co. and Brown Brothers & Co., to loan $100,000,000 to the French government, it was formally announced here last night. The company will have paid up capital of $10,000,000 and will issue three-year 5 per cent. notes to the amount of $95,000,000 in this market.

The notes are to be secured with a margin of 20 per cent. by obligations of the governments of Argentina, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Switzerland, Holland, Uruguay, Egypt, Brazil, Spain, Province of Quebec, shares of the Suez Canal company and bonds and shares of American corporations. Application to list these bonds on the New York stock exchange soon will be made.

Robert Bacon, former ambassador to France and a former partner in the Morgan banking house, is to be president of the company. The list of directors is representative of the leading financial interests of the country. The notes will be offered to the public some time next week.

STORM BREAKS HOT WAVE

THREE MORE DEATHS IN GREATER BOSTON DUE TO THE HEAT—MAN KILLED BY LIGHTNING

BOSTON, July 14.—Three deaths and many prostrations were reported in greater Boston yesterday, due to the third day of excessive heat.

One man was killed by lightning in New Bedford during a severe storm. Another death, indirectly caused by an early morning thunder storm on Hull, was also reported.

The drive of Old Sol and Gen Humidity upon Boston is ended, temporarily at least. Under a sharp shower of cool rain from the artillery of Old Jupe Pluvius yesterday afternoon, the heat battalions were dispersed and relief came at last.

Following a night of unusual severity, due to the absence of even the slightest breeze, in which the thousands sleeping outdoors were as uncomfortable as their brethren in more conventional surroundings, the morning dawned with threatening pointers the temperature at 7 o'clock reaching the 90 mark, one degree higher for that hour than the day previous.

The rise of the mercury was then handicapped for several hours by a slightly overcast sky, but with the sun again unobscured, at 11 o'clock, the degree below the 90 mark, it promised to be a record-breaker. A slight shower which promised much, but petered out, brought the thermometer down to 88 at noon.

The relief was only temporary, however, for Old Sol again got busy and at 1 o'clock, 90 degrees was reached. A half-hour later the advance guard of the storm, which had played such havoc in New York and Connecticut during the morning made its appearance in a low-lying bank of clouds and the temperature dropped four degrees in half an hour.

At about 2 o'clock a rain which started in as a slight shower developed into a torrential downpour for a few minutes and then continued with a steadiness that indicated the certain breaking of the heat wave.

While the storm was of only ordinary severity in the city proper, only 13 of an inch of rain falling, many of the outlying districts suffered heavily from the miniature cloudbursts and the effects of lightning. Dorchester in particular received its full force, one bolt freeing a pair of horses from a hay wagon, while another struck a flagpole on a house, and passed clear through to the cellar, knocking down a servant girl in the kitchen on its way. Several street car fuses were blown out.

In Brighton a wooden house was struck by lightning and set afire, but the blaze was promptly put out by the neighbors.

PRESIDENT TO TAKE CRUISE

WASHINGTON, July 14.—President Wilson plans to spend the week-end on board the naval yacht Mayflower down the Potomac river and Chesapeake bay. Accompanied by Mrs. Wilson he will leave late today to cruise until Sunday night or Monday morning.

KILLED IN FRIENDLY DOUT

CONCORD, N. H., July 14.—John Grant, a private in the militia camp here, was killed last night while engaged in a friendly boxing match with another private named Dosses.

During an exchange of blows Grant was hit in the stomach and collapsed. When companions started to assist him to his feet they found that he was dead. The medical referee decided that death was due to the shock of the blow. An autopsy will probably be held. Both men came from the town of Berlin.

THIRD DAY OF STRIKE

MEN STAND FIRM FOR RECOGNITION OF THEIR UNIONS—LEADERS IN CHARGE

PORTLAND, Me., July 14.—The beginning of the third day of the strike of the operatives and firemen of the Cumberland County Power & Light Co. found the men apparently firm in their stand for recognition of their unions and reinstatement of the discharged employees, and trolley traffic in Portland and suburbs is practically at a standstill.

A few cars, operated with crews secured from the 95 strike breakers, who arrived from Boston yesterday, and several of the regular men who remained loyal to the company, and guarded by deputy sheriffs were run occasionally through Congress street and to Westbrook amid the jeers of crowds which lined Congress street in the vicinity of Monument square. They carried very few passengers, according to strike leaders. An additional lot of 60 men arrived on the boat from Boston.

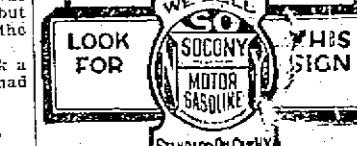

A meeting of the strikers and sympathizers was adjourned from the small hall, hired when the strike began, to city hall because of the size of the crowd in attendance. Addresses were made during the forenoon by international union officials and a statement was expected to be received from the company on its position as the result of a conference between its officials and representatives of their employees.

The body of an unknown woman was found floating in the Merrimack river near its junction with the Concord river in the rear of the Barry Snow Co. at the foot of Stackpole street this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons were notified and they removed the body to their funeral parlors in Market street.

The body is that of a woman about 30 years old, weighing about 110 pounds, and measuring about 5 feet 2 inches. The body was scantily attired in undergarments and had been in the water for a long time, for the features are almost unrecognizable. The young woman was of dark complexion and had dark hair. There is nothing on the body to aid in the identification.

ON THE SQUAREA LITTLE AHEAD
Lord Nelson, that great English admiral, had the personal trait of always being a little ahead in everything he did. If he had an engagement at a specified time he would always be there before that time. He once said that he owed his success in life to this trait. Chalifoux's also, are always a little ahead in all their undertakings. They are ahead not only in their choice of men's and women's styles, but also in their methods of doing business. As this trait helped Nelson, so it has helped us.

STRIKERS BACK TO WORK

ELEVATOR OPERATIVES RETURN
AFTER CONFERENCE—GET $14 A WEEK

BOSTON, July 14.—Striking elevator operators returned to work today after a conference at the state house at which a compromise was reached in the matter of wage demands. The men had asked for $15 a week and were given $14, it was announced. The offensive north of the Somme the British at daylight this morning attacked the German second line defenses and, according to the report of their commander, Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, succeeded in penetrating them on a front of four miles. Press despatches added that the villages of Bazentin-le-Grand and Longueval, north of Montauban, had been captured.

Lowell	2	0	2	0	0	2	0	0	x	6	10	2

The Springfield Ponies, the heaviest hitting outfit in the Eastern league, arrived in town this noon for a two days' stay during which time they will meet the Lowell team in three games. The Ponies are headed by Jack Flynn, one of the best first basemen in the league.

With the exception of one change in the outfield the Springfield lineup is the same as on its last visit here. Parks who played right field has been turned loose and in his place is a youngster named Smith.

Springfield has dropped two places in the league standing since last month, a recent slump proving disastrous to the team's standing. With such hitters as Smith, Boone, Hammond, Flynn and Egan the team is by no means out of the race.

Manager Kilhullen presented the same team today. Ralph O'Connell, former New London shortstop who was injured two weeks ago tomorrow, is back in uniform but his arm is still sore.

Collins, a promising looking southpaw, who hails from Andover and played with Pittsburgh two years ago, appeared in a Lowell uniform this afternoon and warmed up prior to the game. It is expected that he will be a valuable asset to the Lowell team.

Lohman was on the mound again today and Kilhullen was behind the bat. The visitors had Justin in the box with Stephens on the receiving end of the battery. The game was called at 3 o'clock by Umpire Ennis, the batting order of the teams being as follows:

Lowell	Springfield
Stimpson 1f	Booe 1f
Whalen 1b	Ricouda 1b
Robinson 2b	Smith 2b
Heifrich 3b	Hammond 3b
Kilhullen c	Flynn c
Greenhalge 3b	Booe 3b
Kane of	Hickey 3b
Torphy ss	Stephens ss
Lohman p	Justin p

Lowell scored two runs in the first inning while the visitors were retired in rapid order.

Booe and Ricouda sent grounders to Greenhalge and never had a look at the initial bag. Smith rolled an easy grounder to Whalen and died at first.

No runs, no hits, no errors. Stimpson opened the latter half of the inning with a fly to Hickey. Whalen sent the ball along the left field foul line for a two-bagger and scored on a timely single to centre by Robinson. Robinson went to second on the throw to the plate to get Whalen. Heifrich was retired on strikes. Kilhullen sent the sphere to left centre for two bases and Robinson scored. Greenhalge drew a base on balls but Kane was third out on a high fly to Hammond.

Two runs, three hits, no errors. Score—Lowell 2, Springfield 0.

Second Inning
Springfield tied the score in the second inning by sending two men across the plate.

Hammond opened the second with a single to right field and Flynn followed with a two-bagger to the left field fence. On the third ball pitched to Low, Lohman threw wild and Hammond scored. Low then walked to first. Hickey fled to Greenhalge. Stephens fouled off to Kilhullen and after the ball had been caught both men on base tried to advance and Flynn scored when Torphy tried to get Low at second. Justin closed the inning by striking out.

Two runs, two hits, no errors. Torphy grounded to Justin and was out at first. Lohman followed with a strike-out. Stimpson singled to centre and went to second on Whalen's hit to left garden. Hickey then made a nice catch of Robinson's fly to left field.

No runs, two hits, no errors. Score: Lowell 2, Springfield 2.

Third Inning
Booe fled to Greenhalge in back of second base. Whalen grabbed Torphy's high throw on Ricouda's grounder and the runner was out at first. Smith fled to Heifrich.

No runs, no hits, no errors. Heifrich sent a grounder along the first base line and beat the ball to first. He went to second on Kilhullen's sacrifice. Greenhalge went out. Hammond to Flynn, Heifrich going to third on the play. Heifrich scored on Ricouda's wide throw. A Kane's grounder. Kane went to 3rd on the error. Torphy followed with a Texas leaguer and Kane scored. Lohman stogled by short stop but Stimpson was retired on strikes.

Two runs, three hits, one error. Score—Lowell 4, Springfield 2.

Fourth Inning
Hammond got a neat single between second and short. Flynn fled to Whalen and Low foul-flied to Heifrich. Hickey sent a grounder to Heifrich who threw to Greenhalge, forcing out Hammond.

No runs, one hit, no errors. Whalen sent a grounder to Hammond and died at first. Robinson drew a base on balls, but was nailed while trying to steal second. Heifrich struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors. Score: Lowell 4, Springfield 2.

Fifth Inning
Stephens struck out and Greenhalge a little later got Justin's fly about four yards from first base. Boone singled, but he died on first for Ricouda was retired on strikes.

No runs, one hit, no errors. Kilhullen sent a drive to Low and was out at first. Greenhalge then cracked a grounder to Ricouda, but the latter threw bad and the runner was safe. Kane and Torphy struck out.

No runs, no hits, one error. Score: Lowell 4, Springfield 2.

Sixth Inning
Smith singled to centre and Hammond fled to Torphy. Stimpson gathered in Flynn's high fly to left. Smith was later caught trying to steal second, Kilhullen making an accurate throw to second.

No runs, one hit, no errors. Lowell got two more runs in the latter half of the inning. Lohman opened with a single to left and went to second on Stimpson's sacrifice. Ricouda and Hammond collided in chasing Whalen's fly to short centre and the ball dropped between them, Lohman scoring. Robinson walked to first, but was forced at second on Heifrich's grounder to Hammond. Justin made a wild pitch and Whalen scored. Heifrich going to third. Kilhullen fouled off to Low.

Two runs, two hits, no errors. Score: Lowell 6, Springfield 2.

Seventh Inning

Mr. Hannah says that pavers and ramblers in Lowell receive less pay than is paid in any other city of the United States of which he has any knowledge. He avers that last year he took the matter up with Mr. Morse and that the latter promised to do better this year. NAVAL COLLIER SINKING

The Hector, Carrying Fifty Marines, in Distress Sixty Miles Off Charleston

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 14.—The naval collier Hector, bound for Santo Domingo, carrying 50 marines, is reported sinking about 60 miles off Charleston. The lighthouse tender Cypress went out at 10 o'clock this morning to the assistance of the Hector, but was unable to breast the heavy seas and returned.

The tug Vigilant which had been in wireless communication with the Hector reported at 12.30 p. m. that a steamer was standing by, but it was not known whether she had transferred the marines and crew. Wireless communication is difficult.

At 1.30 o'clock this afternoon wireless advices were that the Hector was out at first and Hickey followed with a base on balls. Stephens sent a grounder to Torphy, who threw to Greenhalge to get Hickey, but Greenhalge dropped the ball and both men were safe. Egan went in to bat for Justin and fled to Greenhalge. Boone singled to centre, scoring Hickey. Ricouda made a savage drive through the pitcher's box and Stephens scored. Smith fouled off to Whalen.

Two runs, two hits, one error. In the latter half of the inning Leroy went in to pitch for Springfield. Greenhalge sent a grounder to Ricouda and was out at first. Kane fled to Boone. Torphy was out on a grounder to Ricouda.

No runs, no hits, no errors. Score: Lowell 6, Springfield 4.

Eighth Inning
Hammond fled to Kilhullen in left centre. Flynn sent a grounder to Torphy and was out at first. Torphy booted Low's grounder and the runner was safe at first. Hickey went out on a fly to Heifrich.

No runs, no hits, no errors. In Lowell's half Lohman sent a fly to Low and Stimpson was out on a grounder to Hammond. Whalen sent a grounder to Low and never saw first.

No runs, no hits, no errors. Score: Lowell 6, Springfield 4.

Ninth Inning
Stephens fled to Kane. Leroy struck out. Boone struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors. Final score: Lowell 6, Springfield 4.

Cleaner Streets

Mayor O'Donnell stated today that he was going to get in touch with the commissioner of streets and highways for the purpose of formulating some plan for a general clean-up of side streets, alleys and yards. The mayor feels that with the street and board of health departments co-operating, it won't take long to make a big improvement in conditions. It is expected that the park department will also get busy and remedy the conditions.

OFFENSIVE IN FRANCEBritish Break Into German Second Line in Somme Region and Capture Important Positions—Fierce Battles on Both Sides of Somme, Says Berlin—German Activity North of Aisne—Russian Successes in Turkish Armenia—Not a Man or Gun Withdrawn From Verdun by Germans

The recent favorable turn of events for the Russians in Turkish Armenia, resulting in their capture of Mamakhatun has been taken advantage of by Grand Duke Nicholas to press the Turks farther westward. The Russians are now operating west of Mamakhatun and also are gaining ground in the Baiburt region to the north along the Tchoruk.

Says British Beaten Off
Berlin's account of the renewed British offensive north of the Somme declares that the first British attacks were beaten off. The attacks were resumed and violent fighting was in progress when the last reports were received from the field.

Assaults by the French south of the Somme, in the vicinity of Barlaux and Estrees were barren of favorable result for them, the German statement declares, as were their attempts to gain ground in the Verdun sector near Fort Souville.

German Gains in East
On the Russian front the battles along the Stokhod are progressing favorably for the Germans, Berlin announces. In Galicia Russian troops which had penetrated Gen. Count von Bothmer's lines were driven out. Rome announces the blowing up by the Italians of the summit of Castel-letto, in the Tofana region, all the Austrians who occupied the position being buried in the debris. The scene of this exploit is in the Dolomite zone, along the border to the northeast of the Trentino.

BRITISH PUSH ONWARD—CAPTURE MORE IMPORTANT POINTS

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE, July 14, 3 p. m. via London, 7 p. m.—The British have now taken both Bazentin-le-Petit and Bazentin-le-Grand, as well as Longueval. The struggle is continuing in the wood beyond Longueval and on the high points of the ridge.

BRITISH RESUME OFFENSIVE AND PENETRATE GERMAN SECOND LINE DEFENSES

LONDON, July 14.—Resuming the

Renewing their great offensive in northern France at daybreak today the British broke into the German second line in the Somme region along a four mile front.

The offensive was still in full swing when the British official statement was issued shortly before noon in London. The villages of Longueval and Bazentin-le-Grand were unofficially reported captured, the Tones wood recaptured and ground east of Contalmaison gained.

The force of the drive was exerted apparently chiefly to the northeast in a push toward the British objective of Bazentaune along the southern flank of the curving German line in the Montauban region.

Longueval lies one and a half miles northeast of Montauban and is approximately six miles from Bazentaune on the main road between that city and Maricourt, while Bazentin-le-Grand lies slightly to the west.

In the Verdun region the Germans have so far not followed up their bombardment for the Fort Souville region by further infantry assaults. Heavy infantry fire in this section is being continued.

German activity was noted north of the Aisne where attempted attacks were stopped by French machine gun fire near Villavau-Bois and on the Vauicerc plateau.

MORE RIOT WITNESSES

GRAND JURY AT SALEM INVESTIGATING LEYDEN DISTURBANCE AT HAVERHILL

HAVERHILL, July 14.—A grand jury of additional witnesses was summoned yesterday afternoon and last night to appear before the Essex county grand jury at Salem today in the April 3 riot probe, including Dr. Thomas E. Leyden of Somerville, around whom the excitement centered.

When City Marshal Mack returned to this city last evening a list of telephone numbers awaited his call and in each instance they proved to be from witnesses who were seeking to be excused from going to Salem to testify. Each one was informed, however, that failure to appear there in compliance with the summons would result in the issuance of a capias.

Out of the 53 witnesses summoned Wednesday night, only 29 were heard yesterday. The prospects are now for a Saturday session of the grand jury.

City Marshal Mack received a telephone message last evening from Dist. Atty. Cox excusing Mayor Bartlett and other members of the city council from attendance today, although they are to await the marshal's call from Salem in the event of their being needed.

Among the new witnesses summoned yesterday was Albert P. Stickney of 33 Cedar street, a postoffice clerk here and a son of Alderman Albert E. Stickney. Summoned were also Edward upon Mayor Bartlett and Aldermen Cook, Hoyt, Stickney and Wood. Another witness summoned was Joseph G. Powers of 43 Jackson street, city sealer of weights and measures.

The list of new witnesses also includes George Coddair, J. Stanley Turner, Louise Gerhauser, Alexander Rolley, Paul Carver, Harry Fred, Harold P. Keefe, Roswell Wedgewood, Dana A. Hinkson, Simon J. Linehan, William Ruan, Daniel Maguire, Jr., William Graham, Dennis J. Ring and William Salkins.

HUBBARDSTON, July 14.—A building containing the general store of Seth P. H. Hale the Williamsville postoffice, and the waiting room of the Boston & Albany Railroad company at Williamsville, a hamlet in the west part of the town, was burned to the ground. A barn adjoining the building was also consumed. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

The building was owned by S. P. H. Hale and the loss is partly covered by insurance. A stock of postcards and a collection of antiques, consisting of furniture, rare coins and stamps destroyed, were highly valued by the owner, William B. Hale, a son of Mr. Hale.

A cottage house nearby owned by Benjamin Collins was saved by the prompt action of a company of Boy Scouts from Milton, who are camping at Williamsville.

NICARAGUAN LEADER DEAD

Dr. Adam Cardenas, Active in Politics for 40 Years, Succumbs at San Juan del Sur

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, July 14.—Dr. Adam Cardenas, head of the conservative party and president of Nicaragua from 1882 to 1885, died here yesterday.

Dr. Cardenas played a prominent part in the stormy politics of Nicaragua for 40 years. In 1869 he organized a revolutionary expedition against President Zelaya from Costa Rica. He was defeated and fled from the country, but returned after the fall of the so-called "Dictator of Central America." He supported President Estrada and was elected president of the Nicaraguan Congress in 1911.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS

GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY DESCRIBES BORDER STATES OF THE UNITED STATES AND MEXICO

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Many interesting facts about the border states of the United States and Mexico have been compiled and issued by the National Geographic Society today as a war geography bulletin on that section of the continent to which our National Guard has been ordered. The Bulletin gives the following comparative statistics:

"While the whole of America is vitally concerned in the present Mexican situation, the great human drama is being enacted along the 1810 mile boundary line which separates the four American border states of California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, and the five border states and one territory of Mexico—Lower California, Sonora, Chihuahua, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, and Tamaulipas. The area of the American border states is a little more than one-sixth the total area of the United States, including Alaska, while the area of the Mexican border states is more than three-sevenths the total area of the republic, yet the territory embraced in the bounds of the American states is almost twice as extensive as that of the six political divisions of the smaller country.

"The population of the six Mexican states is 1,700,000 compared with 6,600,000 on the American side, the former constituting about one-ninth the total population of Mexico, while the four American states have only about one-fourteenth of the total population of the northern republic.

"It is an odd coincidence that the four American states on the border are with the exception of Montana and the territory of Alaska, the four largest political divisions in the Union, while three Mexican border states—Chihuahua, Coahuila and Sonora—and the territory of Lower California are, likewise, the largest divisions of that republic.

"All of the American border states were a part of the Mexican nation up to the middle of the last century when Texas seceded from the southern republic and subsequently cast her lot with the United States. Other territory was acquired in the War of 1848

the boundaries being fixed by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo which followed, and by the Gadsden Purchase.

"The Rio Grande forms a natural boundary line of more than 1100 miles separating Texas from the Mexican states of Chihuahua, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, and Tamaulipas, while the arbitrary boundary of nearly 700 miles, zigzagging from El Paso to a point on the Pacific coast about ten miles south of San Diego, separates New Mexico, Arizona and California from Chihuahua, Sonora and Lower California.

"Five great railway arteries, over which has flowed the commerce of the two republics and which are of vital importance in all military operations, cross the border at Brownsville, Laredo, Eagle Pass, and Nogales. The corresponding Mexican towns are Matamoros, Nuevo Laredo, Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, Juarez, and Nogales, the last named being bisected by the boundary line. The main lines of four of these railroads run in a general north and south direction through the states of Sonora, Chihuahua, Coahuila and Nuevo Leon, but the line which crosses the Rio Grande at Brownsville runs west from Matamoros through Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, and Coahuila, turning to the southwest at Torreon and extending through the state of Durango.

"POWER OF THE NICKEL"

FIVE CENT PIECE IS WORTH SIX CENTS—WAR RESPONSIBLE FOR RISE IN PRICE OF METAL

"The power of the nickel" has been increased, according to discoveries made this week. The "fifty" that you handed the conductor this morning was worth six cents, and every other nickel is worth one cent more than its face value.

What is the cause? The European war, of course.

Street car and telephone companies could make fortunes trafficking in nickels taken by their employees.

In this way the Bay State Street Railway company could virtually secure the six-cent fare for which it has been fighting for weeks in extended hearings before the public service commission.

War time prices have been responsible for this rise in the price of the metal.

Among the amazing possibilities connected with this discovery is the fact that the German submarine Deutschland, here in search of a cargo of nickel and rubber, needed by the Kaiser's government, could be lured to the water line with five-cent pieces, which could be melted or refined into nickel and copper, also high in price because of the abnormal war demand.

According to the best figures obtainable last night, the cost of refining a pound of nickels would be from four to five cents. When $5 worth of nickels were procured and weighed it was found that they tipped the scales at exactly five pounds. If the nickels were melted, however, the cost would not be much over one cent per pound. The refining process is more expensive, as it removes the copper and antimony.

The actual metal contained in the American nickel or five-cent piece at the present market value is worth $0.883551, or nearly one cent more than the face value of the coin. Of this amount, $0.2123758 represents the value of the nickel and $0.6711753 the value of the copper used.

The nickels of the latest coinage weigh 71.16 grains, of which 19.29 grains is nickel and 51.87 grains copper. According to the World Almanac, the coinage of nickels to June 30, 1915, was $35,008,587, a total of $42,750,429.55 in value. On the basis of present nickel and copper prices, however, they are worth $51,300,515.22.

There is no law to prevent the melting of nickels or other United States coin, according to Sub-Treasurer Chas. B. Strecker.

"It is often done in this country by American manufacturers," he said. "We have calls on the average of two or three a week for gold pieces. Jewelers who run short of gold come here for gold money, melt the coins and use the metal for manufacturing purposes. A $20 gold piece contains its actual value in 22-carat gold in addition to 26 grains of copper."

Therefore, it appears that there is nothing in the law of the land to prevent German sympathizers from buying up huge quantities of the plebeian "fifties" to be reduced to metal in a plain state for shipment in the holds of the "Deutschland" to the fatherland.

ARE TO BE REINSTATED

SEN. O'GORMAN SAYS 60TH'S
BE PUT BACK IN REGIMENT

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The fight between military discipline in the army and political persuasion waxed warmer yesterday over the order of Major General Wood, mustering Col. Conley and Lieut. Col. Phelan of the Sixty-ninth New York Infantry out of the federal service on account of physical disability.

After a conference at the White House with the president, Senator O'Gorman said the two officers would be reinstated. Secretary of War Baker indicated that he was not going to act until he had carefully examined Gen. Wood's statement embodying the report of the military surgeon who found the two officers physically disqualified.

It is clear, however, that if there is any technical flaw in the procedure in the case of the two officers, the war department will respond to representations made to the white house from political quarters. It is not yet certain, however, whether Sen. Baker will follow this course if the report from General Wood shows that the ordinary routine military procedure was followed.

There is keen resentment in army circles over the insinuation that General Wood had any interest in the mustering out of the two officers. All that Gen. Wood has done, army officers say, is to endorse the report of the army surgeon.

The army surgeon is practically supreme in his sphere. It is explained. Army officers are not supposed to know about purely medical subjects, and it is ethics in the army for the military surgeon to decide unhindered all cases of physical unfitness.

Reports were current here tonight that Secretary Baker had received information justifying the belief that

TIME'S UP --- Saturday the Sale Ends

An order for a Behr Bros. piano or player-piano, accompanied by the initial payment of FIVE DOLLARS, if placed before the close of business Saturday night, will be filled and delivered immediately upon its arrival. Your money back if you are not satisfied.

The sale is not closing without everyone having a fair opportunity to take advantage of it. If we had restricted the sale strictly to the number of Behr Bros. instruments originally arranged for---the sale would now be a matter of history.

We decided upon a definite closing day, which is Saturday. Thus any order received for a Behr Bros. piano or a Behr Bros. player-piano up to Saturday at the close of business will be filled.

These orders will be numbered as they are received and filled and delivered in the order received.

Those who can call may select the style they wish from the instruments on our floors which are sold but not delivered.

Those who cannot visit our warerooms can order easily and intelligently from our Book of Photographs, showing all styles of Behr Bros. instruments, which we will gladly mail, if request is made immediately.

The initial payment of Five Dollars must accompany all orders whether left at the store or sent in by mail. All orders will be accepted and filled subject to all conditions of sale—even to the delivery of the instrument into your home upon the first payment of Five Dollars and giving you your money back at the end of 30 days' trial if you wish it.

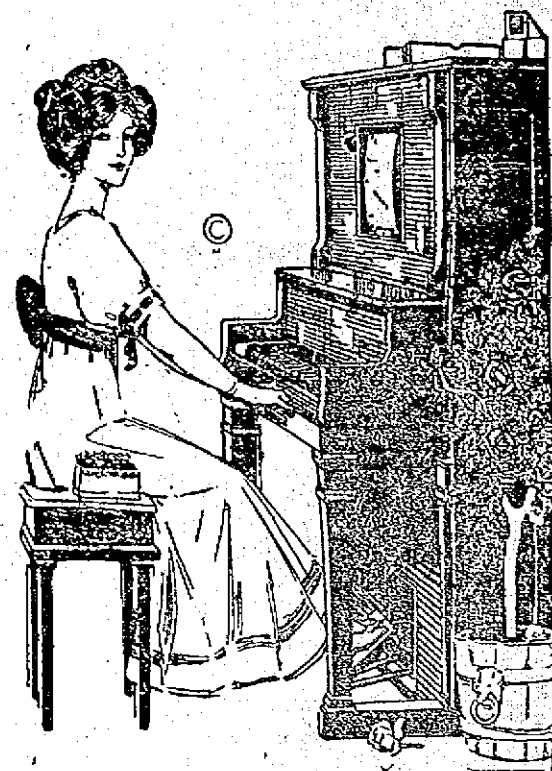

Also all orders will be held subject to delivery at a time convenient to you.

DEFENDS PNEUMATIC TUBE

Congressman Urges Retention of the Plant Now to Use at the Boston Postoffice

WASHINGTON, July 14.—That the abandonment of the present pneumatic mail tube service and the substitution for it of the motor trucks which Postmaster General Burleson is said to favor, would probably work more hardship to Boston than to any other city, was stated yesterday by Congressman Peter F. Tague of Boston, who is making a hard fight for the retention of the present service.

"Because of Boston's narrow streets in the business and financial district," the congressman explained, "it now suffers from a traffic congestion which additional motor trucks would render almost impossible to handle. The great advantages of pneumatic tube service are its high speed and the fact that mail can be sent every 10 seconds."

SLEEPYTIME TALES

THE THREE E CHILDREN

Once upon a time Eve, the Three E children's little rabbit, followed Eric, the dog, down the shore. The children had gone to look for crabs and Eric thought it a good time to take a swim. He didn't see Eve hopping along behind him nor did he see her follow him down close to the water. It was very hot and the water was nice and cool, so Eric splashed and swam about until he was nice and cool and ready to come out and go home. He swam ashore and shook the water off from his dripping body and ran to the rocks to lie down and dry.

Eve hopped about on the shore and nibbled at the bugs and ran her soft nose down in the wet sand until she looked almost as big and sandy as herself.

Eric was almost asleep when he heard a funny noise and looked up just in time to see a wave come up where Eve was playing and carry her off into the water.

Eve tried to swim but she couldn't and it looked as though the children would lose their pet but Eric jumped up, ran down and swam out until he reached his little friend.

He put out one paw, drew her toward him and then, very carefully, he took hold of her with his mouth and held her up high over his head while he swam toward the shore. When he reached the beach he let her go and she ran up toward the house as fast as her legs would carry her.

The children were just coming home and Ethel ran to get their pet. When she saw how wet it was she called out to the others, saying, "Look, I am sure Eve has been in the water and of course she couldn't swim. How did she ever get out?"

Just then Eric came running along and poked his head into Ethel's hand as much as to say, "If I could talk I could tell you all about it, but you understand, don't you?" And the children did and they took good care that Eve never went down to the beach unless they were near.

Poor little Eve. She had her lesson,

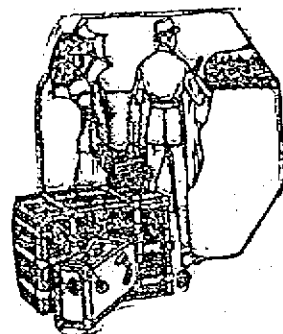

ASK CHANGE IN CLAYTON LAW

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Representatives of several large railroads yesterday appeared before the senate judiciary committee in support of a proposal to postpone to 1918 the effective date of the section of the Clayton anti-trust act prohibiting common carriers from dealing in more than $50,000 worth of securities or supplies with any corporation in one year, where the two organizations have interlocking directors in whole or in part. It was argued that the two years given to reorganize was too short.

POLICE COURT SESSION

MEY FINED FOR SWINDLING IN CANAL—BIG JUVENILE SESSION BEFORE JUDGE ENRIGHT

Owing to the number of cases to be heard in the regular and juvenile sessions of police court this morning, it was necessary for two judges to preside, Judge Enright sitting in the juvenile court and Judge Fisher in the regular court.

Disturbed the Peace

Charles J. Warner and James McKean were charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace. Patrolman O'Connell and Tansey testified that the men got into a mixup on Central street shortly before 6 o'clock last night and during the battle scores of people were attracted to the scene. Both officers said that the defendants were under the influence of liquor. The court found both guilty and ordered each to pay a fine of $10 for disturbing the peace, the cases of drunkenness being placed on file.

Swimming in the Canal

Joseph Dube and Frank H. Croteau were charged with trespassing on the land of the Locks & Canals Corp. in Amory street. According to the testimony of Patrolman Swanwick the two young men were swimming in the canal near the Boat Mills despite the fact that there are several signs posted warning people not to enter the water. The defendants admitted their guilt and each was ordered to pay a fine of $1.

Neglected His Wife

Thomas F. Gilday, charged with failing to provide proper support for his wife Ellen, was given a suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction.

Thomas M. Cox and Mary J. Powers, charged with drunkenness, were sentenced to the state farm. Joseph G. Weaver, Frederick Cronin, Michael Burke and Joseph J. Donohue were each given a suspended sentence of one month in jail. John C. Cox was given a suspended sentence of two months in jail. James Ryan, John Rhoddy, Arthur Colleton and Catherine Rowbottom were each fined $5.

Juvenile Session
There was a long list of cases in the juvenile session and three delinquents were sentenced to the Lyman school.

One boy after being found guilty of unlawfully removing and placing a gravestone in the Edison cemetery was committed to the industrial school at Shirley.

in conditions and he maintains that conditions have improved, but that at no time did he intimate or suggest that he would pay the pavers $4 a day when they were performing laborers' work. And this, he declares, is the pavers' grievance. They would be satisfied with one day if it was paid them for all kinds of work.

In diving into the facts, past and present, Mr. Hannah takes at least one blind plunge. He says that in the face of Mr. Morse's statement to the effect that conditions of employment would improve, the striking fund $30,000 turned over the sinking fund $30,000 over expense for the year 1915, which could have been used and ought to have been used to do the necessary repairs and give more steady employment to the pavers and ramblers of the city of Lowell.

"I did not turn back a cent to the sinking fund of the general treasury," said Mr. Morse, "and if I did it would have been against the law. The money was borrowed for black paving and money borrowed for a specific purpose must be expended for that particular purpose. The paving money remaining over from last year is being spent this year, and somebody evidently has directed Mr. Hannah up the wrong street."

Commissioner Morse, on several occasions, has made the statement that he has lost six weeks on account of the rain and that as a result his street work is six weeks behind. Mr. Hannah says the records of the weather bureau do not bear out Mr. Morse's statement and Mr. Hannah says Mr. Morse is using the statement as an apology to the people of Lowell for his failure to do the work. Mr. Hannah says the paving and repaving work did not start until the first of May and that it should have been started not later than April.

"It is evident," said Mr. Hannah, "that Commissioner Morse does not understand how the various cities contract their work and why they do it. There is a clause which prevents the contractor from subletting. The pavers employed by the contractor is paid from $5.00 to $7.00 a day for eight hours. He has no task to perform in the morning, and he is paid to do the number of days' work, the same as the pavers in the city of Lowell are doing, and is paid this amount as a flat figure, regardless of yardage. The only difference between contract work and day work is that the city does not in all cases give the best workmanship, and work done under contract system is more costly to tax payers."

"The city of Lowell has some of the best and finest paved streets to be found in any section of the United States and with a lower cost of yarding than elsewhere. For workmanship and skill, the streets themselves are the best argument. Commissioner Morse's argument would lead one to believe that the pavers and ramblers were receiving good pay in Lowell, when in fact the condition of pavers and ramblers are as bad as common laborers. He would put them to work for three or four days, and then pay them wages, then put them to work for the balance of the day for laborers' wages, sometimes keeping them as laborers for three and four days, and with the result that the paver was no better off than if he was doing a common laborer's work. No mechanic would be expected to tolerate a contracting mechanic pay them mechanics' wages, no matter what they are employed as, as long as they are rated as mechanics. It is up to Commissioner Morse to get laborers to do the work required, so as to keep the pavers and ramblers employed from the first of April until the first day of December, excepting rainy weather, and when you take in to consideration how laborious this class of work is, with your back bent over all day, the weight of your body resting on your limbs, with the hot sun beating down upon you, the hot sand burning your feet, the danger of falling from the flint of the street in handling the old stone, the constant strain upon the body, I think you will conclude that $1.50 a day from the first day of April to the first day of December is not too much to ask of the people of Lowell to pay their paving $1.00 per day and up for the same class of work. Hiring Pavers Here

It was stated today that men from Boston are endeavoring to hire pavers in Lowell and report that Paul Hannagan of Lawrence, who was recently made consulting engineer on street work in Boston, was short of pavers, and hearing of the trouble in Lowell, sent lieutenants here to see if they could hire some of the striking pavers. The report also had it that the pavers offered was $5 a day. There are about 24 pavers in Lowell. Asked if he had heard that Boston men were looking for pavers in Lowell, Mr. Morse said: "I haven't heard anything to that effect. Mr. Hannagan told me the other day that he could place at least 100 of my pavers and I told him, 'I had my permission. Out of town men are at liberty to hire Lowell pavers and Lowell pavers are at liberty to go where they please. I do not know of anything to stop them.'"

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

BOY STRUCK DOWN BEFORE SOCIETY GOLFERS—LATTER THEN KNEEL AND PRAY

NEW YORK, July 14.—More than a score of society women, including Mrs. Oscar Lewisohn, formerly Edna May, the actress, narrowly escaped death from lightning on the grounds of a golf club at Great Neck, L. I., late yesterday, when Felix Jacobus, a caddy, was struck and instantly killed within a few feet of them. As the body of the caddy was carried from the field all the women in the party fell upon their knees and prayed.

The Great Neck tragedy occurred while Mrs. Lewisohn and Mrs. Charles H. Goddard, wife of the president of the golf club, were engaged in an exciting game. They were negotiating for position, when Jacobus, holding the club, was hit and fell dead in front of them.

Three other persons were killed by lightning, much property damage was caused by a violent thunderstorm, accompanied by a 40-mile gale from the west, which swept this city and vicinity. The temperature dropped 15 degrees in 15 minutes, bringing relief to thousands of persons who had been sweating in intense heat for 45 hours.

Henry Riegan, 21, a molder, was struck by lightning and killed while repairing a pigeon coop on the roof of a building in this city. A laborer seeking shelter in a barn at Elizabeth, N. J., was struck and instantly killed while opening the door. Thousands of commuters and others, it was announced last night, were marooned on trains along the line of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad as far as Bridgeport, Conn.

The high voltage wires from which the electric trains are operated were reported down at several points between Stamford and New York, affecting schedules all the way to New Haven. Half a dozen express trains due to arrive here early in the evening from Boston and other points on the New Haven line were hours behind time.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CASE

JUDGE FISHER FOUND YOUNG DESMOND NOT GUILTY—BASEBALL SUIT RETURNED

In the case of James A. Shanley of the high school vs. William J. Desmond, a graduate who failed to return his baseball uniform on the time fixed by the school, a charge of larceny was preferred it seemed without any foundation. The boy had no intention of holding the suit. An attempt was made to prevent him graduating because he had left the suit at a camp and could not get it before the exercises opened. Another suit was given as proof of good faith. This was taken back through no fault of the defendant and then the school authorities preferred a charge of larceny and brought the case to court. William J. Carroll, Esq., appeared for Desmond and scouted the idea that there was any intention to keep the suit. He asked if every boy who violates one of the rules of the school is brought to police court. The suit was produced in court but Lawyer Carroll insisted upon a decision upon the evidence adduced. Judge Fisher found the boy not guilty and then the baseball uniform was handed over to Mr. Shanley of the high school.

SENATE RESUMES DEBATE

TO EXPEDITE THE CONSIDERATION OF THE NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The senate resumed debate today on the naval appropriation bill with leaders determined to expedite its consideration. It was plain that there would be no partisan opposition and an indication that the senate is in sympathy with increases written in by the naval committee was seen in the unopposed adoption of an amendment increasing the navy's enlisted strength to 55,700 men. The present strength is 54,000.

The building program probably will be reached within a few days.

COSTA IN FAMILY ROW

There was a lively row in Central street near the corner of Union street about 10:30 o'clock this morning when John Costa was assaulted by a relative. According to what could be learned by the police and the ambulance driver there was a family quarrel and Costa was beaten about the face and head. The ambulance was taken to St. John's hospital where he received treatment.

ARRESTED SUSPECT LET GO

A young man, who has a police record, was arrested late last night on suspicion of having committed the break in Lyle's jewelry store in Central street but after being questioned the police were satisfied that he knew nothing of the affair. Although he appeared in the dock in police court this morning as a suspicious person he was released from custody.

FIRE IN NEWSPAPER PLANT

An alarm from box 14 at 9:30 o'clock this morning summoned a portion of the fire department to a slight blaze in the composing room of the Boston Globe at the corner of Market and Tilden streets. One of the employees was using kerosene to wash type and some of the liquid dripping on the floor became ignited. The blaze was extinguished before any material damage was done.

The affair will be conducted on the beautiful lawn of the old Reed estate, now owned by Chrysoleue Picard, and the dates set for the event are Aug. 5-7.

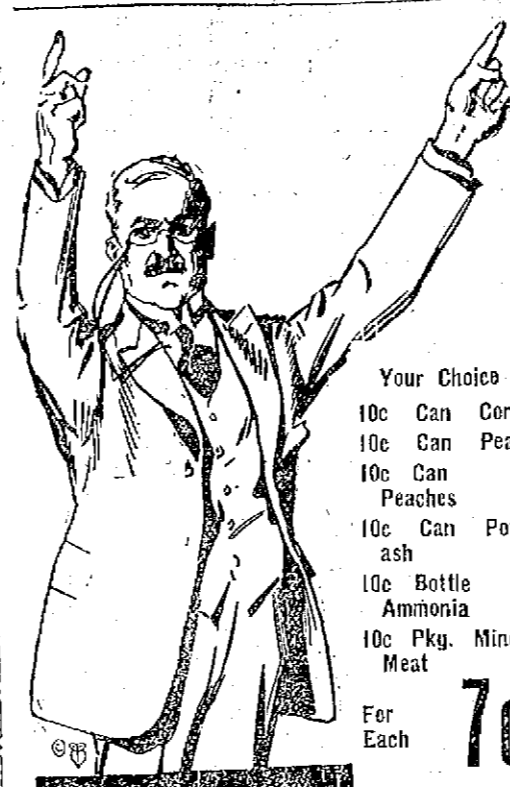

A meeting of the interested parties will be held Sunday afternoon in the parochial school hall, at which time a committee will be appointed with delegates from the various organizations. The lawn party will be given under the personal direction of the pastor, Rev. J. B. Labossiere.

STRONG NAVY URGED

Makes for Peace, Says Senator Lodge—Senate to Pass New Law Promptly

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The senate considered yesterday the naval appropriation bill which provides $315,000,000 for the navy. Senators Tillman, Swanson, Lodge and others urged its passage. Senator Swanson, who has charge of the measure for Senator Tillman, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, made a vigorous speech, showing how important it is for the United States to have the second best navy in the world. "It is conceded," said he, "that this is the best and most progressive naval bill ever presented to congress in the history of this nation."

Senator Lodge, speaking for the republicans of the committee, said the senate should give its undivided support to the naval bill; that a great navy would do more for the peace of this and other nations than any other making of note-writing. "If the essential features of this program are carried out," said he, "it will do more for our peace than all the diplomatic notes ever written. If there be any nation, east or west, that cherishes any feeling of hostility toward the United States, it will take notice of this program and it will have a great soothing effect and do more to promote peace than a most lavish use of the English language."

"I am aware that the amount is large, but money spent on navy is the most economical expenditure made by this congress. The American people may well resent some expenditures for local improvements, but I do not believe anyone begrudges the money to build up our navy."

Cheap Navy, False Economy

"The navy cannot be built up cheaply—that would be false economy. It is a great task to make our navy what it should be, but this bill goes far in that direction. The problem is to create a navy sufficiently strong to protect both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. We cannot rely on the Panama canal to transfer our navy from one ocean to the other. In its very nature the canal is vulnerable."

"No matter how well it is fortified one man so inclined—one spy—could place a bomb in the right place, clog the canal for weeks or months. We must have a fleet for each ocean."

Senator Lodge declared that every United States ship afloat, if it be of the first line of defense, should have its full complement of men. He advocated the three-year program for eight capital ships saying that the need for battle cruisers is great but the dreadought—mainstay of the navy—is an absolute essential."

Mr. Lodge urged the establishment of maintenance of a merchant naval armament with arms and armaments available so that this could be quickly transferred into warships in case of war.

Value of Naval Supremacy

Senator Swanson declared the history of the world teaches that naval supremacy ultimately means national pre-eminence and triumph. "The few years preceding this great war," he said, "marked the most tremendous territorial aggressions of the first half-century of Europe that have ever occurred in the history of the world."

"Are we foolish enough to suppose that the aggressive spirit of the European powers has been satiated and will cease at the termination of this war? Are we foolish enough to believe that this nation can be safe if we permit ourselves to become a fourth or fifth class naval power?"

"Are we simple minded enough to risk our national safety to the chances of their mutual jealousies and enmities? Could this restraint each of them when the destruction of our navy would mean the overthrow of the Monroe doctrine, the opening up to them of Central and South America?"

Can Dispute Monroe Doctrine

"Has not one of these nations disputed the Monroe doctrine and only needed a sufficient navy to challenge it?"

"Have we not an aggressive eastern neighbor who looks with covetous eyes upon our Philippine possessions? Are we weak minded enough to believe that we can control the Panama canal for our own advantage and profit unless we have power sufficient to fully protect it? Are we going to permit the $300,000,000 that we have expended in this great enterprise to be appropriated by other nations with superior naval strength?"

"There are those among us today who are foolish enough to trust this nation's rights, our national safety and independence to treaties and arbitration tribunals. Germany had pledged to Belgium, by treaty, integrity of territory and inviolability, but this did not save her from German invasion. The allied powers had guaranteed to Greece neutrality, but this did not prevent them from seizing her territory and using it for their military activities. Treaties and Justice have ceased to be barriers against military aggression and ambition."

Senator Clapp, in a letter against militarism today, said he would not support the navy bill.

It is predicted by the leaders of the senate that after a discussion of three or four days the naval measure will pass by a large majority. Senator Tillman, who lacks the robustness of former years, appealed to the senate to speed up the bill so that he can have a much-needed rest.

BIRD WILL TAKE STUMP

PROGRESSIVE LEADER TO SPEAK FOR HUGHES DESPITE STATEMENT

BOSTON, July 14.—Charles Sumner Bird announced yesterday that he would take the stump for Hughes in Massachusetts.

There is considerable doubt, however, as to the ability of the former progressive leader to swing the Bull Moose organization in this state to the republican candidate, since Chester R. Lawrence has indicated that he is willing to make the run as their candidate for governor.

Lawrence represents the element in the progressive party which is opposed under any circumstances to amalgamation with the republicans. He is the leader of the "last ditch" progressives. Lawrence is superintendent of the Dudley Street Baptist Sunday school and is a strong advocate of prohibition. He was the candidate of

IS YOUR HEALTH WORTH $5.00?

Woman Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. One of my lady friends came to see me and she advised me to commence taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I began taking your remedies and took $5.00 worth and in two months was a well woman after three doctors said I never would stand up straight again. I was a midwife for seven years and I recommended the Vegetable Compound to every woman to take before birth and afterwards, and they all got along so nicely that it surely is a godsend to suffering women. If women wish to write to me I will be delighted to answer them."

—Mrs. JENNIE MOYER, 342 E. North St., Lima, Ohio.

Women who suffer from displacements, weakness, irregularities, nervousness, backache or bearing-down pains, need the tonic-strengthening properties of the roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If women with wide experience like Mrs. Moyer have such faith in this medicine, why should you doubt its value?

his party for lieutenant-governor last year.

The fact that Bird is willing to take the stump for Hughes despite his statement during the primary election in this state, that the ex-justice could not defeat President Wilson, is regarded in the campaign before the primaries.

Bird said that the only man in the country who had a chance to defeat Wilson was Roosevelt.

Yesterday Mr. Bird said: "I am so deeply impressed with the iniquity of the Wilson administration and the danger that its continuance in power would entail upon the country that I am willing to forego my personal inclinations and to take the stump for Hughes in Massachusetts, if asked to do so."

Secretary of State Langley returned from New York yesterday after a conference with Hughes. He stated that the republican candidate for president would win the state with a majority of 75,000 votes.

Joseph J. Picard of 22 Exeter street, Timothy O'Neil of West Sixth street, and Adeline E. O'Neil of Elm street, spent Wednesday night in the police station at Malden, having been arrested on suspicion of being connected with a break which had been made in Everett. The boys had been to Revere and missed the last car for Lowell. About 11 o'clock they approached the railroad station at Malden and asked what time the next train went to Lowell. The station agent had been advised of a break made in a drug store and after looking the boys over decided that they were the ones the police were looking for. The agent notified the police and the trio was brought to the station house but it did not take long to convince the Malden officials that they were peaceful young men who unfortunately missed the last car for Lowell.

BOY DYING OF FLY POISON

ROCHESTER, Vt., July 13.—Four-year-old Kenneth Fasset yesterday swallowed a quantity of fly poison containing arsenic, and last night physicians announced that his recovery was doubtful. Kenneth is the eldest of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Volney Fasset. He was playing about the house alone, the mother of the family being confined to her bed with a three days' old infant.

She was not informed of the accident, it being feared that the shock might have fatal results. Shortly after he had taken the liquid the boy became violently ill. Physicians were called, but it was some time before the nature of the illness was discovered and his condition was considered very serious.

DEAD UNDER BUGGY

STATE DETECTIVE TRYING TO LEARN HOW MRS. KATIE RHINEHART DIED

GRAFTON, July 14.—Lying on her right side with her head under the front axle, Mrs. Katie Rhinehart of this town was found dead at 6:30 yesterday morning under a buggy owned by Martin Kelley, for whom the dead woman was housekeeper.

Medical Examiner Knight of Westboro was summoned and according to the story which Mr. Kelley is alleged to have told him, Mrs. Rhinehart arrived home from Farmington last night about 9 o'clock, in a befuddled condition.

Mr. Kelley said he unhitched the horse and put it in the barn. He left Mrs. Rhinehart in the buggy and went to bed. She was found dead under the buggy at 5:30 this morning. The autopsy of the body this afternoon showed a deep cut over the right forehead, a fracture at the left base of the skull and concussion of the brain, all due to violence of some unknown cause. The nature of the wounds seems to indicate that they are the result of a fall, and not a blow, as was first considered most likely.

State Detective Edward J. McCarthy of Westchester has taken charge of the case and this afternoon the police discovered a hatchet at the Kelley farm, where the body was found. This weapon had on it some hair and some stains which might have been blood. The hatchet will be carefully examined. No arrest has been made as yet.

SAYS ENLARGED RHEUMATIC JOINTS DISAPPEAR UNDER TREATMENT

Advices, Joints Be Kept Warm—Protect Hands From Cold Winds and Cold Water

The question has often been asked whether the mis-shapen finger joints due to rheumatism would return to normal, said W. A. Varney, the discoverer of Var-ne-sis.

ONE FORM OF RHEUMATISM VAR-NE-SIS TAKES CARE OF

I am going to answer this question by producing evidence that proves conclusively that they do. I want to suggest that it is important to keep the joints warm and protect the hands from cold winds and water.

Take the case of Mr. Holden whose fingers were bent and deformed—to see him today you could not believe he ever had rheumatism. Again, Mrs. Breed's fingers were actually stiff, they were so stiff and deformed—she is well today, fingers perfect. Mrs. McMaisters is another woman who regained the use of her fingers as well as other joints through Var-ne-sis. Mrs. Coyne's fingers were almost rigid—they have gone back to normal. Mr. Nelson's fingers were deformed to a marked degree—you'd never believe he had rheumatism. Nurse Nightingale's fingers were crooked and deformed—they are now normal and she gives all the credit to Var-ne-sis.

Hundreds have told me that Var-ne-sis has been the means of their crooked and deformed joints returning to normal. In this form of rheumatism not only are the hands misshapen but other joints gradually become involved.

The disease may remain quiet for awhile, but there will be acute symptoms from time to time—enough in the early cases to remind you that the disease is creeping to other joints. If neglected, the fingers become so stiff that it will be impossible to open or close the hand, the knuckles draw up in the extreme cases and the patient is often helpless.

Physicians will tell you that they can do nothing for this disease, and it is the same form of rheumatism that Var-ne-sis has been so successful in.

No other preparation produces such evidence. Why? A description of the above cases will be sent by addressing W. A. Varney, Lynn, Mass.

Var-ne-sis is a simple vegetable preparation and does not contain the ordinary drugs so often given for rheumatism.

JEWELRY STORE ROBBED

Bold Robber Broke Window With Stone and Made Off With Trays of Rings Yesterday Afternoon

One of the most daring daylight robberies perpetrated in this city for a long time occurred late yesterday afternoon when a young man smashed the plate glass in the door of the jewelry store of J. E. Lyle at 181 Central street and emptied the contents of several trays of rings into his pocket and walked away.

As a general rule there is considerable traffic through this part of Central street at the hour of the robbery occurred, but yesterday as it was Thursday afternoon and practically all the principal stores were closed and hundreds of people were away the robbery, so far as can be learned, was witnessed only by two boys. The boys saw a man smash the glass in the door with a stone, enter the place and take the rings. One of the boys rushed to the corner of Market and Central streets and notified a police officer but when the latter arrived there was no sign of the robber.

It is a habit among robbers to enter stores by smashing plate glass, but as a general rule the stores used are covered so that the sound of the crash of glass will be deadened and it is only a daring robber who attempts such a thing in the daylight.

Fortunately the most valuable jewelry was locked up in the safe, but there was much good jewelry lying in trays and on counters which the robber passed up in his hurry. It is estimated that the jewelry taken includes more than 70 rings, the value of which is about $150.

In conversation with a representative of The Sun Mr. Lyle stated that the customers who had left their watches or jewelry at his store to be repaired should call and see if their property was stolen. If so the loss will be made good.

The police are working on the case but inasmuch as the information given by the boys is very meagre, they have but little to work on. One hundred dollars reward will be paid by the Jewellers' Protective association for the arrest of the man.

THREE FATALITIES

Two Men Drowned and One Killed at Quincy—Mystery in One

QUINCY, July 14.—Three fatalities were recorded here yesterday within a short time, and in one case there is an air of mystery which was not wholly dispelled by the report of the medical examiner.

The victims were Samuel P. Gill, 26 years old, of Island avenue, Hough's Neck; Joseph Levovich, 18 years old, of 16 Gardner street, Roxbury, and Thomas Rhoslow, 60 years old, of 194 East Howard street, Quincy Point.

Gill's body was found in a boat near Boston Light, about two hours after he had put out from Hough's Neck to haul in his lobster pots off Bug Light. The discovery was made at 7 this morning by his brother, Joseph Gill, who was also hauling in lobster pots. Gill's body was hanging over the side of the boat, with the head in the water.

It was thought at first that Gill was struck by lightning during the severe thunder storm of the early morning, although there were no marks on his body. Associate Medical Examiner George W. Higgins as Randolph, after an examination said that death was caused by drowning, but what caused the young man to fall over the side of the boat and left him unable to help himself is something of a mystery. He was strong and healthy and was used to boats and water.

Gill was married and is survived by his wife and two children, one of whom was born only two days ago. Mrs. Gill is with her father, Joseph Sousa, Washington street, Hudson, where she went in anticipation of the birth of her baby. Gill is also survived by his father and brother. He was a plumber by trade and formerly lived in South Boston.

Joseph Levovich was drowned in Wendell's ledge, an abandoned quarry hole, which is filled with water and in some places is 100 or more feet deep. Levovich was visiting Frank Coffman at 145 East Howard street and with other young men went swimming in the quarry hole. The water, fed by springs, is very cold, and Levovich sank shortly after he had got into deep water, although he was only a short distance from the shore.

The police worked all day with grappling irons unsuccessfully. They gave up the job for the night about six o'clock when some men under Patrick H. Bradley, chief of the Fore River shipyard constables, took up the search about 7 o'clock they brought the body to the surface. It was claimed by relatives last night.

Thomas Rhoslow sustained fatal injuries in the freight yards off Granite street. Rhoslow was employed by the Quincy Lumber Co. and was about to help in unloading a freight car loaded with lumber. Stakes holding the load broke, allowing several tons of lumber to fall on Rhoslow.

The freight yard employees ran to his aid and pulled the lumber off. Rhoslow was terribly crushed, especially about the hips. He was taken to the Quincy City hospital, where he died this afternoon.

But very little is known here of the man. At the hospital, during periods of consciousness this afternoon, he was heard to mention Mechanicville, N. Y., several times.

PARADE IN UNDERWEAR

Iowa Troops in "Disgraceful" Secue. According to Gen. H. A. Allen—Protest Against Underwear

DES MOINES, July 14.—Three hundred soldiers, clad as scantily as the law allows, paraded at Camp Dodge for the benefit of Gen. H. A. Allen. The general, in front of whose headquarters the howling, howling crowd marched, termed their action disgraceful.

The men paraded in protest against the underwear that had been supplied to them. The sizes were 18 and 32, they say, must too big for any of them. The men with disbrags lying from poles to represent flags, marched to headquarters. Gen. Allen appeared but took no action. The demonstration lasted half an hour.

FIRE IN ATLANTIC HOTEL.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 14.—Fire caused about $10,000 damage to the Hotel Raleigh at St. Charles place at the beach yesterday, and for a short time gave the ocean front property holders some anxiety, as a high wind was blowing. The flames started in the upper part of the hotel. Most of the guests were at luncheon at the time and all escaped from the building without injury.

POISON BY MISTAKE

Sheffield H. Lyon of Pelham, N. H., is confined to St. John's hospital in this city, suffering from poisoning caused by drinking oxalic acid by mistake. Mr. Lyon was not feeling well yesterday and his wife prepared for him what she believed to be a dose of salts, but which proved later to be acid, the two bottles being together in the medicine chest. The sick man was rushed to the hospital in a motorcycle and his condition today is reported as satisfactory.

TO LEARN WAGE SCALE

BOSTON CARMEN TO HEAR THE NEWS TONIGHT—GIVES $20,000,000 IN PAY INCREASES

BOSTON, July 14.—The members of the Boston Street Car men's union, at special meetings in Tremont Temple, tonight, will receive from their wage committee and the international officers, who settled the wage grievance, a report which will explain in detail just how much wages they will receive during the next three years for their work, dating from May 1, last.

The new agreement will not be completed until late this afternoon, and none of the employees of the Boston Elevated will know just what part of the more than $20,000,000 to be expended in this increase he will receive, until the official report is made known tonight.

The final terms of the agreement are not even known to the members of the wage committee, as the increases for the employees are figured on a percentage basis, each class of workers receiving a different percentage. With the result that the increases range all the way from 2 cents an hour for one class to about 8 cents for another.

Yesterday as a result of a call for assistance from the officers of the Portland Street Car men's union, which walked out on strike Wednesday noon, International Free William D. Mahon of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, sent Past Pres. Matthew J. Higgins, Past Business Agent Thomas F. Shiao of the local union, John H. Reardon, general executive board member, and James H. Vaher, attorney for the union, to assist the strikers.

Late yesterday afternoon it was stated that the plans for the meeting tonight had not been completed and for that reason it can not be said whether there will be but one meeting or two sessions tonight.

It is expected, though, that the first session will be held at 7 o'clock as usual and the second session after midnight, so that all members can receive the official report and be given a chance to vote on the ratification of the agreement.

According to the leaders of the union there is not much doubt as to the action tonight, as it was said that the increase is substantial and with no extended arbitration expenses to be paid, the increase will be "velvet" for the workers.

WITHDRAWS $10,000,000

Treasury Department Takes Large Sum From Deposits in Federal Reserve Banks

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Withdrawal of $10,000,000 of the treasury's deposits in the federal reserve banks was ordered yesterday by Sec. McAdoo. Treasury officials said the action was in the usual course of business, the enormous total of the withdrawal being due to the fact that heavy deposits made by internal revenue collectors in the closing days of the fiscal year had brought the treasury's balance in the banks to well above $100,000,000. Part of the $10,000,000 will be taken from each of the 12 banks.

FOUND DEAD IN FIELD

CANTON, July 14.—James Middleton, 35, who lived with his mother on Church street, was found dead by some boys yesterday afternoon in a field near the bank of the Neponset river. Medical Examiner W. O. Paxon decided that the man had probably been taken ill in an electric car going to the hotel Wednesday, left the car and entered the field to lie down.

The body was taken to the home of his mother, with whom two sisters and a brother of the deceased lived.

EFFORT TO SAVE CASEMENT

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Senator O'Gorman asked President Wilson yesterday to have Ambassador Page at London intervene informally in an effort to secure the commutation of the death sentence of Sir Roger Casement.

The president said he would do anything proper in the case. The senate foreign relations committee recently declined to recommend passage of a resolution introduced by Senator Martin, asking the president to seek a stay of execution until further facts could be presented in Sir Roger's case.

Henry G. Gallagher Appointed to Fill Vacancy Caused By Death of Peter P. Fee

BOSTON, July 14.—Henry G. Gallagher, clerk of the Charles street jail, was appointed deputy sheriff of Suffolk county by Sheriff John Quinn yesterday, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Peter P. Fee, who for 13 years held that position.

Mr. Gallagher, who is married and living at 3 Everett street, Dorchester, was born in Revere, Oct. 4, 1851. He attended the schools of Revere and Boston, and then entered the employ of the sheriff's office. He filed various offices there from 1902 until 1911 when he accepted a clerical position in the Charles street jail, at the request of the sheriff. Many indorsements of Mr. Gallagher, for the place from men who do business with the civil court have been received by the sheriff.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

In a recent article I mentioned some of the experiences of John C. King as manager of the Lowell ball team of a century ago, which came to a sudden ending just at this part of the season. The team wound up its career at this date, and The Sun had only the following brief but expressive obituary notice:

"The Lowell baseball team disbanded yesterday. Bad management, bad ball playing, poor patronage and many other things contributed to the collapse of the club. Joseph Kelley, formerly of the Lowell team, has signed with the Boston Nationals and played his first game Monday. The Boston papers speak highly of his ability."

John C. King was the man who introduced the future magnate Joe Kelley to the big show, securing him the berth above-mentioned through his influence with Frank Seale, then connected with the Boston team. As I told you before, Kelley made good and afterward became famous and wealthy.

The same issue of the old Sun had the following:

"The Big Twelve defeated the Hogans in a hotly contested ball game at Tyn's Island, Thursday. Billy Haves got his nose turned away by a ball. The Page company catered."

But Bill got his nose turned back all right, and later played ball again with the Lowell team, and likes to see a good game today. The Big 12 and the Hogans were two very popular social organizations of a century ago, between whom a friendly rivalry existed which showed itself on the occasion of outings in the summer and dances in the cold weather.

The Big 12 held forth in comfortable quarters in the Hildreth building, and their "open houses" were the delight of multitudes. The Hogans had rooms in Central street and vied with the Big 12 as entertainers. The Hogans became so famous that branches were formed in Boston, Brackton and Fall River, and at one time after a convention of the four lodges of Hogans held in Boston, it looked as if the organization was about to develop into a state-wide fraternity. But organized purely for social purposes it did not develop as it might have, had it any benefit of fraternal feature connected with it. Both the Big 12 and Hogans went out of existence about the same time. As the members married they lost interest in club-life and that fact had as much to do with the disbandment of both organizations as any other cause. The Alpines, who were in existence in those days, are still intact and as prosperous as ever. But they held on to their married brethren by making them honoraries without financial obligations upon their marriage, admitting new members as each old member went on the roll of honoraries. The result is that for quarter of a century the Alpine club has had a full membership list.

Old Time Athlete in Town

An old time athlete who could show his heels to the best of them quarter of a century ago is George Picard, for the past 10 years a resident of Worcester, where he is prospering. Mr. Picard returned to Lowell a week ago and picking up The Sun read an account of an outing in Lowell quarter of a century ago at which he won a couple of prizes, and he subsequently had an interesting chat with the writer over old time athletic events in Lowell. Picard was a contemporary of Billy Salmon, Dan and Frank Looney, Tom Kelly and the other star center path athletes of quarter of a century ago, and he was one of the swiftest of the bunch. Mr. Picard has been in the painting business in Worcester but while Old Scout Jesse Burkett had the Worcester team, Picard was associated with him at the Worcester grounds. George states that if the weather isn't too hot he'd like to return to Lowell some day and have an old timers' race with Kelly, Looney, Dick McCluskey and a few more as entrants.

Labor Day Appropriation

The old Sun notes the fact that the city council at its July meeting appropriated $200 for the observance of Labor day, which would indicate that the celebration of that time was decidedly limited, as far as expenditures were concerned. But quarter of a century ago while there were quite a few labor unions in Lowell they did not possess the numbers and influence that they do today and they were few compared with the large number of the present time. The cotton and woolen mills were just beginning to organize in those days, while the leather workers hadn't become organized at that time. Then the diversity of industries that has since sprung up in this city, has been followed by a large increase in the number and character of labor unions. The old time labor leaders worked hard and untiringly to get the members of the different crafts to become affiliated with the different unions, and their efforts met with success. Among some of the old timers who did much to help the labor movement in this city, were Edward Rogers, Thomas F. Connolly, William Rafferty, Alex. Ray and others. This year the city has appropriated $1200 for Labor day, and the unions intend to hold a monster parade, which will be followed one month later by a state parade of the Knights of Columbus. Verily the year 1916 will be the banner year for parades in Lowell.

Some Old Time Persons

What the people were doing during the vacation season in Lowell quarter of a century ago will be of interest and hence are reproduced below a number of "personal" items which appeared in The Sun at that time:

Mazatlan is Mexico's Metropolis of the Pacific Coast

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 14.—Mazatlan, Mexico's metropolis of the Pacific coast, reported to have been the scene of an unprovoked attack upon officers and men from the American gunboat Annapolis, is described in the National Geographic society's war geographic bulletin issued in Washington today.

"The north entrance to its harbor marked by a lighthouse perched on the crest of an eminence called Cerro del Creston, making it one of the loftiest guides to navigation in the world, Mazatlan is the chief entrepot for one of the richest mining sections of the southern republic. It not only exports the gold and silver from its own immensely wealthy state of Sinaloa (estimated by some experts to have the most valuable mineral deposits in Mexico) but it also handles the ore shipments by sea of Zacatecas and Durango.

"The city, which has a population of 20,000, is situated on a small peninsula opposite the Bay of Ocas Altas (High Waves), and is surrounded by coconut groves. It is a six days' voyage by steamship from here to San Francisco, the Mexican port being 225 miles east of the southern tip of Lower California. The distance from El Paso, due south, to Mazatlan is about the same as from St. Louis to New Orleans.

"The aspect of the territory adjacent to Mazatlan is little affected by the prosperity of the port. The Indians live in the same type of huts which they have occupied since the Spanish conquest and perhaps for centuries before that. The strip of lowland along the shore has a tropical climate, with an abundance of rain. Beyond this verdant margin to the east rises the towering thickly wooded Sierra Madre range, extending for hundreds of miles to the north and south.

"Among the rich products of Mexico's fertile fields, undersea caves and river banks which find their way to the outside world through the Mazatlan gateway are rubber, gums, dyewoods, silver, copper, gold, lead, pearls, tortoiseshell, salted fish and cabinet woods. The city's manufacturing activities include saw mills, cotton factories and rope works.

"Fourteen years ago Mazatlan was almost depopulated by a frightful epidemic of bubonic plague which surpassed in severity some of the most terrible ravages of the 'Black Death' in Europe during the middle ages.

According to one authority only 4000 people out of a total of 18,000 were spared, and more than 1000 houses were burned in an effort to stay the march of the disease. During the last decade sanitary conditions have been improved greatly."

family are at Cape Cod."

"Mr. Will Cogger of the Arena, and Mr. R. L. Walker, Charles Donnan and John Boyle have returned from a delightful cruise up the Concord."

"Mr. W. H. Hovey, the band teacher, has started on a month's trip down the coast of Maine."

"W. N. Shaw and C. M. Forrest have returned from a bicycle trip through New Hampshire, having covered over 200 miles on their wheels."

"Mrs. F. N. A. Hurtubise of Fort Hill avenue has gone to Minneapolis for the summer."

"Mr. John J. Chubb has returned from Exeter, N. H., where he celebrated the third anniversary of his marriage."

"Mr. Joseph W. Purcell of the Faragut house and family are summering at their cottage at Bass Point, Nahant."

"Miss Della Brady and Miss Etta Knopf, teachers at the Butler school, are at Hildreth, N. H."

"Mrs. Hector T. Trubull and two children are at Underhill, Vt., where they will remain until September."

"Miss Maud Paradis, the well known pianist, is filling a summer engagement at Long Island sound."

"George F. Burns, basso at the First Unitarian church, and Bert T. Stephenson are going to Belfast, Me., for three weeks."

"And there were many others, equally fortunate."

"Jack" Benson in Town

Says The Sun of quarter of a century ago:

"John W. Benson, who has travelled with different theatrical companies for several years, is now at his home in Lawrence street. He is engaged for the coming season with 'The Still Alarm' company under Manager Arthur's direction. Harry Lacey has left the company and Mr. Benson will have Mr. Lacey's part for the coming season. The company opens in Newark, N. J., in August."

Harry Lacey created the leading role in "The Still Alarm," which made a big hit on the road for several seasons, and Jack Benson succeeded him and was successful in the role. "The Still Alarm" introduced the interior of a fire house as one of its scenes, with a three-horse-hitch fire engine responding to an alarm. This stunt in those days was considered the height of stage realism. Afterward Mr. Benson took up the role of Thomas and was in their employ for several seasons. He created the part of "Kelly, the Barkeeper" in the original production of "Chimney Fadden," and later was with Maggie Cline, May Irwin and other celebrities. Mr. Benson was one of the first of the New York actors to respond to the lure of the movies and appeared in some of the earliest popular film productions. Now they're all doing it, and Jack is still on the job.

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT

Two games tomorrow, starting at 2 o'clock.

Przysocki was present with two ring-out doubles.

Easy flies were in order after the rain had soaked the balls.

Pitcher Jewett was easily the star. Besides working effectively in the box, he batted well and made a spectacular catch of a fly in front of the plate, which should have resulted in a triple play. Helfrich was on second and Kilhullen on first with Greenhalgh at the bat. Snubner attempted to sacrifice but the ball popped into the air. Jewett made a dive for it and caught it inches from the ground. Helfrich and Kilhullen were advancing on what they supposed was a bunt and Jewett shot the ball to Przysocki at second. Instead of touching the base for Helfrich, Przysocki immediately shot the ball to Devoille, getting Kilhullen. There was plenty of time for a triple play, but Przysocki was not watching Helfrich.

Orcutt made the three putouts in the ninth. Wheat is one speedy outfielder.

Daley got an easy stolen base in the first inning, after reaching first on a hit. While Bonsack was holding the ball, Daley took a long lead off first. Kilhullen gave the pitcher the signal.

and Bonsack shot the ball to Wheat. Realizing that he did not have time to get back to the initial base, Daley started for second. Wheat turned to his left and reached down to get the runner, but by that time the Lynn left fielder was safe at second.

Portland got a lead on New London by winning a double header from Lawrence yesterday. In the second game, which lasted but five innings, Martin held Lawrence to one scratch hit.

The Lawrence players received the money due them following Wednesday's game as Owner Sullivan promised at the league meeting. Several offers have been made for the Lawrence club, two of which are from out of town men.

Tamm of the Portland club is to figure in a trade soon. It has been reported that he was offered to the Lynn club by a member of O'Donnell's team. Tamm might be a help to the Lowell team, as Helfrich could be shifted to second unless Manager Kilhullen intends to keep Snubner in the infield.

Alex Pearson has joined the Gardner, Mass. team and will soon be in the lineup with Harry Lord and Cuke Barrows. Joe Monahan, a former Lowell catcher, is also with the same team.

JOE JUDGE OUT OF GAME ED. GEERS BADLY HURT

FIRST BASEMAN OF SENATORS MAY NEVER BE ABLE TO PLAY BALL AGAIN

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Joe Judge, first baseman of the Washington American league team, may never be able to play baseball again. Judge has been out of the game longer than two weeks and it develops he has hernia. Physicians have not decided whether an operation will be advisable, but Judge will not be taken with the team on its next western trip, starting July 23 and his services will be lost to the club for at least another month in any event.

250 POUND SHARK WAS KILLED AFTER STRUGGLE

Became Entangled in the Net of Paul Tarnow, a Pound Fisherman—Cabinet Discusses Tragic Stories of Sharks—Coast Guard to Assist—Body of Stillwell, Bitten Nearly in Two, Recovered—Hunt Continues

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. J., July 14.—A 250 pound shark, 8 1/2 feet long, became entangled in the net of Paul Tarnow, a pound fisherman today and was killed after a struggle. The shark was of the blue nose variety. Tarnow and his helpers cut the shark open and in the stomach found 12 small sharks measuring about 15 inches each.

DISCUSSED BY CABINET
WASHINGTON, July 14.—Tragic stories of attacks by sharks upon bathers along the New Jersey coast were discussed at today's meeting of the cabinet. Later Secretary McAdoo announced that the coast guard would be ordered to do what it could toward clearing the coast of the dangerous fish, and preventing further loss of life.

Instructions were sent by the treasury department both to the coast guard cutters and life saving stations. A definite plan of action has been worked out, but the idea is to have the service aid in locating and killing sharks and when possible warn resorts of their proximity.

Secretary Redfield told the cabinet that the bureau of fisheries had been unable to offer any scientific explanation of the unprecedented attacks of sharks on human beings.

A resolution was introduced in the house today by Representative Bachrach of New Jersey, authorizing the department of commerce to co-operate with state authorities in an effort to exterminate the sharks and appropriating $5000 for the purpose.

HUNT RESUMED
NEW YORK, July 14.—Shark-hunting suddenly has become a popular sport along the New Jersey coast, in New York bay and along the ocean side of Long Island, as a result of the recent raids by man-eating monsters from southern waters which have killed four persons. Reports of the sighting or killing of sharks out along the shore reach the city almost hourly and some fishermen are bringing in the big fish, they have killed to prove the truth of their stories. Only a few of these, however, are described as man-killers. A passenger on a steamer is authority for the statement that

NEW YORK, July 13.—Rube Oldring, former outfielder of the Athletics, will don a New York uniform and play left field for the Yankees shortly. Oldring was finally lured out of his retirement from baseball by Germany Schaefer, who was the last emissary sent to see him. Though Oldring was given his unconditional release when he left the Athletics last month, he made a promise to Connie Mack if he ever decided to play again he would give his services to the Philadelphia leader first. Therefore the Yankees will purchase him as though he was still under contract to the Philadelphia club. Oldring was more sincere in his retirement than many thought. He had really grown tired of the game, and his interests at home, where he has a big farm, took a good deal of his time. One reason why he has not been able to reach a decision earlier is that he could not make arrangements to have his place taken care of. At the most, Oldring says, he will play only one more season. He declares he will be through when this season closes. Oldring will be a great help to the Yankees in their present predicament, with Gilheoley out of the game for six weeks or two months. Oldring has never been a great hitter, but he has always been a dangerous and timely hitter. He hit well up around .270 last year and has gone over the .300 mark in his time. But he is a fast and sure outfielder and a smart ball player.

But I must admit that our mainstay is Stanley Cavieskie who seems to be a horse for work.

"The Cleveland club has spent $80,000 for players, including Speaker," since Jim Dunn became the owner, but we will make some money. Speaker is worth his weight in gold. If anything should happen to him we would be out of the running in no time. Fohl is a splendid manager. He has welded the team together with rare skill and he is entitled to much of the credit for the Indians' excellent record to date.

Fohl, who has jumped into the front rank of major league managers in less than a year, had Pitcher Morton and Outfielder Elmer John Smith with him when he managed the Waterbury club some time ago. He is depending on Chick Gandil numerous cut-offs to keep in the thick of the fight. He secured

Chick Gandil from Washington, Roth, Klepper and Day from the White Sox and Howard from the Browns. He obtained Lowdermilk from the Detroit
White Bees one dollar salary from the Cincinnati Reds. Combe was a member of the Red Sox two years ago.
When Fohl succeeded Joe Birmingham as the manager of the Indians, Grancy, Chapman, Turner, O'Neill and Wamb-gans all were under contract. Fohl picked up Joe Evans, the young infielder, also Dagby, who was purchased from New Orleans.

New Yorker Gives Jack Dillon a Fine Lacing at Brooklyn

BALTIMORE, Md., July 14.—Battling Levinsky of New York put a very large crimp into the championship aspirations of Jack Dillon of Indianapolis, when they met in a 10-round bout yesterday afternoon at Oriole Park. At the end of the last round Levinsky had Dillon on the ropes, knocking his head with rights and lefts, and only the bell saved the conqueror of Frank Moran from a knockout.

At the beginning of the fight Dillon forced the issue and tried time and again to land a right on the battler's jaw that would have ended the fight. Levinsky outboxed Dillon at every part of the game, straightening him up with sharp left jabs to the face and hard rights to the body and actually made Dillon look like a novice.

In the second round Levinsky opened a cut over Dillon's right eye and kept it bleeding throughout the bout. He also brought disaster to Dillon with a hard smash to the wind that made Dillon wince and a hard blow in the mouth, evidently loosened some of Jack's teeth, as he made a wry face.
The men were matched to bout 15 rounds to a decision for the light-heavyweight championship, and had it gone that distance every man who saw the fight was of the belief that Levinsky would have been the champion. Fortunately for Dillon, the man who guaranteed him $5000 and $2500 to Levinsky, disappeared and the fight not to disappoint about 1500 visiting Elks, decided to box 10 rounds with no decision, for the gate receipts.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

New York won from Cleveland yesterday and regained the lead in the American league race.

President Wilson saw his first ball game since the opening day at Washington yesterday.

The St. Louis Browns are in Boston until after next Tuesday.

Tom Daley, the former Lowell catcher, who once made a home run before the king of England, has been traded from the White Sox to Cleveland and is now assisting Steve O'Neill, another New England graduate, in the backstop work for the Indians.

Catcher Doolin has been traded by the New York Nationals to the Rochester club.

"Hook" Warner, third baseman for the Dayton Central league club, has been sold to Pittsburgh. The sale price was said to be $4000.

Reuben N. Oldring, former star left fielder of the Philadelphia Americans, who announced his retirement from baseball on July 1, signed a contract yesterday to play with the New York Americans.

The Yankees had better not back much further. The way the American league teams now are bunched it won't take much for a team to be backed out of the first division.

If the Yankees could save about half of those runs they get so lavishly for Cullop and present them to Caldwell, Ray, instead of Nick, would be the hero of the team. Ray is a pitcher and grand ball, but he can't win games when his team scores only two runs in twenty-nine innings behind him.
He beat Johnson 1 to 0 in eleven innings, then lost 2 to 1 to Chicago and 1 to 0 to Cleveland.

Fritz Malsel was put off the grounds before he had a chance to get into the game. Fritz put a uniform on last Monday, and yesterday intended to sit it out on the bench. However, Silk O'Loughlin didn't like the sound of Malsel's voice in the first inning of the second game, so he ordered Malsel out. Silk made the discovery in the second inning that Fritz still was using up room on the bench and ordered the game stopped until the little Maryland Teuton moved himself away. Malsel shagged flies in the outfield in the early afternoon, but made no attempt to throw.

Persons did not appreciate what an important little gink Frank Gilheoley really was on the Yanks until Frank suddenly was incapacitated. The club needs another outfielder badly, and Rube Oldring seems in a hurry to report. There are reports that Mack is blocking Rube's efforts to come to New York.

To whom it may concern, including several New York scribblers, Frank Baker did not tie his best home run home run record by hitting his eighth home of the 1916 season last Monday.
Baker led the American league in home runs with nine in 1911, with ten in 1912, with twelve in 1913, and in 1914 Frank was tied with Sam Crawford for the home run crown with

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

LOWELL MADE CLEAN

It is a healthy sign and one that presages better things when a committee of local women takes a practical interest in civic cleanliness, and it is an indication of a spirit that will not be satisfied until we achieve results. The Sun and the press generally have been advocating a cleaner Lowell for a long time, but unfortunately the sudden spurt that broke out from time to time peter out all too soon and are followed by general indifference. Clean-up weeks and similar agitations serve their purpose, but unless they are succeeded by a genuine desire for a more wholesome state of affairs and unless there is tireless and continual co-operation it is worse than futile to work ourselves into a one-week fever of effort.

Mrs. William P. White of the local branch of the Special Aid Society for Preparedness was very specific in her recommendations to the municipal council, and the justice of her protest can be ascertained by any interested citizen who looks over the parks, commons, streets, alleys, etc. The municipal council expresses itself as glad of the interest taken by the Lowell women and Superintendent Kernan regrets that a small appropriation makes it difficult for the park department to achieve results. The general public is not so much interested in placing the responsibility and is not disposed to blame any group or groups of officials, but the fact remains that Lowell is not as clean as it might be. This being so, how are we going to set about remedying conditions?

In the first place, since we cannot have appropriations as large as the different departments think necessary, let us do the best we can within a small appropriation. Where is the use of agitating park extension, planning for observatories or band concerts or ornamental fountains, if we cannot keep our present park system in proper condition? It will not take a great deal of money to procure half a dozen wire receptacles for waste, but Lowell seems to have a peculiar aversion to receptacles of this sort. Boston commons has these necessary appendages on all sides, Lawrence has them all along its main streets, but if one has a piece of wrapping paper to throw away in Lowell, there is likely to be a long walk to the nearest waste basket. The result is that people get into the slovenly and unsanitary habit of throwing waste around as though the streets were common dumps. Over and over again The Sun has referred to this condition. We have spoken of the undesirable tendency of the markets to throw boxes, etc., on the sidewalks; of the littering of Park Garden and Fort Hill park with papers; of the waste nuisance on Howe street; of the filthy condition of some streets where the children play; of the dangers arising from dirty, evil smelling cellars, attics, store rooms, etc., and of many other phases of the question that are of especial local interest.

At the present time the direct connection between civic uncleanness and disease is argued so strongly by physicians and health authorities that there is no ignoring it. In New York a clean-up crusade was started a few days ago in an effort to check infantile paralysis. Tons of footstuffs were destroyed; ice-cream parlors, slaughter houses, candy factories, etc., were rigidly inspected and hundreds of householders and heads of families were haled into court and fined. Extraordinary conditions called for extraordinary methods and for once the great city was the scene of an attempt to legislate the people into clean and sanitary habits.

Lowell should not have to wait for the impetus of a contagion before striving to remedy the conditions that operate against civic cleanliness and order. Let the street cleaning department make a special effort to keep the streets in condition; let the park department postpone some ideas for improvement and spend money in keeping the parks and commons tidy. Would it not be a good idea to agitate the matter through the summer playgrounds and to impress on the youngsters the value of cleanliness and the many dangers of dirt? A speaker at the graduation of the local Normal school related how organized bands of school pupils keep a large section of Brookline spick and span, and here, too, auxiliary bands of youngsters in all sections might do good in supplementing the efforts of the city. From time to time the fire department has tours of inspection so that the dangers of fire may be minimized. Could not this too be availed of to impress on careless persons their positive obligation to keep their premises so that they will not be spreaders of disease over the neighborhood?

It is time for a full co-operative effort between the board of trade, the municipal authorities, our various organized bodies and the citizens generally to make Lowell a sister to Spottisburgh. Now for an effort all together!

THE SHARK HORRORS

On Wednesday a score or more were killed by accident. Some were run over by autos or by trains; some were drowned; a few died by fire or the collapse of walls and so on. In this country of so many people and so great a percentage of accidents most of these accidents produce little impression. It takes the unusual to arouse the people and to send a thrill of horror through society. This has been done several times of late by announcements that sharks have devoured or mutilated swimmers off the New Jersey shore.

There is grim proof that the man-eating shark is an unwelcome visitor to eastern waters as the recent fatalities to six swimmers have attested. Whether due to changes in the food supply, to the temperature of the sea or to some phenomena not yet explained, the terrible creatures that have heretofore kept south of Cape Hatteras are in the waters of some of our most popular bathing places. They constitute a terrible menace, their presence being made known only after they have inflicted fatal injury on some unfortunate victim. A sudden commotion in the water, the flash of a grey blue side, possibly the sight of rows of gleaming teeth, and the deed is done. The Jersey beaches have been thrown into a frenzy of excitement, and armed patrols have been availed of, but hitherto without results. When it comes to a fight between the shark and the swimmer, the odds are all with the shark.

Popular hysteria is frequently started from slight results and it is highly probable that the shark menace will send foolish tremors through swimmers at nearby beaches. There is little danger, however, that the monsters will come further north than the Jersey coast where they have not appeared heretofore. The danger is a temporary one and surely some way will be found to surmount it. The wealthy interests of the beaches where the scare was born will either screen the bathing places or else establish a guard that will remove the possibility of danger. Yet, people at all beaches will breathe easier when it is definitely announced that the sharks which have made such a mysterious appearance have just as mysteriously disappeared.

A PROGRESSIVE REVOLT

Signs are not wanting that the growing indignation among progressives at the way in which they have been handed over body and bones by their leader will soon take shape. A conference of representative progressives from all parts of the country will soon be held in Chicago, and it is extremely likely that the sincere element of the party will organize a revolt against the attempt of Theodore Roosevelt to line them up like a lot of automatons for Candidate Hughes. Their feeling of resentment is fostered by the attitude of the republican papers which studiously refuse to see the displeasure in the ranks of the erstwhile progressives. As a sample of the tone against which the progressives complain is the following from an editorial in yesterday's Boston Herald: "The progressive has always been a personal party. It has refused to follow a chosen leader—one of the eminent men of his time—and that leader has made his position clear."

If this is not adding insult to injury, what else can it be called? It brazenly asserts in effect that the progressive party was the personal property of Theodore Roosevelt, who has done what he chose with it. He may soon discover his mistake, and the Herald along with him. Cambridge Colby of New York is one of the prominent progressives who will not vote for Mr. Hughes and he has given out data considering what he calls "the widespread and bitter revolt within the party." He says that he has received letters from all over the country protesting against the "Perkins-Pinn program," and he gave out for publication a letter from John M. Parker of Louisiana, progressive party nominee for vice-president, who writes: "An enormous number of votes will never submit to such treatment." Evidently all is not well with the Roosevelt machine and a great many of Roosevelt's followers resent the insinuation that when Teddy takes snuff they must all sneeze. The revolt to come is a strong probability and the progressives are also considering another convention that shall shape the present nation-wide indignation into prompt action to show Roosevelt and Hughes that the principles of some men are not common political property.

AUTO THIEVES

The auto thief still piles his trade without any special danger of detection and without having to pay a heavy penalty in case he is caught with the goods. If he gets away for a few days he generally chances over the machine so that its owner cannot recognize it, and he uses the stolen car to good advantage in getting out of sight and sound of the law. The insurance companies know only too well how common auto thefts are becoming.

coming owing to the large number of claims they are called upon to settle. The auto thief is not very careful, not having paid much for the property, and as a result many stolen cars are found at the bottom of an embankment or wound around a tree. The insurance companies say that the courts are too lenient with the fellows who steal cars. If they had stolen a diamond necklace of the same value it would be regarded as a heavy crime, but the auto thief generally tells a story that moves the judge to mercy. When judges get riding round and taking chances like the average owner, we may see a change in the attitude of the courts towards the modern highwayman.

BACTERIA AND BULLETS

Professor Rosenau of Harvard who is in favor of the pasteurization of milk recently declared: "Bacteria have killed more people in the world's history than bullets. Most wars are preventable—so also are most diseases." As applied to diseases in general the pointed phrases are true, but it is certain that the pasteurization of milk is desirable. There are those who say that under this system the public would take more risks than now. Milk that has been so treated is not necessarily clean milk and as it does not get sour there is danger that old milk would be palmed off by the larger dealers who sell in enormous quantities. Pasteurization would do some good—but there is such a thing as overdoing the scientific, and if we could be sure of milk as good as the cow gives it there would be little cause to worry. There is too great a tendency now to call for standards that farmers cannot attain with profit and just as soon as we have the pasteurization there will be a cry for something else.

So Sensitive

Every seat in the trolley was occupied when a group of women got in. Going through the car to collect fares, the conductor noticed a man who, he thought, was asleep. "Wake up!" shouted the conductor. "I wasn't asleep," said the passenger. "Not asleep," snapped the conductor. "Then what did you have your eyes closed for?" "It was because of the crowded condition of the car," explained the passenger.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A SIMPLE SAFE, RELIABLE WAY People who are over-burdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to lead. If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthful fat you are unnecessarily making your life a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure. There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat, if you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise, here is a test worth trying. Spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from A. W. Dows & Co. or any good druggist a box of oil of kochin capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. Weigh yourself once a week so as to know just how fast you are losing weight and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal. Oil of kochin is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, and helps digestion. Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, footprints become lighter, your face looks easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being. Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial.

Blessings in Disguise

Alleging that he was deprived of the ability to chew tobacco by injuries he suffered when a wagon on which he was riding and a street car came into collision, Robert Bowman, a teamster, is suing the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company for $5000 damages.

Bowman was driving a load of sand. He was thrown off to the pavement and his lower jaw dislocated. His complaint says he had used tobacco for years, and since the accident has been "deprived of the pleasure and enjoyment" he formerly had.

He Got His $5

Little Tommy had a very pretty sister. Pretty sister had a very devoted admirer. One evening when the devoted admirer was sitting in the parlor waiting for sister to appear, he was approached by little Tommy.

"Say, Mr. Smith," rather pointedly queried the youngster, "do you love Sister Jenny?"

"Why, Tommy?" was the amazed response of the blushing Mr. Smith. "Why do you ask me a question like that?"

"Because," was the quick rejoinder of the youngster, "she said last night that she would give $5 to know, and I need the money."

The Fleeting Age

When I'm far away from you, When I'm by the pebbled shore Where the skies are royal blue, Will you love me, Eleanor?

"That's a fine question," said the young man. "I would love you, but I don't know. Will you love me, and how much, When I'm where the sea-winds blow, Where the sky and ocean touch?"

Will you love me, Eleanor, When I walk the shining sands, When I walk the lonely shore, With head bowed, and clashing hands, And I hear the sea-birds' cries, Far out from the world of men, Will the old love light your eyes For me, I am asking, then?

Will you wish that you were there, By me on the shining sand, With the sea-wind in your hair, With your hand held in my hand? With me looking out to sea, Making every changing line, Glad to be out there with me, Glad to have me there with you?

That is what I craved to know, Have you not a word to say? Your heart be charged with love For me when I am away? Tell me while I watch the glow Of your eyes, your locks of gold—Swear it to me! Girls are so Fickle when they're three years old!

Pointer for Wives

The Iowa supreme court has handed down several Solomonian decisions. In one ruling the court held that confession of a crime on the part of a husband does not constitute grounds for divorce proceedings.

"I'll become a wife," said the defendant, "to prefer criminal charges against her husband. She took him for better or for worse, and she should try to redeem him."

In the same decision the court de-

EARLY MORNING FATIGUE

When you awaken in the morning feeling tired out, feeling worse in fact than when you went to bed, you are confronted with one of the characteristic symptoms of neurasthenia. It is due to the run-down condition of the nerves that rest does not bring renewed strength and sleep refresh the tired brain. Overwork and worry are the most frequent causes of this condition. Neurasthenia is the name given to this common form of nervous debility in which the power to recuperate is gone.

The blood can be built up so that it will increase the supply of needed elements to the wasted nerves and this is the only way that the nerves can be reached. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic that especially builds up the nerves because they supply to the blood the elements that the nerves need. Many nervous disorders, sometimes chronic ones, have yielded to this tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when other methods failed to give relief. They are certainly worth a trial.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by druggists everywhere or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for free book on the nerves.

of Spanish rule in Mexico, and some of them contain large amounts of precious metals which give a tone of richness and vibrating purity of sound. In isolated parts of the country where there are no watches and but few clocks, the bells which are rung to call the people to prayers are also the time keepers, and while the service of the bell ringer in the remote districts is gratis, it is performed with regularity and precision.

When the country is at peace, in Mexico City alone there are about 3500 bell ringers regularly employed, while on days of religious celebrations the number is augmented, as the ringing of bells must be kept up almost constantly through the day and night. The position of bell ringer is looked upon by the lower classes as being honorable and distinguished, and bell ringers are looked up to as an adjunct to the clergy. The position is handed down from father to son in some cases, and the bell towers of the large cathedrals are spacious and frequently fitted with rooms which become ancestral homes to the families who have occupied them through several generations.

BELLS OF MEXICO

During the long marches when the American troops first went into Mexico in pursuit of Villa, when their ears were keyed to the finest distinction between sounds, they were puzzled by the constant ringing or the reverberation of the tinkling sound of bells which seemed to come at all hours of the day and night from every direction, says the Washington Star.

Before reaching the foothills of the Sierra Madre mountains, when space appeared limitless on all sides, this sound would come to them sometimes in waves faintly as from a great distance, and again with a swell and volume that was seeming to burst out of the atmosphere immediately above them. Then it would creep upon their ears like a haunting, despairing wail of a lost soul, giving a feeling of contact with the supernatural. The soldiers doing picket duty at night were annoyed and obsessed with a creepy, uneasy feeling, as if confronted with an unnatural foe with whom steel and lead would not cope, and with whom they had not a fair chance. Suddenly there would burst over them a joyous, vibrating tone of great gladness, full of animation and life.

Until they understood the wonderful acoustic properties and climatic conditions of the country through which they were passing, it was almost puzzling. But when they penetrated farther into Mexico they discovered that every ranch and hacienda through which they passed, every little hamlet of a dozen houses, the wayside shrines in the most inaccessible parts of the mountains, all had from one to five bells, and that these bells in chapels and churches were rung every half hour and those at the shrines by who-ever passed that way.

In remote places on some of the great haciendas which include thousands of acres of land there are some of the most beautiful churches in Mexico, pure types of Spanish or Moorish architecture, and with beautiful marble altars and exquisite silver lamps, altar railings of precious metals and bits of frescoes that are works of art, which time has not tarnished. Many of these larger churches have been looted by the revolutionary armies, but the bells have remained. Many of these bells were brought from Spain in the days of Spanish rule in Mexico, and some of them contain large amounts of precious metals which give a tone of richness and vibrating purity of sound. In isolated parts of the country where there are no watches and but few clocks, the bells which are rung to call the people to prayers are also the time keepers, and while the service of the bell ringer in the remote districts is gratis, it is performed with regularity and precision.

When the country is at peace, in Mexico City alone there are about 3500 bell ringers regularly employed, while on days of religious celebrations the number is augmented, as the ringing of bells must be kept up almost constantly through the day and night. The position of bell ringer is looked upon by the lower classes as being honorable and distinguished, and bell ringers are looked up to as an adjunct to the clergy. The position is handed down from father to son in some cases, and the bell towers of the large cathedrals are spacious and frequently fitted with rooms which become ancestral homes to the families who have occupied them through several generations.

From time to time the matter of installing clockwork or electrical machinery with which to operate the many bells in the churches of the larger cities has been considered, but the church authorities have a certain sentiment about the propriety of it, and the people a superstition.

The bell ringers in the towns are divided into day and night shifts, being required to toll the hours with precision, and a new hand is readily recognized by the lack of smoothness in the strokes of the bell.

DEMAND FOR MUNITIONS

Holidays Abandoned to Supply Armies—"Victory Flowing Our Way", Says Lloyd George

LONDON, July 14.—David Lloyd George, British minister of war, presiding today at an allied conference on equipment, declared that the combined offensive of the allies had wrenched the initiative from the Germans, never, he trusted, to return.

"We have crossed the watershed," he said, "and now victory is beginning to flow in our direction. This change is due to the improvement in our equipment."

Premier Asquith, speaking in the house of commons, said the allied offensive on the western front is only in its beginning and asked the munitions workers to make it plain to Great Britain's foes that the British attack, in its present intensity of bombardment and assault, "will, if necessary, be continued indefinitely."

The munitions conference, over which Mr. Lloyd George presided, was held at the war office and was attended by Mr. Asquith, French minister of war, Gen. Delhousie, assistant minister of war of Russia; Gen. A. Dail, member of the Italian ministry of war, and the new British minister of munitions, Edwin S. Montague.

Whole Complexion of War Changed
"Since our last munitions conference," said Mr. Lloyd, "there has been a considerable change in the fortunes of the allies. On that date the great Champagne offensive in the west had just failed to attain its objectives and the French and British armies had sustained heavy losses without the achievement of any particular success."

"In the east the enemy had pressed the gallant armies of Russia back some hundred miles, and the Balkans had just been overrun by the Central powers."

"The overwhelming victories won by the valiant soldiers of Russia have struck terror into the hearts of our foes, and those, coupled with the immortal defense of Verdun by our invincible French comrades, and the brave resistances of the Italians against overwhelming odds in the Southern Alps, have changed the whole complexion of the landscape."

"Why have our prospects improved? The answer is, the equipment of our armies has improved enormously and is continuing to improve."

Immense Artillery Supply
"The British navy until recently has absorbed more than half of the metal works of this country. The task of building ships and repairing the old ones for the gigantic navy and fitting and equipping them occupies the energies of 1,000,000 men."

"Most of our new factories are now complete; most of the machinery has been set up. Hundreds of thousands of men and women, hitherto unaccustomed to metal and chemical work, have been trained for munitions making.

"Every month we are turning out hundreds of guns and howitzers, light medium and heavy. Our heavy guns are rolling in at a great rate and we are turning out nearly twice as much ammunition in a single week—and, what is more, nearly three times as much heavy shell—as we fired in the great offensive in September, although the ammunition we expended in that battle was the result of many weary weeks accumulation."

Increasing With Great Rapidity

"The new factories and workshops we have set up have not yet attained one-third their full capacity, but their output is now increasing with great rapidity. Our main difficulties in the organization, construction, equipment, labor supply and readjustment have been solved."

"It is officials, employers and workmen keep at it with the same zeal and assiduity as they have hitherto employed. Our supplies soon will be overwhelming."

"I cannot help thinking that the improvement in the Russian ammunition has been one of the greatest and most unpleasant surprises the enemy has sustained. Still, our task is half accomplished. Every great battle furnishes additional proof that this is a war of equipment. More ammunition means more victories and fewer casualties."

Have Made "Brilliant Beginning"

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons that the government had decided to ask workers to forego their August holidays because of the demand for munitions in France. The August bank holidays will be postponed by royal proclamation.

"Since the June and July holidays were put off," he added, "a great and very favorable change in the military situation has been produced by the allied offensive now in progress."

"That offensive," he continued, "is only in its beginning and it necessarily requires for its success a continuous supply of munitions of all kinds. From the success achieved we have been able to gauge the paramount necessity of avoiding even the slightest risk of restriction of the use of munitions in the field, not merely in the weeks immediately before us, but until our objective is achieved. In the opinion of our commander-in-chief there must be no slackening in the output even for a moment."

"I, therefore, appeal to the patriotism of the workers and the public generally to again postpone their holidays in order that the attack, so brilliantly begun, can be carried through to a triumphant conclusion." He said he was sure co-operation would be forthcoming and that the forces in the field would "be given encouragement and the enemy discouragement in the certain knowledge that the present intensity of bombardment and assault will, if necessary, be continued indefinitely."

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

The headquarters of the members of Local 558, Woolen Spinners' union, 22 Middle street, was last night the scene of a merry gathering, the occasion being the first anniversary of the organization. In the early part of the evening a brief business meeting was held and this was followed by a social hour.

President Austin Kennedy presided over the evening's festivities and after delivering a brief address of welcome he gave a history of the organization and the progress it has made during its twelve months of existence. The principal speaker of the evening was President Frank Warnock of the Trades & Labor council, who spoke on "Unionism." Other speakers were John Hanley of the executive board of the Woolen Spinners' union, Frank W. Ellis, president of the Textile Union, and others.

A varied entertainment program was given and luncheon and cigars were served. The attendance was large, there being representatives of several textile unions of the city. The success of the evening was due to the officers of the organization.

DINNER TO STATE DEPUTY

Members of Dorchester Lower Mills Council, K.C., Honor Asst. Dist. Atty. D. J. Gallagher

BOSTON, July 14.—The pride which the members of his own council took in the recent election of Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel J. Gallagher to the office of state deputy of the Knights of Columbus was evidenced at a dinner tendered him by the members of Dorchester Lower Mills council at the American house, last evening.

The affair was informal—a gathering of his friends to voice the satisfaction that his elevation to the highest office within the gift of the membership of the order gave them and to extol the qualities that made him worthy of such honor.

In addition to the chief guest, those seated at the head table who spoke in most eulogistic terms of the new state deputy were Mayor James M. Curley, ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, Rev. Francis X. Dolan, D.D., of St. Gregory's church, the council chaplain; Rev. John A. Deegan of Beverly, Judge William J. Day, state secretary of the order; District Deputy John A. Foley and Grand Knight James P. Gallagher of Newton council, a brother of the state deputy; Grand Knight Thomas F. Murray was toastmaster.

The committee in charge comprised Frank P. Fanning, chairman; David A. Heikman, secretary; Patrick J. Cushing, treasurer; Daniel F. Cameron, John Canavan, John Crowley, James W. Ego, Michael Hannigan, John G. Murray, Thomas F. Campbell, Martin Conlon, John Dillon, Daniel W. Flynn and Owen McLaughlin.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"Daphne and the Pirate," with pretty Lillian Gish in one of the leading parts, was shown at the B. F. Keith theatre, yesterday afternoon and last night, and it will be repeated twice today and tomorrow. One of the chief charms of Miss Gish, and in many respects, is her natural poise, and this is splendidly exemplified in the present picture. This, it might be said, is a handsome debut for a young man, and it has the air of romance from beginning to end. In brief the story tells of the career of "Philippe de Mornay," a handsome, debonair young man, adored by women. Bored by his success, and to escape the adulation of his companions, Philippe rushes away from Paris to a schooling-box in the Green forest. The family of Francois La Tour has always held the position of gamekeeper in this forest and they have always been on intimate terms with the Mornays. The present gamekeeper has a delightful daughter, who has been educated by the Ursulines, and she is home when Philippe goes to the forest. The two meet and for once in his life the gay young man feels himself in the presence of sweetness and light. His interest is piqued and the complications follow this first meeting, complications which mean duels and sensational climaxes galore. Of course the handsome young man and the beautiful girl become happy in their love match, and all ends well. "The Other Man," with the inimitable Roscoe Arbuckle in one of the principal roles, is slightly different from the usual Keystone picture, although it has the usual tangle and the speedy close. Arbuckle for once in his life plays dual roles. First he is the college chap with the high-powered car, who is in love, and secondly he does a splendid reproduction of a Weary Willie. By cleverly manipulating the films we see Arbuckle twice in the same place. How the tramp is substituted at a masked ball for the other man makes a funny picture. The cast presenting the piece is wholly adequate.

As foretold, the Hearst International News Pictorial is easily the best of the news pictures thrown onto the screen. This week there are shown the following: Effect of British shells over Bulgarian trenches in Greece; First Massachusetts Field Artillery going to the border, recruiting for Second cavalry in Chicago; latest fashions, etc. In addition to these pictures there are several shorter ones which are bound to be interesting. A George Ade fable in slang is one. It deals with the young college graduate who went out to conquer the world, and who came back after all, and followed his natural bent.

The ventilating system of the theatre enables one to keep cool, for the air is drawn through ducts from the roof and is then whirled into the theatre through many holes in the floor.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Indescribably funny is perhaps the best way to characterize the intensely funny five-act comedy, "The Smugglers," the play in which the celebrated Donald Brian appeared in the role of John Battley Watts at the Merrimack Square theatre yesterday before interested audiences who readily responded with laughter to the many humorous situations which are developed to their fullest in this screaming play. There is always something a laugh over in this well acted comedy in which poor Mr. Watts has his ups and downs. This play will also be shown at this theatre today and tomorrow at all the performances.

"La Vie de la Boheme" was a big number also. Much has been written upon the subject of Bohemian life; some true and some otherwise. Witnessing this splendid picture, one gets a true portrayal of the undercurrents of this life. Throughout the play the genius of Miss Alice Brady is ever present and animates every scene. Be sure to see both of these pictures today as well as the other numbers on this same program, which include the Burton Holmes Travel pictures which are interesting to all.

OWL THEATRE

"The Labyrinth," which is the next of the Equitable, big features to come to the Owl theatre, being scheduled for presentation today and tomorrow, has for its base the story of a woman who sacrifices herself for a suffering sister, falls into the clutches of a theatrical manager of the worst class, becomes interested in, and marries a mission minister in the slums, and between the two gets into the labyrinth of difficulties from which the way out is shown in a startling but effective way. Gail Kane, who is now known as "The Equitable Girl," plays the part of the big-hearted actress sister and later wife of the minister, and that she fulfills all the expectations of the company is enough to stamp her as an actress and screen artist of the very highest rank. The story is told in a series of pictures which include some realistic scenes of stage life.

In addition to this wonderful five-act photo-play, other excellent attractions will also be presented at the Owl today and tomorrow. Do not forget that the sliding roof at the Owl always keeps it cooler inside than out on the street.

Canobie lake park has six acts of vaudeville as an attraction for the week, and the show as a whole has everything beaten the proverbial mile as far as vaudeville goes. There are six big acts as ever graced a stage even in the metropolitan centres of the country, and for a feature positively the biggest sensation that has ever played the western states. It is "The Wonder Kettle" and it is certainly all of that and some. With it you can boil water and cook eggs on ice as well as light a pipe or make ice cream and do it all at the same time, now can you imagine anything like that. We don't think you can, and you would hardly believe it until you see it. Roll a rubber ball along the kettle and it comes off a solid piece of marble in less than a second. These are only a few of the many humorous things it performs as well as the sensational and startling ones. There is plenty on the big bill also to please as far as comedy and goodness goes, for there are the renowned Japs, the Yamas with their variety work, the riot of mirth, melody and song offered by Leamore Sherwood and Burget. The "Soldier Without an Army," as presented by Jimmy Lyons, is one of the hits of the show while the gymnasts of the Todd Nards are a well appreciated act. Then for a closing laugh there are the "Two Smokey Mokes," Bailey and Thomas. Sunday the usual band concert will be offered by the Lawrence Brass band, a well arranged program already being arranged. Sunday also should be a great day for the folks hereabout especially those who have loved ones with the troops on the border, for the first authentic pictures of the troops at Framingham before their departure for the border will be shown.

HOUSE COMPLETES WORK STATUS OF DEUTSCHLAND

Entitled to All Privileges as Such—May Sail Any Time

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The legislative program suggested to Congress by President Wilson today with the passage of the corrupt practices bill the house will have completed the entire legislative program suggested to Congress by the president. He asked if any additional legislation was desired and Mr. Wilson replied that he was satisfied with the work done by the house and had no further recommendations.

Mr. Kitchin said a suggestion that the house take three-day adjournments until the senate had caught up with its work had not met with general approval, because it was necessary to stay in session in order that conference reports be received. Therefore, he said, the house would mark time by adjourning from day to day. It estimated that congress should be able to adjourn by Aug. 10.

The legislative program suggested to congress which has been completed by the house included the Philippine and Porto Rican bills, preparedness legislation, the revenue, Mississippi flood control, shipping, rural credits and conservation bills.

While Representative Kitchin was at the White House, Senator Gallinger, the senate minority leader, was announcing on the floor that republicans had never contemplated a filibuster against government shipping.

revenue or any other legislation pending, and that they would co-operate with the democrats to complete the program and adjourn.

"The legislative program is not in our hands," said Senator Gallinger, "but whatever the majority concludes to lay before use they will find the minority ready with good natured co-operation. The minority is in favor of the child labor, workmen's compensation and immigration bills and hope they may be passed."

"Will you support the vocational educational bill?" asked Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia.

"Yes, that is another good bill," said Senator Gallinger.

"Will you support the constitutional amendment for woman suffrage?" asked Senator Thomas.

"I cannot speak with authority for my associates regarding that measure," President Wilson decided today to write a letter to Majority Leader Kern of the senate, urging that special efforts be made to secure the passage of the bill for government employees injured in the federal service and the pending child labor bill. Both measures already have passed the house.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—An advisory report on the status of the German merchant submarine Deutschland today submitted to Acting Secretary Polk today by the government neutrality board is understood to hold that the vessel is a peaceful merchant craft and entitled to all privileges as such.

Instructions now are that the state department will make no formal announcement concerning the submarine but that the treasury department will be advised to permit her to clear and sail from Baltimore whenever her captain desires to start on his return voyage.

Mr. Polk received the neutrality board's report just before he went to the White House to attend the cabinet meeting. He indicated that a formal ruling by the department would be necessary only in case the submarine has been found to be a warship, liable to be ordered from American waters.

The neutrality board gave its advice after considering the reports of navy and customs officers, who made a complete examination of the Deutschland and concluded that she not only was unarmed but could not be converted for war purposes without extensive structural changes.

PREPARING FOR DASH

Flying Boat May Be Sent to Capes Before Deutschland Starts Back to Germany

BALTIMORE, Md., July 14.—Silence continues as to the date of departure of the super-submarine Deutschland, the tug Timmins, which met her at the capes and fastened at the pier day and night. She is in such close proximity to the submarine that it probably would take only ten minutes, to get the latter from the mooring into open water.

It was learned that a big hydro-aeroplane, virtually completed, is being towed by the tug Eastern, bound for the capes. Persons in touch with the operations of the forwarding company intimated that the flying boat will be sent to the capes for scouting purposes before the Deutschland makes her dash for the Atlantic.

The manner in which the Deutschland has been cleared of everything she brought over, even the pieces of pig iron ballast, led to the idea that she would return to Germany heavily laden.

Capt. Koenig, the submarine's commander, ridiculed the report from Amsterdam yesterday that the principal object of the Deutschland's voyage was to convey a consignment of diamonds.

SITS IN WILSON'S CHAIR

One of Deutschland's Crew Ticks Comrades at White House—Six Visit Capital

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Six seamen from the German submarine merchantman Deutschland came over from Baltimore yesterday and were entertained at the White House and the navy department. A White House attaché showed them through the east, blue and red rooms, the cabinet room and President Wilson's private office.

One asked permission to sit in the President's chair at the head of the cabinet table, and he did it while his comrades grinned with appreciation.

At the navy department, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt received the sailors and showed them in German naval relics in Secretary Daniels' office, including the flag of the American submarine P-4, which sank with twenty-one men.

AIR FREIGHTERS NEXT

BALTIMORE, July 14.—City officials who visited the German submarine merchantman Deutschland yesterday, reported to the navy department that the ship is being built in Germany for trans-Atlantic service.

"To you," Capt. Koenig was quoted as saying, "the trip of the Deutschland is a great achievement. It is a big feat to be so enthusiastic over it, for a bigger surprise is coming. A great Zeppelin ship—maybe I should say airships—are being built in Germany. In the not distant future one or more of them will sail through the air to the United States. Just as sure as the Deutschland came to America, so will the Zeppelins come."

Count von Renstorff, the German commandant, spent an hour aboard the Deutschland today. He inspected the vessel from stem to stern, had the intricate machinery and instruments aboard explained to him and personally congratulated Capt. Koenig upon bringing the vessel safely through waters infested with hostile

ONE LIFE LOST, SHIPPING TIED UP AND WIRE COMMUNICATION INTERRUPTED

ATLANTA, Ga., July 14.—The hurricane which swept the South Carolina and Georgia coasts last night, costing one life and tying up shipping, increased in intensity at Charleston early today, and shortly thereafter all communication with the Carolina coast was interrupted. Last reports said the gale which raged there at 64 miles an hour was increasing and that the barometer was falling. Savannah reported the worst of the storm had passed.

SHARKS MORE NUMEROUS

JACKSONVILLE, July 14.—Sharks are more numerous along the South Atlantic coast this year than ever before. Large schools of fishermen and boatmen are being driven to the water front, who come into port, man-eating sharks do not come north of Long Island. The other varieties are seldom seen within 100 miles of the shore.

EASY TO CAPTURE

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The federal bureau of fisheries at a loss to explain the presence of what appear to be man-eating sharks in the Atlantic waters, but the experts are busy considering what the bureau can do about it. The bureau has poured in the past few weeks its opinion of the recent shark attacks on the coast, which, according to the bureau, have been sighted in the Gulf of Mexico.

TWO MEN KILLED

SUMMERSVILLE, S. C., July 14.—Two men are reported killed and extensive damage done in Charleston by the hurricane which struck Charleston last night. Damage to shipping and the water front was not great and the balance of the city did not suffer severely.

The animal started to soon with the result that the middle finger of the left hand was caught between the chain and boulder and was crushed so badly that amputation will be necessary. Despite the pain he was suffering, Mr. Sawyer cranked his automobile and started on his way home, but he was struck by a car. Later he was removed to the Lowell hospital, where he received treatment.

OLD RESERVOIR ON TOP OF PARKER HILL, ROXBURY, SUGGESTED FOR SWIMMING POOL

BOSTON, July 14.—The advisability of converting the old reservoir on top of Parker Hill, Roxbury, into a public swimming pool is to be studied by Chairman Dillon of the park and recreation department.

Chairman Dillon appeared before the city council committee on Parkman fund yesterday afternoon to explain the necessity for transferring the $195,000 income from the Parkman fund to the general maintenance expenses of the park and recreation department, because the council has already authorized the transfer of $100,000 from the park and recreation department to the appropriation for street repairs.

He had to the committee of spending money on filling in the old Parker Hill reservoir for use as a playground. Councillor Storow suggested that, instead of filling it in, it should be repaired, so that Boston "can have one of the biggest bathtubs in the country." Chairman Dillon expressed the belief that the filling in of the reservoir would be enormous, but he agreed to have estimates of the work made.

Councillor Storow expressed disapproval of Chairman Dillon's proposed plan of pulling in a grand sidewalk on the north side of the Public Garden from Charles street to Arlington street. Mr. Storow said that as an individual he much preferred dirt sidewalks in the Public Garden, as they afford one of the pleasures of walking through the park system by giving one an opportunity to get away from the hard sidewalks. Chairman Dillon said that the thoroughfare is used by so many persons that it cannot be kept in proper condition in the winter or in rainy weather. He suggested that he might leave a pathway of dirt walk alongside the granite block. The subject was left in abeyance.

The committee took no final action on the matter of allowing the department to use the income of the Parkman fund and it will come up later, after Chairman Dillon has furnished the committee a list of the expenditures made by the department last year.

DECLARES GIRL A SUICIDE

WAKEFELD, Ill., July 14.—The poison found in the girl's hand, showing the analysis a strength of 93.18 per cent., was proof conclusive, she took her own life with cyanide of potassium taken from the Deerfield high school, which showed a strength of 91 per cent.

"Poison taken from the Orpet and Lambert homes could not have been used, because it did not show more than a strength of 39 per cent."

J. H. Wilkeson, in making the test for Will H. Orpet in the study Wakefield court room.

"I tell you, Marian Lambert committed suicide," he said. "And I prove it for you by telling you that the cyanide of potassium in the high school laboratory was exactly the same poison as that which was found in Marian Lambert's stomach. It was a mathematical demonstration of Will Orpet's innocence. A technical demonstration, if you needed any."

"Think of this little girl nursing the growing terror of disgrace, ostracism. The state has sold you she was in a terrible condition as a result of her love. That is a part of our state's evidence. It is a part of our state's evidence. She wrote and wrote to the defendant. She raved, threatened, pleaded. Her little soul was torn and twisted with terror. She had been a good girl, as gold, she said. And now this disgrace. Think of that girl and call her happy and joyous—laughing in the sunshine, if you can."

"The state wants you to believe that this boy, by word of mouth, by pleading and persuasion, forced this girl to take a poison so deadly that she would drop dead at his feet. A poison murder. Don't work that way. He never uses a poison so that his victim will die in his presence. Don't forget Marian's threats of suicide in the note to the boy and in talks with Josephine Davis."

KILLED AFTER STRUGGLE

he saw two sharks in the Hudson river near Tarrytown. One shark was killed near Tarrytown, Conn. "Thomson said persons who have been driven to the beaches by the hot wave fear to enter the waters in the vicinity of New York since sharks killed a man and a boy in Matawan creek, New Jersey, on Wednesday."

Man-Eater Feared in Creek

Shark hunters at Matawan creek believe they have this shark penned up in the creek behind a series of wire nets which have been strung across the creek at intervals of 15 miles from the scene of the tragedy 15 miles from the scene of the tragedy. Men armed with shotguns, rifles and harpoons patrolled the waters of the creek again today. Some of them said they had seen five or six fish near the point where Stillwell were killed. They said the fish were very large and that they were very dangerous. One of the fish was killed and its body was found in the creek. The fish was about 200 feet long and was very fat. It had been killed by a shark. It had been killed by a shark. It had been killed by a shark.

Body of Stillwell Found

A body of almost low tide today the body of Stillwell was found in Matawan creek about 200 feet west of the spot where it disappeared after being attacked by a shark. It had been killed by a shark. It had been killed by a shark. It had been killed by a shark.

Experts Differ as to Cause

Experts differ widely as to the cause of the presence of these dangerous sharks in the cool waters of this coast, and why they come so near the beaches. John T. Nichols, assistant curator of fishes of the American Museum of Natural History, who went to Matawan to investigate the tragedy there, said he believed the killing was done by a white shark, or tiger shark, both of which are warm water products and rarely seen north of Cape Hatteras. Some of these are said to attain a length of 30 feet. Fishermen, however, believe that the man-eaters are of the ordinary type of sharks which have become ravenous by scarcity of food.

NO TROUBLE BEFORE

NEW YORK, July 14.—"The surprising thing about the recent shark ravages," said Dr. C. H. Townsend, director of the Aquarium here, yesterday, "is that we have never had serious trouble with them before. Every year, about the middle of June, these big fish that are so dangerous around Cuba and the West Indies move north with the warm weather and stay until the middle of September. They can be caught any time well inside Sandy Hook, and are often found in fish ponds not half-a-mile from shore all the way as far as Maine. But they never before have attacked human beings."

"Sharks in these waters," Dr. Townsend continued, "are of 15 to 20 different kinds.

Of these only half-a-dozen are dangerous. The white, dusky, blue, mackerel and tiger being the worst. They range from 10 to 15 feet, and are the only kinds which have both the court and the jaws and teeth to be dangerous.

"Whether the sharks which have been causing such trouble on the Jersey coast are a new kind or simply a few bad ones which have tagged their way in, it is impossible to say. Danger from them, however, is always present."

FISHERIES BUREAU'S WARNING

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Indications that there may be large schools of sharks in unaccustomed waters along the Atlantic coast brought a warning from the bureau of fisheries last night, cautioning fishermen and bathers to use the greatest care in boating or swimming.

Records of the bureau show that until this year there have been no sharks in the waters where during the last few weeks they have claimed a mass of victims. Bureau officials believe a lack of food may have brought them to the middle Atlantic coast in great numbers.

NO SHARKS NORTH OF LONG ISLAND

BOSTON, July 14.—The Boston Fish bureau and old fishermen of Massachusetts bay have no knowledge of man-eating sharks in these waters, they said yesterday.

Sharks have been brought into Boston, but they have been mackerel sharks or bluenoses, and not of the variety now terrorizing the Jersey coast. According to men along the waterfront, who come into port, man-eating sharks do not come north of Long Island. The other varieties are seldom seen within 100 miles of the shore.

JACKSONVILLE, July 14.—Sharks are more numerous along the South Atlantic coast this year than ever before. CALLED OUT AT MIDNIGHT RAIN AFFECTED OUTINGS

MEMBERS OF EIGHTH REGIMENT OF MASSACHUSETTS REPORT TO NIGHT DRILL—QUICK WORK

EL PASO, Tex., July 14.—Determined to be fully ready for a night attack, and to guard against such confusion as is said to have reigned among the American troops when the Villa raid was made on Columbus, the commanding officers of the Eighth and Ninth regiments have begun a series of late night false alarms. The first of these took place just before 11 o'clock Wednesday night, when Col. Graves of the Eighth regiment routed his men from their sleep and had them prepare to resist an enemy quickly and noiselessly as possible.

It took just seven minutes from the time the signal was given to the time that a little line was formed by two of the companies, and the men of the other companies, as per directions, stood ready to participate in the supposed action.

AT THE Y.M.C.A. CAMP

THUNDER STORM IN THE AFTERNOON INTERFERED WITH THE AMUSEMENT PROGRAMS

Yesterday's rain to a very great extent marred the pleasure of the outings held by the various Lowell stores yesterday. Just at the time when the real enjoyment of the day was getting well under way, a thunderstorm broke over the beaches, upsetting all the arrangements for the afternoon's enjoyment on the beach. The programs of sports prepared for the amusement of the parties had to be abandoned except so far as they could be carried out under the various shelters along the beaches. The A. G. Pollard company's employees in spite of the weather had a very enjoyable day at Nahant while the Chalfoux store people at Nantasket refused to be downcast by such a trifle as the rain of the afternoon. They devised good substitutes for the sporting events that had to be dropped on account of the weather. They proved a very jolly gathering and mirth and merriment had full swing throughout the day.

The Bon Marche party was delayed a full hour at Rowe's wharf, Boston, because of a stop and change of cars at Melrose, something which nobody seemed to understand. But it caused the party to lose a full hour, which was spent in the sweltering heat at Rowe's wharf. They arrived there just in time to see the Nantasket boat pull out at quarter past 10 o'clock.

Arriving at the beach at 12 o'clock, the party immediately went to the Palm Garden, where an appetizing shore dinner was served. After dinner the party started out on pleasure bent, on boating, bathing, fishing, dancing and all the other attractions which were enjoyed until the rain came down. The clouds lifted before taking the boat at 6:45 and the sail was delightful. The party on the boat and afterwards on the cars kept up their hilarity, each car having a number of vocalists who led in songs and choruses.

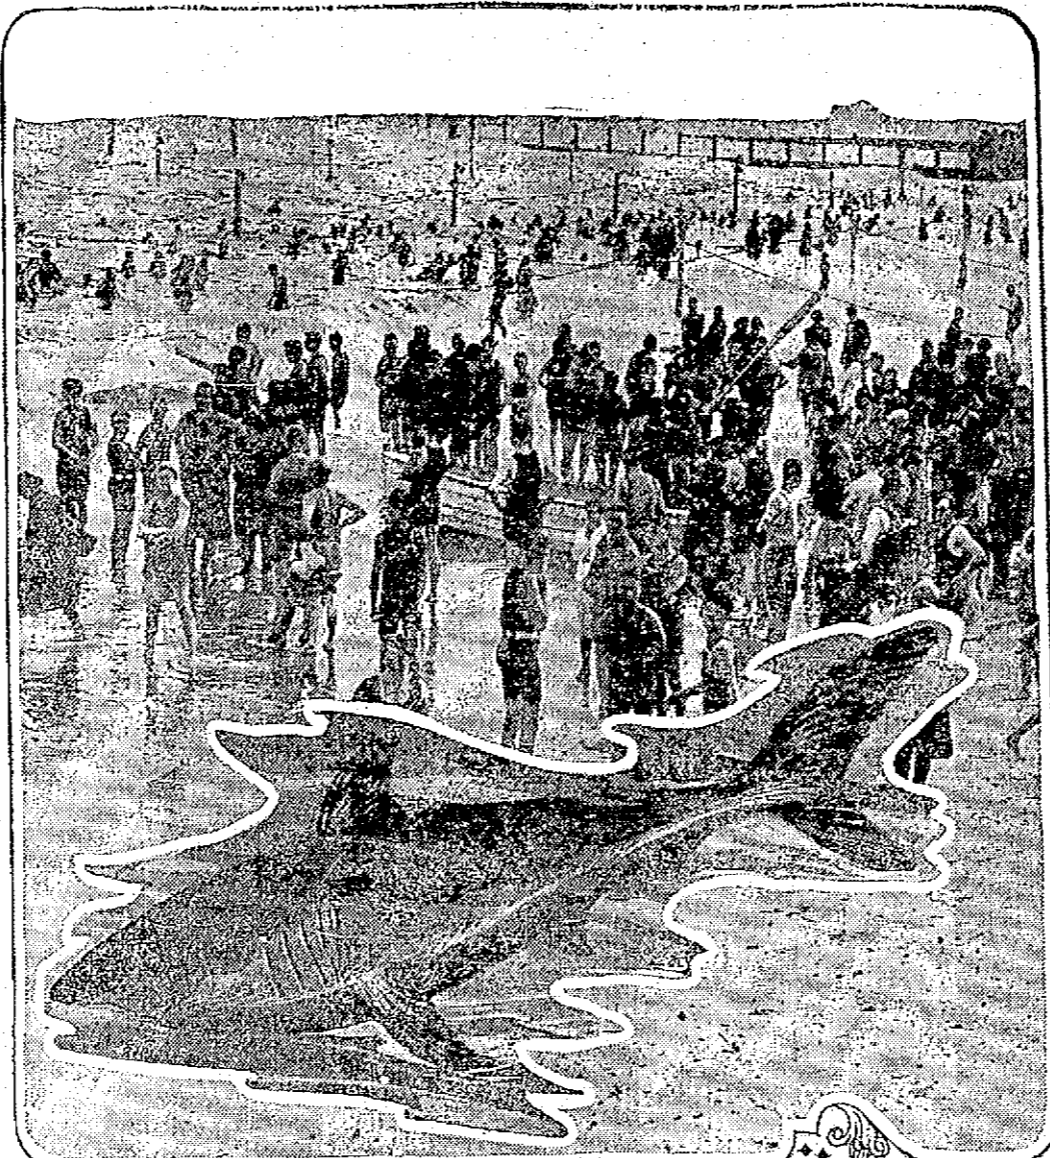

The two carloads from Saunders' market had a fine time at Revere. They utilized all the facilities for amusement along the beach but on account of the rain they did not spend much time in the water.

Curley's Market
The employees of Curley's market in John street closed for the day, but they are weatherwise. They knew it was going to rain, and spent the day about town.

KILLED PLAYING TAG
BOSTON, July 14.—A game of tag with some of his little playmates cost the life last night of John Grillo, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Grillo of 103 Pleasant street, Watertown.

The child started to run across the street in front of his home and had barely stepped into the gutter when he was knocked down by a motor truck filled with stone and operated by Al-

"WARE SHARKS!" CRY AT NEW YORK BEACHES FOUR KILLED, ONE MAIMED, BY SEA MONSTER

CROWDED BEACH NEAR NEW YORK; MAN EATING SHARK

Beach resorts near New York were thoroughly alarmed by the recent attacks of sharks on bathers, resulting in four deaths and one maiming, and feared the killing of the season unless the sharks were captured speedily. Hundreds of men, with rifles, spears, dynamite and nets, searched New Jersey waters for the man-eating shark that in its third attack since July 2 killed two men and two boys and maimed another boy. The scare that has gone the rounds of many New Jersey resorts since the first shark raid on bathers has not reached Coney Island and other places near New York, but bathhouse keepers said they would take precautions against a visit from sharks, although they do not believe there is any danger. Life guards will be stationed beyond the life lines to watch for possible approach, and if necessary the men will be armed. Fishermen will be stationed on piers with baited shark hooks. Men familiar with the habits of fish are frankly puzzled over the shark raids. Assuming that one man eater is responsible, it must have a long heat. It has been seen at Spring Lake, N. J., and at Bridgehampton, N. Y. If it is the same shark that went to Mattawan it must have skirted all of the lower bay of New York and at some time within the last few days passed Coney Island and the Rockaways. Pictures show a crowded bathing beach near New York and a man eating shark.

bert K. Work of Arsenal street, Watertown. The truck passed over the body decapitating the head.

Work was arrested on a charge of manslaughter and will be arraigned this morning in the Waltham district court.

NEW CORPORATION HEADED BY J. P. MORGAN & CO. ORGANIZED TO MAKE LOAN TO FRANCE

NEW YORK, July 14.—A corporation to be known as the American Foreign Securities company, will be organized by a group of bankers, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co. and Brown Brothers & Co., to loan $100,000,000 to the French government, it was formally announced here last night. The company will have paid up capital of $10,000,000 and will issue three-year 5 per cent. notes to the amount of $90,000,000 in this market.

The notes are to be secured with a margin of 20 per cent. by obligations of the governments of Argentina, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Switzerland, Holland, Uruguay, Egypt, Brazil, Spain, Province of Quebec, shares of the Suez Canal company and bonds and shares of American corporations. Application to list these bonds on the New York stock exchange soon will be made.

Robert Bacon, former ambassador to France and a former partner in the Morgan banking house, is to be president of the company. The list of directors is representative of the leading financial interests of the country. The notes will be offered to the public some time next week.

Absolute Sale at Public Auction of a Two-Story House, Hen House and About 4000 Square Feet of Land, More or Less, at Number 506 Pleasant Street, Draught Centre.

I have been instructed to offer at absolute public auction sale, this two-story house and about 4000 feet of land, situated within two minutes' walk of the Hovey Square electric car line, and about five minutes of the Bridge street and Draught Centre line.

The property comprises a two-story house of eight rooms, besides bath-room and pantry, cemented cellar, gas, town water, etc., buildings in very good repair. The lot has an area of about 4000 feet, with a frontage on Pleasant street of about 40 feet; there is ample room for a garden, besides space for keeping of bees. There is also a hen house on the lot.

The location is splendid, the neighbors mostly owning their own homes, thereby keeping the locality a quiet and reserved district. It is handy to the centre of Lowell, also close to schools, churches, stores, etc., and is almost within a stone's throw of the electric, and above all, enjoys transfer privileges to and from the city on all lines. Draught Centre being the only suburb of the city to have such transfer accommodations.

This sale presents an excellent opportunity for any one to buy a home in a beautiful residential town, just over the city line, where one receives almost all the city privileges, and yet be located in a village well situated. If you have had in mind buying a home and have thought anything of going just outside the city limits, "Here's your chance."

Terms: $250 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off.

POSITIVE SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION OF AN ATTRACTIVE COTTAGE HOUSE AND ABOUT 2000 SQUARE FEET OF LAND, AT NUMBER 13 FARMLAND ROAD, CENTRALVILLE.

I will offer for sale at public competition on the premises, this cottage house containing five rooms and bathroom, sewer, city water, gas, etc. The lot has an area of about 2000 square feet of land and is situated within one minute's walk of the Lakeview avenue line of electric cars.

The property is located within easy walking distance of many of Lowell's largest manufacturing plants, and should be especially attractive to any one working in any of the nearby mills or factories, as it enables one to go home to his dinner. It is a splendid little home, is supplied with a bathroom, has gas, a good yard, and is in very good condition, and the sale of such a parcel should draw the attention of, and interest, any one with a small amount of money to pay down, who is desirous of owning his own home and who wishes to be in a first-class neighborhood.

Terms: $150 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off.

STORM BREAKS HOT WAVE THIRD DAY OF STRIKE

THREE MORE DEATHS IN GREATER BOSTON DUE TO THE HEAT—MAN KILLED BY LIGHTNING

BOSTON, July 14.—Three deaths and many prostrations were reported in greater Boston yesterday due to the third day of excessive heat.

One man was killed by lightning in New Bedford during a severe storm. Another death, indirectly caused by an early morning thunder storm off Hull, was also reported.

The drive of Old Sol and Gen. Humidity upon Boston is ended, temporarily at least. Under a shrapnel shower of cool rain from the artillery of Old Jupe Pluvius yesterday afternoon, the heat battalions were dispersed and relief came at last.

Following a night of unusual severity, due to the absence of even the slightest breeze, which the thousands standing outdoors were as uncomfortable as their brethren in the more conventional surroundings, the morning dawned with threatening portent, the temperature at 7 o'clock reaching the 80 mark, one degree higher for that hour than the day previous.

The rise of the mercury was then handicapped for several hours by a slightly overcast sky, but with the sun again unobscured, at 11 o'clock, and the degree below the 90 mark, it promised to be a record-breaker. A slight shower which promised much, but petered out, brought the thermometer down to 88 at noon.

The relief was only temporary, however, for Old Sol again got busy and at 1 o'clock, 90 degrees was reached. A half-hour later the advance guard of the storm which had played such havoc in New York and Connecticut during the morning made its appearance in a low-lying bank of clouds and the temperature dropped four degrees in half an hour.

At about 3 o'clock a rain which started in as a slight shower developed into a torrential downpour for a few minutes, and then continued with a steadiness that indicated the certain breaking of the heat wave.

While the storm was of only ordinary severity in the city proper, only 13 of an inch of rain falling, many of the outlying districts suffered heavily from the miniature cloudbursts and the effects of lightning. Dorchester in particular received its full force, one bolt freeing a pair of horses from a hay wagon, while another struck a flagpole on a house, and passed clear through to the cellar, knocking down a servant girl in the kitchen on its way. Several street car fuses were blown out.

In Brighton a wooden house was struck by lightning and set afire, but the blaze was promptly put out by the neighbors.

PRESIDENT TO TAKE CRUISE
WASHINGTON, July 14.—President Wilson plans to spend the week-end on board the naval yacht Mayflower down the Potomac river and Chesapeake bay. Accompanied by Mrs. Wilson he will leave late today to cruise until Sunday night or Monday morning.

KILLED IN FRIENDLY BOUT
CONCORD, N. H., July 14.—John Grant, a private in the militia camp here, was killed last night while engaged in a friendly boxing match with another private named Dooze.

During an exchange of blows Grant was hit in the stomach and collapsed. When companions started to assist him to his feet they found that he was dead. The medical referee decided that death was due to the shock of the blow. An autopsy will probably be held. Both men came from the town of Berlin.
